Presbyterian Services

On the coming Sunday morning an unusual service has been planned at the Presbyterian church. On this occasion the service will be conducted entirely by the men of the church. In place of the usual sermon the theme "The Value of the Church to the Community" will be discussed by several speakers including Messrs. J. B. Gray, M. W. Bell and others. Everyone can be assured that the whole service will be most helpful and practical and certainly most worthwhile when such an important subject is discussed from the point of view of the business and professional man. A most cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend this service. There will be no evening service in deference to the services. Prayer meeting will be resumed the first of September.

BRASSTOWN

The church at Maggie's Chapel is going up rapidly. A great interest is being shown in the erecting of this church. We hope that it will be an uplift to our community.
