FOLK SCHOOL AT BRASSTOWN CLOSES TERM

Dinner Prepared By Students, Singing Games And Address By Mrs. Campbell on Program

The exercises which marked the close of the fifth winter term of The John C. Campbell Folk School were held last Thursday, the 25th.

The first event was a dinner, prepared by the girls, and served cafeteria style. To this were invited the students. The menu, with the names of those preparing each dish, follows: ham croquettes, Dorothy Howard and Betty Pearson; tomato sauce, Anne Mc Hensley; green beans, Lola Clayton; creamed potatoes, Zoa Wilson; apple salad, Nell Young; oatmeal bread, Martha Voyles; peach gelatine, Bonnie Logan; chocolate cookies, Lucile Scroggs; coffee, Stella Wilson.

The guests at dinner included: Mr. and Mrs. Leon F. Deschamps, Alfred Deschamps, Clothilde Deschamps, Mrs. Joe Clayton, Mrs. E. A. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watkins, Mrs. Fred O. Scroggs, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Penland, Tom Wilson and Blanche Wilson, of Highlands, N. C., Wade McKinney of the same place, and Mrs. John Shanks and son, John Head.

Program Varied

In the afternoon, many friends of the school came for the varied program. Either before or after it, most of them visited the weaving room to see the attractive and interesting exhibition of handwork, done during the school term—sewing, weaving, and carving. The program opened with the singing of two hymns by the entire school, students and teachers: "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," and "A Mighty Fortress is Our God." Alexander Ware, music teacher at the school this past winter, arranged a musical accompaniment for the second hymn, to be played by several instruments. Then came two numbers by the school orchestra: "Pitter Patter," and "The Campbells are Coming."

Mrs. Campbell gave the address, which was an exceedingly inspiring one. She said she would like to see written over the door to the school, "Give us an understanding that we may know right and wrong." Following her talk, the band played "The White Cocade," "Charlie is My Darling," and "Horses of Eger." Several interesting ballads were sung by the entire school group.

Singing Games

Then the audience moved their chairs up on the platform, leaving the main floor clear for the singing games. Several of these were given, and all were interested to see how many new ones had been learned this year. "The Sword," "The Morris," and "The Bean Setting," were perhaps the most admired. The final game was "Gustz's Toast," especially requested by the students, and after they had played it for a few minutes, the audience were invited to join in. Those who took part in this, and also other people, joined in the Danish Grand March, which concluded the program.

The day following the close of the school, a number of the students went with Mrs. Campbell, Miss Butler, George Bidstrup, and Alexander Ware to Asheville, for singing game meets with the Asheville Normal School and the Asheville Farm School.

From Asheville, Mrs. Campbell went on to New York and Boston; and Alexander Ware to his mother's home in Claremont, California.

Brasstown Woman's Club Has Meeting

The Woman's Club of Brasstown had a very interesting and enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. William Clayton, on Wednesday, February 24. Special guests were four friends from Peachtree: Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Shanks, and Miss Robinson. Mrs. Bird Adams and Mrs. L. F. Deschamps gave interesting talks on George Washington; the former taking up his life, and the latter telling something of this year's bi-centennial celebrations, and also of his love of all growing things, and his extensive planting. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Clayton.

The March meeting of the Woman's Club is to be held on the 36th at the home of Mrs. Floyd Clayton in the Mission.

The next joint meeting of the Men's and Women's Clubs is to be at the Folk School on Saturday night, March 12th.

F. J. Watkins Has Champion Sow

F. J. Watkins, of Peachtree, is the owner of the champion sow of the county, a Duroc, the sow having brought 42 pigs in less than a year. On March 10, 1931, she delivered a litter of 16 pigs; August 15, 1931, 15 pigs; February 8, 1932, 11 pigs, making a total of 42 pigs in eleven months.

So far as is known, this is the record for the county. The 42 pigs brought on the market six and eight weeks old a total of $184.00. The first litter sold for $5.00 each; the second for $4.00 each, and Mr. Watkins is asking $4.00 each for the third.

This sow is worth nine acres of land growing 40 bushels of corn to the acre, at the present price of about 50 cents a bushel. Or you might make a closer comparison.

Virgil Johnson Moves Market

Virgil Johnson moved his meat market last week next door to his old location, in the building formerly occupied by Slocum's variety store. This move gives Mr. Johnson more floor space and he says he is in better position now to serve his many customers and the general public all kinds of meat, and the prices are cheaper than ever.

ANDREWS STAGES ART EXHIBIT

The art exhibits staged by the Presbyterian ladies of Andrews last Thursday and Friday revealed a wealth of painting and handicraft hitherto little known by the people of the community.

Most of the paintings were the work of local artists. Among these were the works of Mrs. H. E. Davis, Mrs. L. M. Ellis, Miss Ruth Morgan, Mrs. George Walker, Miss Frances Cover, Miss Catherine Ledford, Miss Mary Forsyth, Miss Sallie Bradley Pittman, Mrs. C. V. Orr, Mrs. J. W. Whisenhunt, Miss Sallie Mae Alphin, Miss Ruth Clarke, Mrs. E. F. Carpenter, and Miss Josephine Bradley. Three paintings of Miss Lucy M. Stanton, an artist of national repute, were exhibited by Mrs. Donald Wilson.

The various collections of antiques were of special interest to the visitors. Mrs. George Walker exhibit a wooden sugar bowl and bobbin stand made in 1850 by her father, John Barker, who was a native Englishman. In her collection also were two photographs made in England in 1868, one of her husband's father, George Barker, and the other his sister, Sara Barker.

The collection of Miss Ellen Cozad was quite unique in that the various pieces were brought from many different countries of the world. A solid silver hand perforated basket came from Russia and was of 16th century origin. Another 16th century basket was hand made of pure silver and came from English hands. There was a Greek oil lamp made of copper and of very ancient design. It is thought to be like the lamp referred to in the Biblical story of the ten virgins. Completing the collection were a wire basket made by a French soldier from braid taken from the uniform of a German officer whom he had captured in the World War, a small Spanish copper kettle, Italian needlework, an early New England bread toaster, a Quaker sewing stand, and a curiously designed iron stand and mirror found in an abandoned graveyard near Quebec, Canada.

A collection of ancient wearing apparel was furnished by Miss Mary Frances Cover. The pieces exhibited were a dress, a muff, and a Quaker bonnet worn by Miss Mary Jane Paxson Hough, Miss Cover's great grandmother.

An assembly of Scotch relics brought to America by Neal Hay and now in the possession of Mr. Hay attracted much attention. In this group there were a tea kettle, balances for weighing gold, scales designed for general weighing, a copper kettle, candle muffers, and candle moulds. Mr. Hay also exhibited a number of relics of the colonial period among which were a gun, powder, horn, bullet moulds, and ammunition bag.

Other items of interest were a lantern 200 years old belonging to the Rev. W. J. Miller, a trunk that has been in the Walker family since the first Walkers came to America, a sword used by John A. Scott in the War 1812, and an ancient mortar for grinding coffee owned by Mrs. J. A. Bristol.

Mrs. J. W. S. Davis exhibited a miniature bed room suite made in wicker by children of the Orthopedic hospital at Gastonia, N. C. and a hand painted table runner and cushion top from Russia.

MRS. HYATT CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Surprise Party Given By Friends On 18th Birthday Of 72 Year Old Murphy Woman

Monday, February 29th, being the "18th" birthday anniversary of Mrs. R. H. Hyatt, members of the Murphy Presbyterian Woman's Auxiliary and other friends, assisted by her daughters, gave her a surprise birthday party at her home in the afternoon.

The guests walked in unannounced, bearing gifts which they presented to the honoree, and she was as much excited as any 18 year old girl at her birthday party.

After guests were seated, quilt pieces were distributed among them and each one asked to piece a square. These will later be made into a quilt and sent to the orphanage.

Mrs. Hyatt's daughters, Mrs. C. A. Brown, of Andrews; and Mrs. Paul Hyatt, and Mrs. Ed Hyatt, of Murphy, served salad, cake and coffee.

The guests were Mrs. M. W. Bell, Mrs. J. B. Gray, Mrs. Thomas Spencer, Mrs. Mary Daly, Mrs. J. H. Phaup, Mrs. Dixie Palmer, Mrs. A. C. Huber, Mrs. R. W. Gray, Mrs. J. H. Dillard, Mrs. C. W. Savage, Miss Mary Beal, Mrs. Don Witherspoon, Mrs. G. W. Ellis, Mrs. R. S. Parker, Mrs. J. N. Hill, Mrs. W. W. Hyde, Miss Hattie Palmer, Mrs. Ed Hyatt, Mrs. C. A. Brown, Mrs. G. W. Candler, Mrs. Paul Hyatt, Mrs. Dale Lee.

Mrs. Hyatt was before her marriage, Miss Ida May Abbott, daughter of the late James D. Abbott. She was born at Tellico Plains, Tenn., February 29, 1860, her parents moving to Murphy in 1868. She was married October 2, 1878 to R. H. Hyatt.

Her father organized the Murphy Presbyterian Church which is located just across the street from her home, which home was built by him more than 30 years ago. Mrs. Hyatt has taught the beginners Sunday school class in this church for more than 27 years, and is affectionately called by all the children as well as grownups, "Granny Hyatt." She was president of the first missionary society organized in the Presbyterian Church, helped to organize the first woman's club in Murphy, known as the Civic Improvement Club, and was its first president. She also was president of the first parent-teachers association in Murphy. She is a great lover of flowers, and spends much of her time in her flower garden.

Mrs. Hyatt has four children, Mrs. C. A. Brown, of Andrews, Paul C. Hyatt, Robert Henry Hyatt Jr., and Edward Abbott Hyatt, of Murphy; and five grand children, Dr. Robert Brown, of Philadelphia; Miss Emogene Hyatt, Charles H., James Abbott, and Paul Henry Hyatt, of Murphy.

Mrs. Holt To Open Beauty Shop Monday

Mrs. E. L. Holt will open the Murphy Beauty Shoppe at the Maples on Monday, March 7th, and will do permanent waving and general beauty parlor work.

The work of Mrs. Holt is already well known in Murphy. She received her training at Clayton's Beauty Parlor and the Rose Beauty Parlor, Atlanta, Ga., and has had wide experience in some of the leading beauty salons of the south. In her training she made special studies in individual personality, and her parlor will be equipped with the latest machinery for permanent waving and beauty culture.

J. W. STILES, 71, TOMOTLA CITIZEN DIED MONDAY

J. W. Stiles, 71 years old, well known farmer of the Tomotla community, died at his home Monday morning about 8 o'clock, following an illness of more than a year. In May, 1930, Mr. Stiles suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he only partially recovered. He had been seriously ill for about a month.

He was born and reared in Cherokee county, and professed faith in Christ when he was 18 years old, and joined the Baptist Church. He was identified with the Marble Baptist Church at the time of his death. He was a good citizen and a faithful Christian, and will be greatly missed in his community.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Tomotla church, the Rev. Algia West officiating.

He is survived by his wife; four boys: Gilbert and Howell Stiles, of Cherokee county; Oliver Stiles, of Canton, N. C.; and Clem Stiles, who is a member of the United States Navy; two daughters: Mrs. Minnie Lambert, of Cherokee, N. C.; and Mrs. Emmy Burrell, of Virginia.

Foundation Work Is Being Done By Marble Company

Nearly a hundred men and boys gathered in the dining room of the Andrews Methodist church Friday evening for the first father and son banquet to be given by the church board of christian education.

Prof. J. A. Batson acted as toastmaster and in his introductory remarks explained the purpose of the banquet as an effort towards a better understanding between the fathers and sons of the church and community. J. M. Boone was then called upon who spoke for the fathers present. He emphasized the influence of a Christian father upon his son, Fred Wood speaking for the sons expressed the appreciation of the young men for the privilege of meeting with their fathers on the occasion.

Dr. E. L. Hayes, presiding elder of the Waynesville district of the M. E. church South, was presented by the Rev. Walter J. Miller, pastor of the church. Dr. Hayes in his address emphasized the close, intimate relationship that should exist between father and son, the son needing the father and the father needing the son. He appealed to the fathers to put the interest of their sons ahead of their attention to business or social affairs. The minister's talk was abundantly illustrated by personal experiences and reminiscences.

PATRICK

Mrs. John Picklesimer is on the sick list at this writing.

Mrs. Glen Rodgers was the guest of Mrs. Buna Williamson one day last week.

There is a singing school in progress at the Liberty Baptist church conducted by Mr. Frank of Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Picklesimer and daughter, Alma were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Reid and family while Saturday evening.

Mr. John Picklesimer visited the singing school at Liberty church Saturday night and reports a good success.

W. Candler, of Murphy, doing business as the Candler Department Store, has filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in United States district court here. Mr. Candler lists his liabilities at $46,071.19 and his assets at $18,160.

LION'S DINNER TO BE MADE OF HOME PRODUCE

Speakers And Guests Invited To Participate In Annual Home Event

A dinner at which only Cherokee County products will be served will take place at the Regal Hotel Tuesday night, March 8th, at 7 P. M., according to plans which are being rapidly worked out this week. This Cherokee county dinner was inaugurated several years ago by the Lions, and has proved to be one of the most successful annual events of the local club.

A special feature this year will be speakers from out-of-town who will tell about the 5-10 year farm program for Western North Carolina, which is being sponsored by the Asheville Citizen-Times. Bruce Webb a member of the Citizen-Times staff and promotion manager, will tell of the work and the benefits to be derived by the plan as applied to this section.

The committee on this farm program for Cherokee county has been invited as guests for the dinner. They are: J. M. Lovingood, Marble; E. L. Townson, Murphy; L. M. Shields, Murphy; A. L. Martin, Murphy; W. D. Whitaker, Andrews; E. A. Wood, Andrews; Wayne Walker, Andrews; N. W. Abernathy, Marble; Mrs. F. J. Watkins, Murphy Rt. 1; Mrs. C. B. Wood, Andrews; Mrs. H. B. McNabb, Suit; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ellis, Murphy, Rt. 2; Wm. Payne, Murphy; Mrs. Olive D. Campbell, Brasstown; Noah Lovingood, Murphy; A. A. Fain, Murphy; J. A. Richardson, Murphy; Chas. A. Brown, Andrews, and J. E. Wood, Suit.

Other guests invited include Hugh E. Mitchell, district governor of Lions International; J. E. S. Thorpe, president Nantahala Light & Power Company, Bryson City; Roy Phillips, president Lions Club, Asheville; Bruce Webb, promotion manager of the Citizen-Times, Asheville; E. B. Jeffries, chairman of the State Highway Commission, Greensboro and Raleigh; Mrs. E. G. White, Murphy, Route 2; and others.

The tentative program calls for the address of welcome to be made by Lion Don Witherspoon, and the response will probably be made by one of the visitors. The entertainment features will include vocal, piano, and instrumental solos and duets, and stringed music, all by home-grown talent.

The committees in charge of the event are: Reception: Lions W. W. Hyde, W. M. Fain, Don Witherspoon, G. W. Ellis, and R. W. Gray, and their wives. Entertainment: Lions E. E. Adams, Virgil Johnson, Carl Townson, and their wives, and Lion George Salisbury. Arrangements: Lions Harve Elkins, E. C. Moore, J. Frank Bristol, Johnny Shields, and their wives.

The occasion also comes "Ladies Night" for the local club, and is being looked forward to with much interest and anticipation.

SUIT

The Suit Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Ida Pope on Feb. 23rd. Devotional by Mattie Lou McNabb and Mrs. Patterson. Those present were: Mrs. J. F. Wood, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, Mrs. W. R. Pinkerton, Mrs. Nora McNabb, Mrs. Edna McNabb, Mrs. R. L. Keenum, Mrs. Ida Pope, Misses Mattie Lou McNabb, Ruby Decker, Kate Curtis, Hattie and Aaddie Parker.

Demonstration for this meeting was bean loaf. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. L. Keenum on the fourth Tuesday in March.

In the afternoon, R. W. Gray, County agent, and Mrs. Foard met with the school here and organized a 4-H Club.

Corrections

Mistakes were made last week by the Scout force in the advertisements of two firms, the Murphy Supply Company, and the Dickey Feed Co.

In the Murphy Supply Co., ad, we had oil cloth at 10 cents a yard and it should have been 19c a yard.

In the Dickey Feed Company ad, we had 16 per cent feed, 200-lb bags, $1.20 a bag, when it should have been $1.70 a bag.

The Scout is entirely responsible for these errors, and we regret them very much. Correction is gladly made. Read the advertisements of these two merchants in this paper this week.
