

THE SCOUT AND JOURNAL'S CAMPAIGN EXPLAINED TO INTERESTED PARTIES

LEGISLATURE ADJOURNMENT ON SATURDAY

Hectic Session Brings Many Changes Session Survey Reveals

The following is a brief review of the work done by Cherokee, Graham and Clay county solons in the legislature which adjourned in Raleigh Saturday:

GRAHAM: Representative Morpew an outstanding candidate for speaker of the 1937 house introduced comparatively few local measures, concentrating on statewide bills including measures to increase salaries of solicitors and extend the term of register of deeds from two to four years.

Among his local bills; authorize Graham county board of commissioners to issue $75,000 courthouse bonds, provide for special election on question of legal barbed-wire fence in certain townships, direct the county to purchase certain law reports for clerk's office, permit the appointment of an additional deputy sheriff, and increase salaries of county officials by 20 per cent.

CHEROKEE: Conflict between Republican Representative Hyde and Democratic Senator Browning resulted in the passage and death of several Cherokee county bills.

COUNTY IS DIVIDED
Although opposed by Hyde, the legislature divided Cherokee county into three districts for nomination and election of county commissioners, and continued the tax commission in office for another two years.

Another bill, offered by Hyde and amended by Browning, prohibits absentee voting in Cherokee county for county, township and municipal offices.

Hyde also obtained the passage of a bill providing for tax relief, and blocked the senator's efforts to add P. A. Mauney and Mrs. Giles W. Cover to the Cherokee County board of education.

CLAY: Among the measures sponsored by Representative Gray were: provide for tax relief, reduce salaries of certain county officials, and authorize a special tax to defray operation expenses of jails and courts.

RALEIGH, May, 11, (AP) After 123 days of lawmaking, North Carolina's legislators forsook the capitol late today, retrospective concerning their sometimes heated battles, principally over the controversial sales tax and alcoholic beverages.

Their last day was in some respects one of their most hectic, as the uncertainty of the sine die adjournment that finally came at 3:02 o'clock this afternoon hung over the senate and house less than an hour before the gavels fell to close the third longest session of the general assembly on record.

Climatic occurrences of last week saw liquor control advocates break down the dry defenses after 17 days of almost futile scrapping. The manufacture and sale of wines and cider was legalized and the way was paved for possible legalization of whiskey in 17 counties and two townships.

Ineffectual efforts to bring about a compromise between the wets and drys on some form of state control or state referendum caused the uncertainty as to final adjournment shortly after noon today. Governor Ehringhaus took a leading hand in the deliberations, and although the wets were willing to accept a statewide vote by counties instead of

Don't Be Misled

In any campaign regardless of the nature of same, rumors of different kinds will be circulated, namely: one candidate will bear that another candidate has so many votes, etc. These statements can always be discredited and especially in a campaign like this.

There are only two people who know how many votes have been cast for a candidate. One is the campaign manager and the other is the candidate themselves. Not even the publisher of the newspaper knows. So don't be misled. By your own accomplishments you can win.

FREE TICKETS TO BE GIVEN THOSE NAMING NEW SHOW

In seeking a new name for his theater now under construction in Murphy, P. J. Henn, the owner, has hit upon a novel idea of choosing the most popular name.

He is giving a free ticket to the show to everyone who mails a suggestion for the name to the Cherokee Scout office. One of the persons who suggests the winning name will be awarded a six months pass to the theater.

Everyone is eligible and the name must contain no more than five letters. Each person can make only one suggestion. One of the persons suggesting the winning name will be given a six months pass to the show and all the others will be mailed a ticket with the date of admittance on it. Simply write a name for the show and your name on a piece of paper and mail it to the Scout and you will be sure to win one ticket if not a six months pass. No suggestions will be accepted unless mailed.

Although nearly completed, the opening date of the new and modern theater has not yet been set but the manager expects to make the announcement soon.

LIONS BOW TO TVA AND DONKEYS IN MURPHY'S FIRST DONKEY BALL GAME

The Lions club baseball team, presenting the front of a modern Gibraltar, was smashed to smithereens by the repeated onslaughts of a fighting TVA nine that went dashing to victory—and to home plate—on the back of a Missouri mule.

Although opinions as to the final score varies all the way from 6-1 to 4-3, the TVA team was declared champions—and thus remain on a pedestal that was given them by 13 ornery, lazy, contrary, confounded mules.

It all transpired at the local ball ground last Wednesday night when, their local unit successes, the drys were unbending.

Lines Are Shifted
Shifting their lines continually to meet the strategy of opposition, both sides had jockeyed for control through the session, now of the senate and then of the house. Finally a plan for state-wide control with

CLUB ON RECORD TO OBTAIN MORE CCC CAMPS HERE

Lions Club Interested In Having Roads Repaired; Erosion Checked

At the suggestion of Fred O. Scroggs and Sam Mendenhall, the local Lions club at their regular meeting in the Murphy cafe Tuesday night voted to back up a move to have one or more CCC camps located in this county to help in the construction of roads and the prevention of soil erosion.

Basing their claims on the fact that there is only one CCC camp located in the county and that no benefits of the government workers has been received in Cherokee, the two Lions suggested that an investigation be made to obtain any possible assistance along this line possible.

In view of the fact that the government has made increased appropriations for CCC funds, a committee of Chairman R. W. Gray, Fred O. Scroggs, Sam Mendenhall, W. M. Fain and A. Q. Ketter was appointed to investigate the matter.

There is no indication that the CCC boys have ever done any work on Cherokee county roads and the extravagance of unabated soil erosion is driving the Cherokee county farmer to the dole line and the relief offices, the two reported.

G. W. Ellis, acting president at the meeting in the absence of H. Bueck appointed another committee of Chairman W. M. Fain, H. G. Elkins and A. Q. Ketter to be in charge of arrangements for "Ladies Night", which will be observed at the next meeting two weeks hence. It is believed that District Governor Guy O. Bagwell, who will be in Asheville the night of May 22 to attend the ladies night meeting of the Asheville Lions, will be present at the meeting.

Lion W. M. Fain reported that a new club would be formed at Hickory May 30 and all local Lions were urged to attend this meeting as well as the one at Asheville. Bagwell, it was said, would also be present at the Hickory meeting. Mr. Fain also announced that the date of the state convention had been moved up one week.

The Murphy club also went on record as willing to cooperate with the reorganization of Lions clubs at Robbinsville and Blairsville, Ga.

Mrs. V. J. Brown, of Buckhead, Ga., is the guest this week of Mrs. L. E. Bayless.

under flood lights, the TVA boys showed themselves superior to their challengers, the Lions club, in Murphy's first taste of donkey baseball.

Wielding a mighty bat, and with the aid of a pocketful of lump sugar, brother Beall of the TVA posse, smashed one clean out of the range of the lights for a home run—with three cohorts on base.

The best the Lions could do was to prod the stubborn donkeys from hither to yon for an amount of runs too innumerable to mention.

Harve Elkins provided the thrill of the evening when he took a spill that jarred Napoleon's grandfather. Running full steam ahead in an effort to catch the mule before he got to the "dead line", Mr. Elkins made a hop, skip and flying jump for the beast's back, just as the donkey, running true to form, found it convenient to stop and back up.

The surprise of the evening came

MANY IN CHEROKEE AND ADJOINING COUNTIES WOULD BE IN ON THE SCOUT AND JOURNAL'S LIBERAL OFFER IF THEY FULLY UNDERSTOOD

INTEREST HERE OVER FEDERAL BUILDING HIGH

Prospectus Being Prepared In Anticipation Of New Building Here

With general interest evident in the possibility of a federal building being erected here at the approximate cost of a quarter million dollars in the near future, local citizens are anxiously awaiting outcome of the presentation of the prospectus now being made in relation to the project.

A sketch of Murphy is being made by Dale Lee and possible locations with site values are being made together with other necessary data that the government might have the local situation in concise form when Murphy's bid for their part of the federal allocation is offered for consideration.

The preparation of the prospectus comes as the result of the efforts of Harry P. Cooper, Mayor J. B. Gray and H. M. Wusaker, who some time ago went to Washington to confer with officials on the possibility of obtaining part of the federal funds set aside for similar purposes, and a "favorable report" on the matter.

Summing up the situation, Mr. Cooper said this week that the chances "were wonderful". Named as specific uses for the building would be new post office quarters, offices for the TVA and forestry workers, relief offices and the possibility of having Supreme court moved here from Bryson City.

EVANS MOTOR CO. IS SHOWING FREE FORD MOVIE HERE

A series of interesting, descriptive taking pictures has been received by T. S. Evans, Ford dealer here, and the qualities and building of the New Ford V-8 will be shown free to all who wish to see them through the medium of the equipment.

Mr. Evans announced that he will show the entire series of pictures to the public at his garage in Murphy next Monday evening and everyone is invited to see the intricate steps through which the Ford car must go before it is put on the market and the important part Thomas Edison and other inventors have played in making the Ford one of the outstanding cars on the market.

Particularly interesting is the film showing the village that Ford built himself with the original homes and equipment of the pioneers of this country.

A large turnout is expected to see the pictures which have already been shown to many people of this section.

Mother's Day Here Is Observed Quietly

Mother's Day was observed here Sunday in its typical quiet manner.

Local churches had special programs for the occasion and a large number of local citizens visited parents and paid respects to their mothers that had passed away.

Many children of families all over the county came back on the day set aside for mothers and many greetings were passed among friends who had not seen each other for some time.

If all of those who are reading about the Scout and Journal's Big Campaign and thinking about how nice it would be to drive away on June 29th, a new 1935 Ford V-8 or wear a $400.00 diamond ring, they would come immediately to the office and have the rules explained.

Here is the opportunity surely for the person who looks at a thing from a purely business standpoint and who arrives at a conclusion as to its merits by the way it appears to them as a business proposition. Some one in the trade territory of the Journal or the Scout is going to win a new Ford V-8. Some one is going to win a diamond ring, next a living room suite, and also a radio and cash commissions.
