

The Cherokee Scout

The Leading Weekly Newspaper in Western North Carolina, Covering a Large and Potentially Rich Territory in This State

Vol. XLIII.—No. 49.

Murphy, N. C., Friday, July 8, 1932

$1.00 YEAR—5c COPY

Baptist Young People Study Course In July

The sixth annual B. Y. P. U. Associational meeting will be held with the Little Brasstown Church the fifth Sunday in July, according to an announcement made by the Associational President, Miss Winnie Rickett will be the principal speaker of the day. Speaking perhaps at both morning and afternoon services. Plans are being worked out now for a great program. Every young Baptist in the Association should come—and also every adult.

Study Course Week

What has been called by the Associational B. Y. P. U. president, "A blessing direct from God," will be witnessed the week in July beginning the 24th of that month. Seventeen, or more if needed, state B. Y. P. U. workers are coming in to this association to teach study courses. The blessing is that these workers are giving themselves to this week of work. They will not ask for one cent of definite money from any church. During the week or at the end of the week, your Associational president and B. Y. P. U. Department is asking that you take a free will offering for the expense of the workers in carrying them back to their next work. No amount will be asked. Each church will give what it can and no more.

Every church in this association should take advantage of this opportunity. Let all B. Y. P. U. officers, pastors, Sunday School Superintendent talk about this and announce it in their churches.

M. Mashburn has stated that he will give every church a worker that he can, but ask that those who want a worker write him at Andrews immediately.

The workers will be headed by Miss Winnie Rickett who is from our own section. We must not disappoint her.

PATRICK

Mr. W. J. Coleman of Hiawasee was a Patrick visitor Monday.

The Rev. J. W. Morgan of Madisonville, Tenn. held a series of meetings at Liberty church last week.

Mr. Willis Floyd and two daughters, Mamie and Sadie and nephew, Mr. Paul Floyd of Vests were Patrick visitors over the week end.

Mr. Rome Burnett of Ducktown, Tenn. was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Picklesimer, Friday.

Mrs. Lyda Crain returned home Saturday after an extended visit with daughter at Postell and her grandsons, at Vests.

Rev. J. W. Morgan of Madisonville, Tenn. was the guest of Mr. John Picklesimer Monday night.

Mrs. Polly Hamby was the guest of Mrs. Elvira Ledford, Monday.

Mr. J. P. Bryant was a business visitor of Mr. John Picklesimer one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ledford and family and Mr. Charles Ledford were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Eller Ledford Sunday.

Sunday School was reorganized at Shearer school House Sunday. Mr. J. Bryant was elected Superintendent. Lets all go and have a good Sunday school and take some one with you.

Hard to Catch Cattlefish

The cattlefish may not be much of a fighter, but it has an effective method of making a "getaway." When alarmed it expels an inky substance that clouds the water and thus aids it to escape from its enemies. These fish are cultivated by the Chinese, who use the secretion in making sepia paint.

Old English Wheat

Rivett wheat, still grown by some of our farmers, is the oldest wheat we know in this country. It was probably grown here to pay corn tribute to the Romans, and was cultivated in Saxon times when serfs, harnessed like cattle, turned the soil.—London Tit-Bits.

When in Venice Royalty Does as Venetians Do

WHEN the king and queen of Italy visited Venice to take part in the opening of the International Exhibition of Art they boarded a gondola and lead the gorgeous procession which is here seen passing the famous Ducal palace.

From Paris to Timbuctoo and Back Again by Air

THE Seabrook-Wauthier Sahara Desert Air expedition which has brought back by airplane from Timbuctoo the authorized memoirs of Pere Yakouba with priceless documents and notes covering the history of "the mysterious city" since its first occupancy by the French. The expedition, organized with the permission of the French government authorities, was piloted and scientifically directed by Capt. Rene Wauthier of the French army in a four-seated plane. Aboard were William Seabrook, American adventure writer, and Marjorie Worthington, American novelist, who collaborated on the Yakouba memoirs. Pere Yakouba came to Timbuctoo about thirty-five years ago as a white father and decided to discard the robe to marry a native girl with whom he has had thirty children. Father Yakouba was born in Chateau-Thierry. He has been devoting a great part of his time to studying languages and the various African dialects. He is very highly considered by the French government. He returned once to France since he established himself in Timbuctoo, but preferred his new home, and quickly returned. He says that he is much happier in Timbuctoo, having no worries brought by modern civilization such as telephone, elevators, newspapers and conventions of all kinds. The last American he had seen before Seabrook was Floyd Gibbons whom he met while making an attempt to cross the desert in 1921 with the aid of donkeys and camels. When Father Yakouba saw Seabrook arriving by air, he said that the Americans, since Gibbons, had made a lot of progress.

On the left in the picture is shown Georges Etienne and William Seabrook exploring a well which connects with subterranean aqueducts, bringing water under the Sahara from Hoggar to the oasis of Reggan. At the top, left to right, Dubois, civil administrator of Timbuctoo; Pere Yakouba, penning his memoirs for William Seabrook, who is looking on.

How They Teach Geography in Oregon

These 51 school children of Grants Pass, Ore., are learning their geography in a highly modern as well as interesting manner. The picture puzzle map of the United States is 36 feet long and 19 feet wide. Each state is a separate block. The new method of teaching geography, it is said, not only holds the pupils' interest, but teaches them graphically the relative sizes of the states and their locations.

WOLF CREEK

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hancock on Wednesday of last week a daughter.

Prof. Geo. E. Crawford spent the week end with his wife and Graysville, Tennessee, returning back here Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kneeland of Cleveland, Tenn. and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Kneeland of Covington, Ky. spent Sunday night with friends here.

Deputy Sheriffs A. E. Brown and A. L. Cole having been "tipped off" that a certain Whippet car was engaged in transporting "booze" armed themselves with a search warrant for the said car and after waiting a few hours for it spied it coming and tried to stop it but its driver said "no" and so down came a couple of casings and then a foot race started in two directions. Both were overtaken but one stood the officers help off with weapons and made good his escape, but the other willingly submitted when overtaken and was taken before Esq. W. L. Garren where he had a preliminary hearing and was remanded to jail for the want of a $250.00 bond. A few days later J. C. Cook made bond for him. His name was P. F. Shell. The car when searched, after the race was over, was found to contain 4 1/2 gallon fruit jars filled with whiskey and a 1 gallon empty jug. It also had about 4 bushels of corn in the car in it and the whiskey concealed beneath it.

Mr. H. E. Lysinger, President of the Georgia-Cumberland Conference of Seventh Day Adventist, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., arrived here Sunday and baptised 8 candidates into the Adventist faith. Mr. Lysinger spoke at the Tent Sunday night where Prof. Crawford has been holding meetings for the last several weeks, and considering the weather, a nice crowd was present to hear him speak. Mr. Lysinger showed himself a forceful speaker and used for his subject "The relation of the Law to the Gospel". In discussing his subject, among other things, he said: "The Law of God as found in the Ten Commandments, had always been in existence, for where there is no law there is no transgression, Romans 4:15, and sin is the transgression of the law. 1 John 3:4." He further said: "We are all sinners of the same order, for we all break the same law that branded Adam a sinner and Cain a murderer and all men who have lived in this world sinners. Romans 5:12,13."

Mr. Lysinger said in his sermon, "Adventists are often charged with teaching that men can be saved by keeping the law, but there is nothing farther from the truth" he said, "for we all sin by being born into this world sinners, all have inherited the same sinful nature, all have broken the same Divine law, and so all must be saved thru the same divine sacrifice, Jesus Christ. Acts 4:10-12; 16:31." He said "The law points out our sins but cannot take them away any more than the mirror can correct the errors in our toilet, but as the mirror sends us to the wash basin, so the law sends us to Christ, Galatians 3:23-26." He said: "This is the gospel—a living faith in the sacrifice of Christ being able to cleanse us from all sin—this is the only power that ever has or ever can save from sin. Rom. 1:16, 17; 10:9, 13; Eph. 2: 8-10."

Mr. Lysinger went on Monday morning to Postell, N. C. to visit another church of Seventh Day Adventists believers and was to return to Atlanta, Tuesday.

A company of 35 adults and children left here Monday morning over the "River Level Route" to near Parksville, Tenn. to meet with friends from Collegedale, Cleveland and Graysville, Tenn., in their annual picnic. All returned late in the evening, debarbled by the rain, but none with its spirit dempened. When the crowd had all gathered there were about 70 persons present.