'SANDY' GRAHAM VISITS MURPHY SUNDAY EVENING

Former Lieutenant Governor Sandy Graham, now a candidate for governor of North Carolina, was in Murphy Sunday evening discussing the issues of the heated gubernatorial campaign with his friends in this section.

Although he was unable to speak here, Mr. Graham contacted several of his personal friends and spoke at several of the towns in Western North Carolina on his way to Asheville Monday.

Although straw polls place Mr. Graham as third choice for governor in the coming elections, it is generally said that he is picking up votes in both the Eastern and Western portions of the state so rapidly that he will be one of the strongest contenders for the office in the Democratic primary.

Mr. Graham opposes the sales tax in its present form, favors reorganization of the highway department, permit to sell liquor by county vote, advertising of Western North Carolina and social security reform to put this state in line for federal old age pension and employment legislation.

While here Mr. Graham appointed Abe Hembree to act as his campaign manager in Cherokee county in the place of A. W. Melver who was recently made chairman of the Democratic party in this county.

Local Foxhunters To Get Treat Here

A number of local foxhunters will be given a treat either tonight or tomorrow night when P. J. Henn, local theater owner, will invite them to see his current picture free gratis.

The occasion will be the showing of "The Voice of Bugle Ann", the first big fox hunting picture that has ever been brought to the screen. Just to show its enormity is not due only to its interesting theme, it features such stars as Lionel Barrymore.

No Deaths Recorded During Past Week

For the first time in many months a week passed without any deaths being recorded with either of the two local funeral directors who handle most of the deceased in the vicinity of Murphy and the lower end of the county.

At times during the past fall and winter as many as ten deaths have been reported during one week.

LIONS DISCUSS ACTIVITY PLAN AT CONVENTION

Six From Murphy Club To Attend State Meet- ing At High Point

Attendance at the state convention of Lionism at High Point on June 8 and 9 provided the main discussion of the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Murphy Lions club at the Methodist church dining room Tuesday night.

Lion President George Ellis, Lion Secretary Dr. E. E. Adams and Lion Park W. Fisher were named as delegates to the convention. They will be accompanied on the trip by the Rev. W. A. Barber, H. G. Elkins and W. M. Fain.

Due to an unusually active year on the part of the local club it was believed Murphy would win special attention at the meeting with good attendance.

It has been largely through Mr. Fain's intense interest in Lionism that the Murphy club has become recognized as one of the strongest units of the organization in the state, members of the club said in expression of appreciation for the former deputy district governor's interest to have a large delegation from here.

Lions were urged by Dr. Adams to complete their list of accomplishments for the year that they might be read for approval at the convention.

A report by Lion Ellis said that a local boy with badly defective sight had been taken to the Bryson City clinic last Saturday and that further advice as to his condition had been (Continued on back page)

Find Home Brew In Factorytown House

Messrs Fred Johnson and Neil Sneed, local police, rode through town Tuesday with a five-gallon jug of real, old-time "home brew" three-fourths full. The beer was found at a residence in the Factorytown section of Murphy, they said.

From the officers' information the local market on home brew had soared to 80 cents per gallon this week, but with some of the local supply gone, it is expected to go even higher.

SCOUT INCREASING NEWS COVERAGE ADDING FEATURES

Week after week more compliments are being tendered this office on the interesting features in The Cherokee Scout.

Through the aid of a large staff of correspondents, complete coverage is given all county news. New and better equipment and a larger office force has permitted even greater coverage of local news. Besides this readers of this publication are offered many other interesting features. Among them are condensed daily news and comment, serial stories, articles by nationally known writers on every subject, humorous comments, local society and meetings and editorial comment.

The subscription list is far greater now than it ever has been and a large increase in both national and local advertising has been noted.

All in all the Scout each week gives its readers enough material to fill a small-sized novel at the low cost of $1.50 per year.

GADDIS CHARGED WITH MURDER IN M'FADDEN DEATH

Polk County Deputy Under Continual Guard At His Isabella Home

Emmett Gaddis, Isabella, Tenn., lay in bed at his home Tuesday night under an armed guard, awaiting preliminary hearing Saturday on a charge of murder in connection with the killing May 17 of David W. McFadden, 48-year-old Asheville contractor.

Sheriff Birch Biggs of Polk County accompanied by deputy Herman Wright went to the Gaddis home Tuesday morning and served the warrant, sworn out last Saturday morning at Copperhill before Squire Robert L. Frye, and signed by David McFadden, Jr., 22-year-old son of the slain man.

Gaddis Tuesday resigned as deputy sheriff, according to a statement made by Biggs.

County Physician Dr. H. P. Hyde said Gaddis, purportedly wounded when McFadden was killed, was unable to leave his home, and was placed under armed guard there.

Service Delayed

Service of the warrant and presentation to Sheriff Biggs Monday night was delayed for tactical reasons, and its issuance was known to only a few persons. The warrant was taken to Sheriff Biggs at Benton Monday night by C. C. Guinn, Benton Attorney.

An affidavit, which accompanied the warrant said:

"Personally appeared before me, R. L. Frye, a justice of the peace for said (Polk) county, David S. McFadden and made the following statement: That heretofore, on the seventeenth day of May, 1936, E. G. Gaddis unlawfully, deliberately, maliciously, feloniously, premeditatedly and with malice aforethought, shoot, kill and murder D. W. McFadden with loaded rifles and pistols in Polk county, Tennessee. Wherefore, he prays for a warrant for the said E. G. Gaddis.

(Signed) "DAVID S. McFADDEN, Prosecutor.

"Sworn to and subscribed before me this twenty-third day of May, 1936, R. L. Frye, justice of the peace."

Warrant For Murder

The warrant said: "To any lawful officer of Polk county:

"Information on oath having been made to me by David S. McFadden that the offense of shooting, killing (Continued on back page)

MAJOR BOWES BROADCAST TO HONOR ASHEVILLE, WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA

The town of Murphy will officially cooperate with Asheville and other cities and communities in Western North Carolina Sunday when Mayor J. B. Gray, on behalf of the city, will extend congratulations to Major Edward Bowes for devoting his extremely popular NBC broadcast to this section.

Asheville, N. C., May 28.—"Asheville Night", May 31, on the Major Bowes series of amateur hour broadcasts will honor not only Asheville but will also result in important publicity for Western North Carolina and the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. The Major it is believed, in addition to mentioning Asheville, will devote a portion of his remarks on his popular program to a description of beauties of the entire Western North Carolina resort section.

Owing to the importance of the broadcast which is a popular Sunday night radio program with millions of listeners, Western North Carolinians in all sections of this portion of the state are requested by Robert F. Phillips, chairman of the Major Bowes Hour arrangements, to cooperate in making this a fully representative Western North Carolina event.

Telegrams or gifts sent to Major Bowes from Western North Carolina mayors and civic organizations, will

TVA Road Engineer To Move To Murphy

Mr. McElfresh road constructing engineer for the Tennessee Valley authority, was in Murphy Tuesday preparatory to taking over his new post in charge of TVA road building in this territory.

He returned to his home in Knoxville Tuesday evening, but it is said he will move his family here within several days.

POWER COMPANY ASKS SEPARATE HEARING IN CASE

Condemnation Of Land Is Subject Of Action Laid Before Court

At a hearing in Shelby Saturday before Judge E. Yates Webb, attorneys for the Southern States Power Company moved that condemnation proceedings against lands of the power company be given separate hearings from other owners of lands under condemnation by TVA for the Hiwassee dam, near Murphy. Judge Webb took the matter under consideration and will make his decision later.

The Tennessee Valley Authority has instituted condemnation proceedings against approximately 10,000 acres of land near Murphy. This land is to be used for the TVA dam and reservoir as a unit of the Tennessee River Valley project of the Federal government. The Southern States Power Company owns approximately 22,000 acres of land in that vicinity, including the land on which the TVA plan to construct the dam.

Other lands in the condemned area are owned privately. The hearing yesterday was granted to allow the TVA to request severance in condemnation hearings so that the power company litigation might be a case by itself in Federal court. G. Lyle Jones is the power company attorney here.

Singing Convention At Blue Ridge Sun.

The Tri-State Singing Convention will be held at Blue Ridge, Ga., next Sunday, it was announced by the Rev. Gentry and Galloway this week.

All singing classes in this section are asked to be present and try to win the banner for the best class. Teams will be present from Western North Carolina, north Georgia and Eastern Tennessee.

Dinner will be held on the grounds.

MINSTREL SHOW TO BE PRESENTED HERE NEXT WEEK

About 50 of Murphy's best entertainers—most of them blackface—will take part in the Dixie Blackbird Minstrels to be presented in the Murphy school auditorium either next Thursday night or next Friday night, or possibly both, it was announced this week.

Details for the performance which is being sponsored by the Baptist Sunday school class have not been definitely announced by Miss Mary Cobb, who is in charge of production, but she said that full details could be given in this paper next week.

Decoration Flags May Be Had Saturday

Henry Hickman, post commander of the local American Legion, has asked that all persons wishing to have flags to decorate graves on Decoration day get in touch with him Saturday.

Mr. Hickman says he has a number on hand to be used for that purpose.
