

TARZAN TRAILS CAROLE LOMBARD; JANE WITHERS FOLLOWS BOTH

By Victor Olmsted
 Carol Lombard—Tarzen, and Jane Withers!! How's that for a savory movie dish.
 And that's what's coming to you at the Henn theater between now and next Tuesday.
 The curvaceous and altogether (if you like blondes) Carol Lombard comes first, opening today, and staying through tomorrow night in a fantasy called "The Princess Comes Across." Playing opposite her is Fred MacMurray; the same he-star with whom she scored such a hit in "Hands Across the Table".
 "The Princess Comes Across" is an odd mixture of farce comedy, differently connected love interest, and murder mystery melodrama; all set in an atmosphere of easy gaiety. Humor indeed, is the picture's keynote.
 All the action takes place on an ocean liner, with a role cast as a show girl masquerading as the Swedish Princess Olga. She comes into romantic conflict with a band leader. Also on board is an escaped convict, and a blackmailer. There is a murder, and the bogus Princess soon becomes Number One Suspect. Her band-leader boy friend finally proves her innocence, and in so doing wins her heart.
 A paramount picture, this; with a brilliant supporting cast which includes Alison Skipworth, Douglas Dumbrille, William Frawley, and half a dozen other luminaries. There will be the usual daily matinees and, take it from us, who saw the preview; the picture will keep you alternately thrilling and laughing, and you'll never be able to guess the solution of the mystery. No; never, never, never!
 Saturday, matinee and evening comes dramatization of Edgar Rice Burrough's famed Tarzan. No doubt you've read the book. Inevitably you've seen the daily adventures of the handsome "ape man" pictured in the daily papers. Now you can see him on the screen.

In addition to Tarzan, too, Saturday's bill will include a red hot Western, called "Desert Gold". Lots of hard riding and straight shooting in this one. It's a Zane Gray picture—which ought to tell you enough! Combined with Tarzan you are given about the biggest two bits worth of movie entertainment possible.
 Monday and Tuesday comes little Jane Withers, the Atlanta youngster who took two years to get on as an extra, and then leaped to stardom within two months. Her latest offering is called "Little Miss Nobody"; and you probably already have read how Jane's wizardry knocked the big-time critics right off their seats, so to speak.
 Jane is cast as an orphan. She appears first in an asylum, and starts from there to a reform school. But enroute, she escapes; and then plenty of things happen. We won't spoil the picture by telling you all about it but there can be no harm in admitting that it finally develops that Jane never should have been sent to that reform school at all. Also, she finds that she isn't really an orphan. In fact she finds her father—and he turns out to be the very same man who has been trying to put her behind the bars!
 Next Wednesday, Mr. Henn will continue his recently inaugurated practice of giving two shows for the price of one. The double feature, this time will include a brand new detective story called "Special Investigator", and that delicious comedy from the pen of Harry Leon Wilson called "Bunker Bean".
 Probably you read the adventures of young Mr. Bunker Bean in the Saturday Evening Post. You'll recall that he was a bozo who believed that you could make yourself whatever you chose, merely by thinking and wishing. How he tried to put his theories into practice makes one of the funniest comedies ever screened.

Vote For LON RAPER

An Independent Progressive Candidate for County Commissioner from the Third District

- He will take care of the financial affairs of the county in a progressive way, that the tax-payers will not be burdened with high tax.
- He stands for the tax-payer's rights, and to see that they get a fair value on their property, and all share in equality when it comes to paying tax.
- He stands for the progress of the county, but not in such a way that it would burden the tax-payers with any more tax, in the way of an increase.
- He stands for the relief work that is sponsored by the State and Government and to appropriate such funds from the County as it might take to meet the State and Government's demands on such work, by so doing every needy man ma yhave a job and something to eat and wear. Let no man or child go hungry or otherwise needy on account of a few kickers against the relief work. This relief work brings thousands of dollars to our county that otherwise we would not get. This helps the farmers to get money to pay their tax. We cannot pay tax unless we have some circulation of money brought to our county.
- He stands for the World War Soldiers to have free privileges on rolling stores and peddling here in this county.
- He stands for the Chairman of the County Commissioners to hold only monthly meetings instead of almost daily, like it is being done now by our Board, some drawing pay most every day off the tax-payers. How do you like a Commissioner like that? If you like him, vote for him.
- He stands against consolidation of bonds for the County, or the issuing of any more bonds.
- Do you like the consolidation of the bonds for the County, if so, vote for the man that would bond the county. If not, vote for the Independent Progressive candidate.
