Deestrick Skule Up To Date To Be Given By Wethodist Women

The Methodist Woman's Missionary Society will present the play, "Deestrick Skule Brought Up To Date" at the school auditorium on Friday night, August 14th, at 7:30 P. M.

Prof. John D. Dusenberry has an unquestionable desire—that is to keep his school up to date—another is the desires of the neighborhood spinsters and widows to "win" the prof. for themselves—Deacon Brown a member of the school board lends his support to Mr. Dusenberry—as far as keeping the skule up to date is concerned.

The play will include all local people, mostly the grown ups, dressed as school kids again, and fighting the problems contained in the three "R's". There is "the old family tooth brush, and little Bennie—a long time ago, etc. Also the professor wants to know what a local celebrity puts on his bald head to keep it from shining. Someone even wants to know why Mr. Hoover wears suspenders, etc., and Amos and Andy, twins, are named from the famous comedians of radio fame. The play is interspersed with songs, compositions and wisecracks. The climax is the exciting moment when the prof. announces his engagement to—who do you reckon?

Mrs. E. C. Mallonee is directing the play and the public can rest assured of something good, as the people of Murphy are well acquainted with Mrs. Mallonee's work along this line.

POSTELL

Rev. C. F. Conley was a welcome visitor at Shoal Creek Church the 4th Sunday and Saturday nite before and preached two excellent sermons to an attentive congregation. His subject for Sunday was, "Follow me".

Our pastor at Shoal Creek Church announced last Sunday that he would start revival services the 3rd Sunday in August. Everybody is cordially invited to come.

Mr and Mrs. Quince Allen and family of Etowah, Tenn. were the guests of their parents last week, Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Payne.

Mr. Lakes Quinn and Mr. Ralph Pope of Suit, N. C. motored to Hiawassee river last Saturday to take a swim.

Mr. Fred Hill of Blue Ridge, Ga. was the welcome guest of his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hill last Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. C. F. Conley and Rev. Carl Loudermilk were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Allen last Sunday.

Several folks of Postell are attending the revival meeting at Perkinson-Ducros.

(Asheville Citizen)

The marriage of Miss Lenna Tidwell Ducros, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Tidwell, of Andrews, to Mr. James B. Perkinson, of Asheville, cousin of the bride, presided over at the Baptist Church at Andrews with the pastor, the Rev. R. W. Prevost, officiating before a large congregation.

Rhododendron, Queen Anne's lace and garden flowers decorated the altar, which also bore on either side two candelabra with seven tall tapering candles in each. Clematis entwined the altar rail and palms and ferns formed the massive tall background.

Miss Margaret Smathers, of Asheville, cousin of the bride, presided at the piano and played a twenty minute preliminary program while the assemblage was being seated. Her numbers were "I Love Thee" by Grieg, and excerpts from "The Persian Garden," Liza Lehmann's musical setting of the "Rubaiyat" of Omar, Khayyam, and "Pappillons D'Amour" by Schutt. She also accompanied Miss Helen Flannigan, of Miami, Fla., who sang "Because," by D'Hartlott, and DeKoven's "O, Promise Me," just preceding the approach of the bridal party which was announced by the usual march from Lohengrin - Liszt's "Liebestraum," was played softly during the ceremony.

The only attendant was Mrs. J. W. S. Davis who acted as matron of honor. She wore a beige net gown over peach faille with French flowers posed at the neck line. A full skirt was attached to the empire model. With this she had on a picture hat in peach horsehair, braid trimmed in pink and blue satin ribbon and a shoulder corsage of Ophelia roses and fernery. Dr. J. W. S. Davis was the best man.

The bride was attired in a shell pink dress gownover French blue crepe in interpretation of a Chanel Romance Model, with tiers of lace forming the entire Princess design. A blue horse braid picture hat with pink and blue satin ribbon trimmings, blue shoes, blue lace mittens and all accessories in blue completed the bridal costume. She carried briarcliff roses and blue delphinium.

Following the church a reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Davis, where Mrs. Harold Hair and Mrs. Roy B. Stapp, of Winter Park, Fla., welcomed the guests at the door. Dr. and Mrs. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Tidwell, the bride and groom, Miss Smathers and Miss Flannigan composed the receiving line. The bride's mother wore a printed chiffon gown in soft shades of yellow, tan, and white, with large picture hat to match. Miss Smathers was in beige georgette with green accessories; and Miss Flannigan was attired in Alice blue eyelet embroidered red batiste with matching picture hat.

Mrs. C. B. Orr directed to the dining room, where Mrs. J. R. Porter presided. A filet lace cloth covered the table, which was centered with a three tier cake topped with a miniature bride and groom in full bridal array. Four pink candles in silver holders furthered the decoration. Assisting in serving were Miss Mary B. Walker, Misses Edith and Sarah Margaret Orr, and Miss Josephine Bradley. Over onehundred guests attended the reception. The bride's register was presided over by Mrs. Wilbur Turner.

Later in the evening the bride donned a skipper blue crepe ensemble with beige accessories and a blue imported straw hat and the young couple left by motor for Asheville, where they took the train for a two weeks' honeymoon in the North. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Perkinson will reside in the monroe apartments on Chestnut street, Asheville. The bride was educated at Meredith college at Raleigh and is a young lady with refined attainments. Mr. Perkinson who is the son of Mrs. G. S. Perkinson and the late Mr. Perkinson, of Spencer, was educated at Wake Forest College and Harvard University. He is now in the legal department of the Southern Railway with headquarters in Asheville.

Friendship and report some good preaching.

The farmers on the creek are all reporting a fine crop of corn up to this time.

LEWIS FULLER FATALLY STABBED BY BLACKWELL

Lewis Fuller, 23 years old, is dead and Tom Blackwell, 18 (both colored men), is in jail charged with stabbing him to death, as a result of a fight in factorytown Sunday evening about 8:30.

Fuller and Blackwell are said to have had an altercation over a game of dice, but shook hands and had settled the matter, so other members of the party thought. However, they renewed the fight and Blackwell, brandishing a knife, cut Fuller's throat, severing the jugular vein, and Fuller died in a few minutes.

Blackwell ran from the scene, but was later apprehended. A preliminary hearing charged him with murder and he is in jail awaiting trial. Funeral for Fuller was held Monday. Fuller is said to have been a quiet peaceful man, as some of his white friends have said, "he was a good nigger and had a good reputation."

Blackwell was tried and sentenced to ten months at the August term, 1930, of Cherokee Superior Court, for assault with a deadly weapon on Norman Powell, also colored, and has just recently completed his term of servitude.

IN MEMORY OF JOHN ROBERTS

John was a son of W. S. (Billy) Roberts. He was born October 27th 1877, and died July 22nd, 1931, as the result of an automobile accident on the Peachtree road.

John was converted at the age of 17 years, and joined the Grape Creek Baptist Church. He was like all who try to live a good life. He had his ups and downs in life, working soon and late to care for his family.

He married Olla Coleman, daughter of Elias Coleman. To this union was born several children, eleven of this number living. The living are: Steve, Tinney, Bessie, Mae, Ethel, Bass, Jake, Verdie, Lillie Ben, Julius, and Mark, and seventeen grandchildren, two sisters and one brother.

John died in the triumph of a living faith. On his way to the hospital the pastor had a conversation with him. He said "Preacher, I can't shake hands with you, as I can't raise my hand, but I want you to pray for me and my family. I am all right."

He was buried at the Hiawassee cemetery, the song service being conducted by Brother Shelby Franks, in a most impressive manner. The funeral was preached by Rev. L. F. Clark, of Canton, N. C.

We wish to extend our thanks to the doctors of Murphy and to all the friends of the community and surrounding country for their kindness. May the same God that kept John, keep all the friends, and let them live in the faith of Christ.

Fraternally,
E. M. HEMBREE.

Miss Fay Wise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Wise, of Murphy, and Mr. F. B. Dixon, of Asheville, were quietly married Tuesday evening by Rev. Howard P. Powell, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon have many friends in Murphy who wish them a long and happy married life. They will make their home in Asheville where Mr. Dixon has a position.

Cherokee County Boy Writes From Hawaii

A TRIP AROUND THE ISLAND OF OAHU

One day I overheard some of the boys saying that they were going around the rock and I decided that I would go with them, and here are some of the things that I saw.

We started about noon on Sunday after we had driven about five miles we were on top of the first Pali, (which is the highest peak on this island). The road leading down on the other side of Pali is the most crooked road that I have ever seen, it is just one turn after another and as steep as any road in N. C. After we had descended the other side of the Pali we drove about thirty miles to the beach known as Hialewa. There we donned our bathing suits and proceeded to take a sun bath and boy what a bath. After that we started our journey home. After going about thirty miles more we came to a beautiful army reservation known as Schofield Barracks. It is the largest military establishment in the U. S. Army, with an area of 14,000 acres, located 21 miles from Honolulu near the center of the island. It was established in 1909 and named in honor of Lieutenant General John M. Schofield, U. S. A. The Hawaiian division is stationed here. At the southern end of Schofield Barracks Wheeler field is stationed. It is a small post but of great importance in the welfare of the army in time of war. There are several squadrons of pursuit planes there. That post has become one of prominence because of several Trans-Pacific planes have landed there. This post was established in 1922 and named after Major Sheldon Harley Wheeler A. S.

In passing from Wheeler field we enter the long fields of Sugar Cane and vast fields of Pineapples, Sugar cane and pineapples just as far as the eye can see. After passing in and out of the fields of green we came to the edge of Honolulu and to the Post of Fort Shafter which is the Headquarters of the Hawaiian Department. It is located about three miles from the center of the city and is connected by street car. It has an area of 1,334 acres, and the 64th Coast Artillery is the principle unit stationed there. It was first occupied by troops June 23, 1907 and is named after Major General R. Shafter. Just across the road from Fort Shafter is located the Tripler General Hospital where all the sick are taken care of except the ones at Schofield Barracks. It is one of the best hospitals in the army and has ordinary bed capacity of 300 and an emergency bed capacity of 600. I know because I spent forty days there myself. Next in line about three hundred yards down the road is the Hawaiian Ordinance Depot. It is located on the Fort Shafter Military reservation. Its area is 70 odd acres. It is garrisoned by the 74th Ordnance Co. After leaving there we passed down King St. which is the main street of Honolulu and is about six miles long. The buildings here in Honolulu are of the modern type. There are no sky scrapers here. The population of the island is made up of Americans, Portuguese, Spanish, Chinese, Japanese, Russians, Koreans, Scandinavians, Germans, Galicians, Southsea Islanders, Porto Ricans, and Philipinos. The present population is estimated at 357,649. Of this number about 16,000 are of the Army and Navy.

We are now at the starting point Fort Armstrong not much but what can you expect for a nickle if you will give me just a little more time and wait until I return from the Island of Hawaii I will give you so careful.

Aloha until I return from Hilo.
HARLEY R. MORGAN,
42nd Motor Transport Co, Fort Armstrong, T. H.

YOUNG PEOPLE WILL CONDUCT BAPT. SERVICES

Sunday night, at the First Baptist Church, a number of the young people will occupy the pulpit, speaking on the subject "The Highest Ideal of Christian Living."

The Pastor, Rev. J. LeRoy Steele, has expressed his delight in the rapid progress being made by the church's younger members and predicts a wonderfully helpful service for Sunday evening. Especially is he anxious for every adult member of the church to be present. It is his plan to arrange a B. A. U. (Baptist Adult Union) on his return to Murphy and he wishes the adults to see just what the work of training does to develop useful church members.

There will be special music for the service including a solo by Mrs. Ralph Moody leader of the Junior Union. Everyone is cordially invited. The time is 7:30 P. M.

THEO DAVIS.

On the early dawn, May 21, 1931 the death angel visited the home of John T. Davis and bore away the soul of their precious daughter, Theo, back to God who gave it.

Funeral services were conducted at the Grandview cemetery, May 23, by Rev. W. R. Lunsford. The house was well filled with sorrowful friends and loved ones. The floral offering were many and very beautiful.

Theo was a beautiful young girl just nineteen years of age. She was born December 25, 1911., at Boiling Springs, having lived there all her life. She leaves many friends. All who knew Theo loved her. She was a very talented musician, the life of her home. She always tried to make others happy and to look for the brighter and finer things of life.

She professed faith in Christ at the age of fourteen years. Amid all the sinful temptation of this world, she followed closely in the footsteps of her Master and led a model christian life. She was a faithful member of the Baptist Church at Boiling Springs and attended Church and Sunday School until a few weeks before her death. She has been in declining health for almost a year, having been afflicted with T. B.

During her illness she never complained, always bearing her pains with a smile. Realizing that her condition was serious she said to her aunt, "Aunt Hannah, I feel that I have not lived my life quiet out but I know there is a God and I do not fear death." All that loving hands could do was done but God saw it best to take the patient sufferer into that home where there is no sickness, sorrow or death.

She is survived by a Grandmother, Father, Mother, three sisters and and friends.

(Theo's work on earth is ended, To Heaven she has ascended, Cares and tribulations all are o'er, Free from sadness, sin, and sorrow She is with Christ on that bright shore.

Won't that be a happy meeting Won't that be a joyous greeting When we meet Theo over there! Nothing there our hearts will sever We'll rest at home forever His praise and love we will ever share.

A Friend.

Organize School Club At Murphy Meeting

The principals and superintendents of Cherokee, Clay and Graham Counties met in conference at Murphy Tuesday, July 28th, at the Murphy high school building.

The conference was called by Dr. J. Henry Highsmith the State High School Supervisor, who was present to discuss plans and organization for the different schools this coming year.

An interesting outgrowth of the conference was the organization of a Schoolmasters Club for the three counties for professional development. It was organized with Supt. A. J. Bell as president, Supt. C. U. Williams, vice-president, and Miss Lura S. Bales, secretary. These officers, with Principal Arthur Young, are to act as the program committee. Programs are to be held about once a month. The first meeting was arranged for September 11th at Junaluska Terrace, Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wilson and family, of Douglasville, Ga. were Sunday guests of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson.
