WOLF CREEK

Our farmers are having a hard time fighting weeds and raising money to pay their taxes but are having no trouble about making up their minds whether they will vote for a candidate who has or will cause them to have to pay more taxes next year, by their over-desire to get into office.

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Garren last Thursday morning a girl.

Prof. George Crawford is still carrying on his lectures at the tent. In spite of storms and rain most of the time, the tent seats are practically all taken. He speaks each night at 7:30 o'clock.

With almost a solid week's rain, a run-off primary and many of our citizens having to go 12 miles to the polling ground, I fear the weeds will get a start in our crops that will cause us to feel the result this time next year.

The health talk and demonstration of simple treatments given at the tent Sunday morning by Prof. Crawford and Nurse S. F. Hance were well received by a large crowd.

A candidate who will force a run-

The Public Library

The people of Murphy have reason to be proud of the public library. The building is a credit to the town. The selection of reading matter is good, though not extensive. The patronage is encouraging. The librarian, Miss Josephine Heighway, is efficient, up-to-date and obliging. Few if any families in the town are not on the list of borrowers, as well as many from the surrounding country districts.

A crying need of this free institution is a source of income. Books must be replaced when worn out, new books obtained occasionally, coal is needed during the winter months, now and then a broom gives out and once in awhile repairs must be made. The trustees serve without pay. Only the librarian is paid a small salary, less than she deserves.

It is hoped that every family in Murphy will join the Library Association and pay $1.00 a year into a fund that will be used, principally in purchasing books, and for other purposes, of the Murphy Public Library. This would furnish a small income, but it will help this enterprise. If you have not already become a member, will you not do so by giving your name to Miss Josephine Heighway, handing her $1.00 and renewing your assistance by June 1st of next year?

Why not visit your library whether or not you join the association.

Below are the names of those who have already subscribed for 1932.

Colonial Powder Horns

A powder horn was part of the equipment which a Colonial militiaman was required to have at hand for service at a moment's warning. Requirement was continued by act of congress May 8, 1792. The requirement was not repealed until 1820, and the use of the powder horn was continued until during the Mexican war in 1847.

off primary in times like this, must have a judgment like a Justice of the Peace who had issued warrants against some parties and said that he knew they were guilty or he wouldn't have issued the warrants, although he hadn't heard testimony in the case. Bah! but I suppose it could be worse.

BOB REYNOLDS TO SPEAK AT MURPHY JULY 1

County Organization Formed For Asheville Man In Senate Race Run-Over

An enthusiastic meeting of supporters of Robert R. Reynolds, candidate for the United States Senate, was held in Murphy Wednesday morning at which Wythe M. Peyton, western manager, was present, and an organization of a Reynolds Club for Cherokee county formed.

It was announced at the meeting that Mr. Reynolds will speak in Murphy on Friday night, July 1st, at 7:15 Central Time, at the court house. Mr. Reynolds will leave Asheville with a motor tour composed of about twenty-five cars flying Reynolds banners and led by a truck with a brass band and the State police patrol, stopping enroute for short talks at Canton, Waynesville, Hazelwood, Sylva, Dillsboro, Bryson City and Andrews. He will arrive in Murphy in time to speak that night. Before the speaking, the band is expected to give a concert in the public square at Murphy.

Harry P. Cooper, who has been appointed campaign manager for Mr. Reynolds in Cherokee county, predicted that the court house will not hold the people who will come to Murphy to hear "Our Bob," as Mr. Reynolds is known in western North Carolina, and that this will be one of the greatest political rallies ever held in this part of the state. Numerous people from the surrounding counties who desire to hear Mr. Reynolds have already sent word that a large crowd from those counties will be present.

"All indications in Cherokee county are that Mr. Reynolds will receive the largest vote ever accorded a candidate for public office in the county," Mr. Cooper said.

The Reynolds organization in the county follows: Harry P. Cooper, chairman; C. B. Hill, vice-chairman; J. S. Russell, vice-chairman.

Executive committee, Harry P. Cooper, chairman, C. B. Hill, D. S. Russell, Mrs. A. B. Chandler, H. H. Enloe, Joshua Johnson, Frank S. Hill, J. B. Gray, M. L. Mauney, Dr. J. N. Hill, E. B. Norvell, T. P. Rogers.

Finance Committee: E. B. Norvell, Chairman; Dr. J. N. Hill, Walter Mauney, Morris Moore, Joshua Johnson, M. L. Mauney, T. J. King, D. S. Russell, John Earwood, H. N. Piercy, and W. T. Forsyth.

EHRINGHAUS TO IN COUNTY SAT.

It is understood that J. C. E. Ehringhaus, candidate for Governor in the second primary, and leading candidate in the first primary by nearly 50,000 votes, will be in Murphy Saturday morning, and will probably speak to the voters while here if time permits, as to his position on matters of interest to the public relative to the governor's race.

Mr. Ehringhaus has made no definite speaking engagement here, but his supporters in the county are going to make an effort to have him make a short address. The time is not known, but will probably be in the morning.
