ANDREWS GOLF CLUB FORMALLY OPENS THURS.

Nine Hole Course Located in Collett's Pasture a Mile Above Town

The Andrews Golf and Country Club, Inc., formally opened its nine hole course Thursday afternoon, when all members of the Rotary Club which sponsored the movement to get the course, following the noon luncheon, went as a body to the course and formed twos and fours and chased the little white ball all about over the pasture.

The opening of the Andrews course is a sequel to the establishment of the Conaheeta Country Club's course on No. 10 several months ago, and the people of Andrews have also been bitten by the golf bug, if the number of local enthusiasts who have been playing the course for the past week is any indication that this little nefarious insect has spread to other parts of these mountains.

The Andrews course consists of nine holes, and is located in what is known as Collett's pasture, about a mile above town. It is incorporated and the organization is controlled by a board of governors or directors as follows: J. W. S. Davis, chairman; G. B. Hohlitzell, vice chairman; W. D. Whitaker, secretary and treasurer; S. E. Cover, P. B. Ferebee and F. W. Swan.

The course was laid out and built under the direction of Henry Westall, sportsman and golf enthusiast, of Asheville, and at one time champion golfer of North Carolina. It is one of the first accomplishments of the recently organized Rotary Club, all of the members of which are also members of the golf club.

Some unusually good scores have been made on the course, and hundreds of people from the town and surrounding country have been playing. However, the formal opening Thursday closes the links to other's except members, and visitors from outside Valletown township who must pay a green fee and then are only admitted upon recommendation of a member.

The Scout representative was challenged to a game last week on the Andrews course by Luke Ellis, which was played off on Tuesday, the score being, Ellis 55, and Bailey 2.

H. D. Abernathy, cashier of the Bank of Robbinsville, has the record of making the best score on the course for one hole, having made the ninth hole in one, which is a drive of a little over three-hundred yards. Dr. J. W. S. Davis, whose score for the entire course is 62, holds the next record for one hole scores, having made the eighth hole in two.

Dr. J. C. Davis, of Quincy, Fla., and Bill Cover hold a tie score for the championship of the course with 8 points. Among the other scores made this week are the following: B. Hohlitzell, 61; C. R. Tarking-

BAPTISTS HEAR DR. CARVER IN SERIES LECTURES

World Authority on Comparative Religion and Missions Speaks For Four Days at Local Church

Dr. W. O. Carver, D. D., LL.D., Ph. D., who occupies the chair of Comparative Religion and Missions in the Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky., delivered a series of interesting lectures at the Baptist church this week, covering the religious work in a number of the foreign fields of Southern Baptists.

Sunday morning, Dr. Carver laid the foundation for his other lectures in speaking on the topic, "God's Continuous Interest in all Mankind," using the Bible to prove his statements.

Sunday night, his lecture covered South America, and dealt with the peoples and the work in that field.

Monday night, he discussed Europe and its different religions and the progress being made by protestant denominations, going back and tracing briefly the history of religious movement there from the time of the apostles, and the establishment of the Roman Catholic church by Constantine about the year 313.

China was the topic of discussion on Tuesday night, and Wednesday night, he discussed the rapid rise of Japan from an insignificant nation to third place as a world power, and the circumstances and treaty which threw open the doors of that nation to Christianity.

Dr. Carver is a world authority in his field, and has written a number of books dealing with religion and missions, one of which is entitled "All the World in All the Word." This book he discussed every afternoon at 2:30 before the Woman's Missionary Society which organization was studying this particular book at the time of his visit.

It is claimed that the sun never sets on the foreign mission fields of Southern Baptists, and it has been Dr. Carver's privilege to visit practically every one of these fields.

His series of lectures here were greatly enjoyed by those who heard him, and every one was a veritable lesson in history of the work and religious movement of Southern Baptists, as well as other denominations, and was presented in a most interesting and entertaining manner.

Dr. Carver left Thursday afternoon for Blue Ridge, Ga., where he will deliver a series of lectures before the Blue Ridge Assembly on the Book of Acts.

MURPHY BOY NOW ON DUTY IN HAWAII

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 23.—

Private Clyde R. Hawkins, son of Mr. Ernest Hawkins of 444 Valley River Ave., Murphy, N. C., who recently enlisted for service with the Field Artillery branch of the Regular Army has been assigned to duty with troops in Hawaii, and left New York City this week aboard the United States Army Transport "Cambrai" for Honolulu.

Upon his arrival at Honolulu, Private Hawkins and the young men who sailed with him will be assigned to units in the Hawaiian Islands, located at posts which generally lie adjacent to internationally famous resorts and tourist shrines. Soldiers on Hawaiian duty enjoy unusual recreational privileges, there being provided for them summer rest camps where all may go for a two-week period during vacation time. Always within reach is the far-famed beach of Waikiki, and the surf bathing resort at Haleiwa.

Athletics play an important part in the life of the soldiers in Hawaii, and every organization prides itself on a galy of teams in the prospective championship class in every sport. The climate is ideal, for it is a land that knows no winter, and outdoor sports thrive the year round.

Private Hawkins will remain in the Hawaiian Department for approximately two years, when he will be returned to the United States for discharge, having in the meantime enjoyed a ten thousand dollar outing, including a visit to Panama and San Francisco, at the expense of Uncle Sam.

TAYLOR FRACTURES SKULL IN JUMP FROM EMBANKMENT

Cliff Taylor, in trying to elude officers Tuesday night about 6 o'clock, jumped from an embankment between the wholesale district and the Southern Depot and landed on the concrete upon his head, fracturing his skull at the base.

He was given medical attention and rushed to the hospital at Sylva, where he is reported to be improving with a fine chance of recovery.

Officers George Crawford and Willard Cooper, on a call, went to the home of his brother, Tom Taylor, to make an arrest, as it was reported to them that Cliff had been drinking and was making a disturbance. Cliff refused to go with the officers unless they had a warrant, and Chief Cooper returned to secure one and while he was gone Cliff is said to have jumped out of a window and started running toward the embankment.

Deputy Crawford and Tom Taylor gave chase, and it is said Tom called to him several times not to go over the embankment, but he paid no attention. Tom is said to have exonerated officers from all blame in the affair.
