First and Last

WOMEN'S WAYS

Mrs. Bragg—All men are liars.
Mr. Bragg—Have you noticed how woman is taking man's place in the world?

Wrong Product

White Friend—So you're a salesman, now, eh, Sambo? Do you stand behind the product you sell?
Sambo—No, sah! Ah sho' don't.
White Friend—Why, Sambo, I'm surprised at you. You should always stand behind your product. What are you selling?
Sambo—Mules.

Cut and Slash

Customer (having rough shave)—I say, barber, have you got another razor?
Barber—Yes, why?
Customer—I want to defend myself.

Let Dad Answer

"All right," said the resigned father to his curious son, "you can ask one more question."
"Well, Dad, if I were twins, which one would I be?" — Hartford Courant.

No Stoolin'?

Grand Pianist (to niece)—You say you like the piano? That's fine, but why?
Niece—Because I can stand on the stool and reach the cookie jar!

What's in a Name?

Grocer—If a child were to come in and say that her mother sent her for a can of maltreated milk, what would you give her?
New Clerk—Why, malted milk, of course, sir.
Grocer—Fine! Our last clerk hunted all over the shelves for a can of whipped cream.

Knew It All Along

Father: "Your teacher has written saying he finds it impossible to teach you anything."
Son: "There! I have always said he was no good." — Stray Stories Magazine.

Fear

"Did your threat to retire from office cause any fear?"
"Great fear," answered Senator Sorghum. "I have received many letters expressing fear that I might change my mind."

Sauce for the Goose

Father to Mary after her first week in school: "Your writing is terrible. I don't see how the teacher ever reads it."
Mary: "Well, that's all right. I can't read hers, either—so now we're even."

ONE ARM STUFF

"What makes it jiggle around so?"
"Ha! ha! It's a spoony couple, trying to fish and hold hands at the same time!"

This Is to Identify the Forgotten Man

Speaking of vice presidents, how many readers can recall under what President Garrett A. Hobart was Vice President or Wm. A. Wheeler, or Henry Wilson. On what tickets did Henry G. Davis and Arthur Sewall stand for Vice Presidency?

Few prominent candidates for President ever consented to accept a nomination for Vice President. Among those declining were Charles E. Hughes in 1908, Hiram Johnson in 1920, and Senator Borah in 1924 and 1928. Frank O. Lowden declined the nomination after it was voted him in 1924. — Louisville Courier-Journal.

SMILES

Heavy Date

"Bill has a wide acquaintance."
"Yes, I saw him with her last night."

Fair Enough

His Lordship—I wish you would quit driving from the back seat!
Her Ladyship—I will when you quit cooking from the dining-room table.

In Spite of All

Father—When he proposed, didn't you ask him to see me?
Daughter—Yes; and he said he had seen you several times, but that he loved me just the same.

Oopswha!

The small boy rushed excitedly back into the office of the factory paymaster and sobbed, "Oh, mister, I've lost my dad's pay and my aunt's pay."
"Now, now," soothed the man in the window. "Stop talking pig Latin and I'll see what I can do."

A Word to the Wise—

"Gosh, you're just like an icicle!" said the boy friend in disgust.
"Well," she remarked quietly, "if you squeeze an icicle it usually melts."

Real Rarity

Antique Dealer—I have here a very rare revolver. Dates from the time of the Romans.
Prospective Customer—But the Romans didn't use revolvers.
Antique Dealer—I know, sir. That's what makes it so rare.

Fighting It Down

"Hey," shouted a grocer to a boy standing near an apple barrel, "are you trying to take an apple?"
"No," the boy replied. "I'm trying not to take one." — Philadelphia Inquirer.

Being Content

CONTENTMENT is the result of discerning the value of things we have and the conditions that enfold us. If the evil of the day is sufficient thereunto, so is the joy. The gladness most worth having is that which is at hand growing by today's highway. Pluck it: it will be a present delight and a future treasury in memory's storehouse. — Bishop Charles H. Brent.

Make thy recreation servant to thy business, lest thou become a slave to thy recreation. — Quarles.

London's Tall Buildings

The British Library of Information says that buildings in London are limited to nine stories and 100 feet in height. There are apparently only nine buildings in London over eight stories high.
