NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY GEE McGEE

MIKE DESIRES SOME WORTH-WHILE INFORMATION

dear mr. editor:—
holsum moore is anxious to get very deep into big politticks, but realizes that he must first become a first-class demmy-gog to ever get anywheres, so i am riting you at his request for information as to how to get holt of some high grade demmy-gog litter-ture.

holsum do not think there is much chance of fooling all of the people, but he says over half of same always enjoy being fooled good and regular, so if he can be a poplar-type demmy-gog, he mought soon become president or senator or something.

he already has a few demmy-gog planks for his platform, vizzy: 500$ per month pentions for everbody over 45 yr. old, the soldiers bonus pls, a good ford car, e98 auto licents plates, shearing the wealth on a 40-60 basin, him to get only 40, and a radio in every pot and a chicken in everybody's parlor and a set of gold teeth in ever pawnshop.

he is willing to fight anny party that is in power, be him dimmercat, republican, socialist, babtist methodist or bolshevik, he beleves that the strongest plank he can possibly get in a demmy-gog platform is a strong fight on the rich, and big bizzness, and furrin entanglements ansoforth.

can a man take demmy-gog by male, if so—where do he rite for his lessons? and what do it cost to learn how to fool the masses and cuss the classes? he do not want to get started off on the wrong leg, holsum is verry intelligent, has plenty of gall and brass, is not afeared of annybody on the stump, and weighs over 200 lb in his bear feet.

anny light you can shed on how to help holsum moore to get a holt on the public at large will be highly appreciated by both him and his wife and the riter, Mr. mike Clark, rfd, as he has promised him a seat in his cabernet, if he ever gets to be president, he is extry fine at making promises, and also powerful good at not carrying anny out, that seems to be the first step forwards in demmy-goggy, rite or foam.

yores trulie,
mike Clark, rfd,
corry spondent.

MIKE SEEKS FURTHER ENLIGHTENMENT

13—what size hat did he wear befoar getting in the limelight?

14—do he still practise medison?

15—what do he charge for a operation?

befoar ogger-nizing our townsend plan club, we will need this information. everbody in flat rock who is around 60 years old are strong for him, but the voters under 50 are nesser-tating betwixt borah, talmadge landon, and father coughing.

the new deal is still verry strong amongst folks to whom it is still putting out, but should they quit feeding, clothing and housing us, and renting our land we want to be redy to switch right over to a libberal add-ministration, and the townsend plan looks like it is the most libberal one offered to replace us dimmercats, so far if dr. townsend could fix it so's the folks over 60 could receive 200$ per month, and all the children and grandchildren under 20 would get about 35$ per month each, we would be okey-doke,soaky then. he mought add these planks to his flat form to advantage. rite or foam soon,

A BRIEF SKETCH OF HISTORY
By Hattie Garrett

In the beginning of history man's shelter was trees and caves. When men settled near the fields they built stone huts plastered with mud. The roofs were covered with brush or timber. Then they began to build fireplaces, and rude chimneys were added in other ways man's dwelling place was improved. The first clothing was made from the leaves of trees or grasses matted together. Then when man began to be a good hunter he wore the skins of the animals he killed.

The early man had to make his own weapons, tools, and utensils which he needed. Man's first weapon was a club.

A stone which he used to crack nuts with was his earliest tool. Then he began to chip a piece of flint until it had a rough edge that was a hatchet.

The next forward step was taken when man discovered metals and began to use them. The Egyptians and Babylonians were the first good farmers in the world. They had herds of cows and fat cattle and they used oxen to draw their plows. They kept sheep, goats and swine. Wheat and barley were their chief crops.

Trade and commerce are as old as the dawn of history. We owe much to the first civilized people. The Hebrews gave us the Bible and the Phoenicians gave us the Alphabet. The Greeks were the first European people to become civilized. Athens

The club was organized under the direction of Miss Pauline Lentz, who also gave a lecture on adequate food supply essential to the body, after which a hat cleaning and blocking demonstration was given. The next meeting and Sparta are the two leading states in Greece and the Spartans were the first soldiers of their time. The Athenians trained the mind as well as the body. The Greeks loved beautiful things, but the most beautiful things they ever made was their own bodies. One great gift the Greeks gave us was the theater.

Jesus was born at Palestine where the Jesus were cruelly treated by the Romans. They yearned for their freedom, and looked for a deliverer. The serfs were hard working white men. They had to labor upon the land of their masters and then give them half of what they made.

The church had much to do with the lives of all the people in the Middle ages. Then the priest was the religious leader of the people

He conducted the services in the church, married and buried the people. Back then they did not try anyone like they do now. One way was called the ordeal and that consisted on carrying a piece of the arm into boiling water. Some great inventions then was gunpowder, the printing press, and the making of fire.

The Citizenship of the 5th and 6th grades elected new officers for month of January. They are:
