Things Unusual

By The Tattler

Everything in this column can be proved, providing any living evidence can be found.

A CARR LOAD OF NEWS

'Round hunting for things unusual we just happened to see in one corner on the front page of the Scout "24 pages this week". It's just not common or usual for a county paper to print that many pages. That fellow Carr must get a carload of news wherever he parks his Carr.

YE OLDEN TIMES

Where is the father that raised an immense quantity of good tobacco, yet he wouldn't allow his boys to chew it or smoke it? That was a long time ago.

Where is the girl that confines smoking to her own private quarters like our grandmothers used to smoke at home, their long-stemmed pipes, loaded with home made tobacco? That's not now, it was so a long time ago.

Where is the old-two-eyed brogan shoe that used to skin our feet all over and the new shoes that advertised themselves by screeching so loudly as we went up the church aisle? That was many years ago.

Where is the old fashioned parents who used to sit in the same room with daughter and her sweetheart to hear every word of the conversation?

We can't hardly remember those days of old.
