HERBERT HOOVER

HOOVER SWEEPS NATION TO WIN OVER AL SMITH

Gets Forty of Forty-Eight States, With Electoral Vote of 444—Breaks Into Solid South

Sweeping the west, breaking into the solid south and holding his own in the east, Herbert Hoover was elected the 31st President of the United States Tuesday by one of the greatest majorities ever accorded a candidate. Thursday, on the face of incomplete returns from the centers of 43 states, the republican candidate appeared to have won 444 electoral votes against 87 for his opponent, Governor Alfred E. Smith.

Mr. Hoover had apparently carried 40 of the 43 states, dipping in to the south to carry North Carolina, Virginia, Florida, and Texas. He swept the border country, carrying Maryland, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Oklahoma and was leading in Missouri.

None of the west had fallen into the democratic column and Massachusetts, alone, showed evidence of going for Smith in New England.

Following a trend established early on election night, the Hoover advantage swung steadily along in every section of the country. It soon brought from Governor Smith a concession of his defeat, to be followed by his announcement that after a quarter of a century in politics he expected never to run for office again.

He later issued the following statement:

"The American people have rendered their decision. I am a Democrat and I firmly believe in the rule of the majority.

"I have had a long career in elective public office. Yesterday was the twenty-first time that my name has appeared on the ballot in New York state. I am happy and content, taking my place as a high private in the ranks of American citizens.

"I have a heart full of gratitude to all the people who worked so untiringly to promote my candidacy and to all those who cast their ballots for me."

DEMOCRATS TRAIL G. O. P. IN CHEROKEE

Republicans Given Sweeping Victory in Everything from Constable To President

The Democrats of Cherokee County trailed the ticket of the G. O. P. in everything from Constable to President in Tuesday's election, the Republicans winning by majorities ranging from 131 to 1312, in one of the heaviest polls ever recorded in the history of the county. The largest combined vote in Tuesday's balloting was 5,223, against 4,115 in 1924, and 4,139 in 1926. In 1924, the republican majorities ranged from 300 to 600, with the Democrats winning some of the township offices, while in 1926 the parties flipped, the Democrats winning offices of Clerk of the Superior Court, Coroner, and Sheriff, the Re-

PRITCHARD IS VICTORIOUS IN CONGRESS RACE

Twelve Out of Thirteen Counties Give G. O. P. Nominee 355 Majority

Unofficial tabulation of more than 95,000 votes assured George M. Pritchard, Republican, of election as congressman from the tenth North Carolina district.

He defeated Representative Zebulon Weaver, Democrat, who has served in the lower house for 12 years. Mr. Pritchard's majority will range between 50 and 600.

Congressman Weaver's defeat is attributed to his failure to carry Buncombe County by the usual Democratic majority. Two years ago, he secured more than 4,000 majority over his Republican opponent, Capt. Kenneth S. Smathers, while in Tuesday's election, Mr. Pritchard polled 223 votes more than the Democratic incumbent.

Official and complete returns from 12 of the 13 counties in the tenth district netted Mr. Pritchard a majority of 355, while the Graham county vote will boost his lead between 150 and 200.

Weaver Concedes
Congressman Weaver issued a statement yesterday, conceding the statement yesterday, conceding the election of Mr. Pritchard. He took occasion to thank the voters who supported him in the election.

The following is the tabulation of votes by counties:

THREE PLANES ARE IN MURPHY THIS WEEK

Cody Flying Circus, With Noted Stunt Flyers, At Wells Field For Three Days

Three airplanes will be at Murphy Friday, Saturday and Sunday, coming here direct from Candler Field, Atlanta, piloted by such noted flyers as Jimmy Burns, formerly of Hiawasse, Ga., Barney Rowe and Fred Sims. They are coming with the Cody Flying Circus, named from its stunt flyer and niece of the famous Lew Cody or Buffalo Bill, Mabel Cody. Miss Cody spent some time doing stunt flying at Asheville this summer.

R. C. Burns, manager of the Cody Flying Circus, spent several days in Murphy this week, and selected the pasture field of Noland Wells, about two miles east of town, for the landing field of the planes. Work has been in progress on the field this week putting it in shape for landing and taking off with the least possibility of a mishap.

Mr. Burns stated that the pilots of the three machines, known as the New Travelers, were among the most noted in the country, and they are preparing to give a number of exhibitions in stunt flying free to the public. However, those wishing to soar in the lofty skies above the towering peaks of Cherokee can do so for a nominal sum, and if the ride in the air is to your liking, you may try it again.

Five tickets will be placed in twenty copies of The Cherokee Scout, carried aloft in the planes and dropped to the crowds expected to gather, and if you get a ticket, you get a ride free.

The planes are coming here in the interest of an aviation landing field, coupled with a commercial venture at the same time, and the manager, Mr. Burns, requests that everybody not try to get in them all at once.

Confederate Veteran Casts First Republican Vote For H. Hoover

Mr. E. A. Savage, better known as "Grandpa" Savage, who, with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Burns, is spending the winter in Pade City, Fla., writes that he cast his first vote for a Republican when he voted for Herbert Hoover for President in Tuesday's election. Grandpa's vote was counted at Murphy, he having voted by absentee ballot.

He was 91 years old last October, and volunteered in the Confederate Army in the beginning of the war between the states, serving throughout the conflict with distinction, mostly with the 21st North Carolina Regiment. He is unusually hale and hearty for a man of his age, and says he is getting younger every day.

Prof. and Mrs. J. D. Warrick and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Studstill are now occupying apartments in the Adams Building.

EDITOR SCOUT TAKES FIRST AIRPLANE RIDE

Smooth Riding In The Air, With Beautiful Scenery Below

The Editor of the Scout got his first airplane ride Friday afternoon, and in addition was the first person to ride in the planes of the Cody Flying Circus, now at the Noland Wells airport about two miles east of town. This was also the first plane, within our knowledge, to ever land at Murphy.

To say that we were not nervous when Mr. Burns stated he was going to send us up in the air, would be an exaggeration, but this soon wore off when we got up in the air. When we left the ground we soon found that there were no rough bumps or sharp curves to worry about. The sailing was so smooth and easy, we have come to the conclusion that after riding in the air that it is the easiest riding in the world.

We circled Murphy, how high up we don't know, but we could not distinguish anyone on the streets. The scenery of Murphy and surrounding country from the air is beautiful, we believe the most beautiful sight we have ever seen.

Our pilot's name was Jimmy Jimmy Krouskop, flying a Waco plane, N. C. 7102. It was a real thrill, and was not only enjoyed by us, but by the throng of people who stood on the ground. Our first trip was great. How was yours?
