MY FIRST STOP AT A HOTEL

I was 18 years old when I spent my first night in a hotel. I had secured a job as telegraph operator, and enroute to location, I had to stop over a night, and when I asked for a boarding house (I had heard of them), a man showed me the Franklin Inn. I had never been out of sight of home before.

I went in and told the colored man who came running toward me and tried to take my grip away from me that I wanted to see Mrs. Franklin about spending the night here. He showed me over to a little man standing behind a counter with a pair of specs on his nose and a writing pen in his hand.

He didn't say a word, just handed me the pen; I looked at it carefully and handed it back and told him that I didn't care to buy it, at the railroad office where I was going to work would possibly furnish a pen for my use. He smiled and handed it back to me and told me to sign my name on the book. I didn't like that idea much, as pa had always told me to be careful what I signed.

After I had entered my name in beautiful long-hand, which I expected him to bang on, he slapped a little bell that made me jump 2 feet high. A negro ran up and grabbed at my bag again, but he wasn't quick enough. He motioned to me; I followed him. We falked into a little room about 6 feet square. There wasn't any bed in it, and I knew right straight I was not going to like that place.

To my great surprise the room commenced to move and I commenced to tremble. We got going pretty fast, and the man said—"6" and the thing stopped suddenly. We got out. We walked down the hall and turned to the left and he left me and my suitcase all alone in a strange room. The bed looked nice and felt soft.

I wished my brothers and sisters could see me in that fine place about 300 feet up in the air! I finally decided to go to bed. I couldn't blow out the light; it was inside of glass, so I wrapped my sock around it. I wanted to wash my hands the next morning, but there wasn't a sign of a bucket or washpan in the room. I saw something fastened to the wall with handles on it, but was afraid to turn out of them. I just went on down stairs, 3 flights, as I was. The man at the counter charged me $1. I tried to explain to him that I had not set there slept only, but I got no change back. I learned better about hotels during the next few years.

killing as this produces favorable conditions which prevents propagating and causes the meat to spoil in cure.

Question: Should I deworm my pullets before they are put in the laying house?

Answer: Where the pullets are laying they should be put in a laying house without deworming them after they have started laying will upset the pullets and cause them to stop producing. However, those pullets that are in flesh, have pale face parts and that they are suffering from worms should be dewormed and fed a rationing or fattening ration, in addition to the growing ration, for three weeks. At the end of this time if the pullets have responded to treatment they should be put in the laying house. Those that do not respond to the treatment should be sold.

Question: How much silage do I provide for my dairy cows?

Answer: This, of course, depends upon the number of animals and the weight of each animal. The average cow will consume about three pounds of silage a day for each 100 pounds of live weight. In other words, a cow weighing a thousand pounds will consume about thirty pounds of silage a day. Multiply the number of pounds each cow will consume a day by the number of animals to get the total poundage required. This figure divided by 2,000 will give the tonnage needed. Add this about five percent to allow for feed wasted and spoiled.

Timely Farm Questions

Question: How long should a hog be off feed before killing?

Answer: No feed should be given the animal for at least 24 hours before it is killed. During that time, however, the animal should have access to plenty of water. This gives the hog time to get rid of the contents of the stomach and intestines which makes it easier to get a good bleed. The meat also cures better when the small blood vessels are free from food products. Never over heat or excite the animal before there is some talk in secret amongst the members of rehober church about calling a new pasture to take the present pulpit of rev. will waite, he has hurst a great manny feelings here of late talking about money for keeping the home fires a-burning.

REHOBER CHURCH MIGHT CALL A NEW PASTOR

There is several faults to his pasture, according to holsum moore, the seckertery of the bored, he lets his britches bag to mush at the knee, he pulls his left ear while preaching all of the time till it bleeds, he do not bade down heavy enough on general sins, but harps on autoes and pitcher shows nearly all of the time.

he has wore hisself out at some of the stoms onner count of verry weak credtick, but always promises to pay after the collection is took next sunday, but if the collection don't amount to no more than he is paying on his back detts ansoforth, he will never have to pay a income tax, his wife is also doing a right smart of talk about his delinquent members; it is no sin to be delinquent when a fellow can't help it, but verry few ever touch it.

The church leaks pretty bad, but as noboddy is ever in it now to get wet, there seems to be no sense in patching same.

rehober mought go pastureless a few months to advantage and save some monney, but rev. waite argues a dead church is pretty strong anyway, our leaders is looking around for a supply, if you know of one that will preach 6 or 8 months on trial, please rite or foam mr. holsum moore at once for particulars ansoforth.

"What's in a name?" scoffed Shakespeare. And then he made his own name the greatest in English literature... because the sublime quality of his writings gave that name a meaning.

You call for a product whose quality lives up to the promise of its name. How else could Budweiser be entitled to your constant choice if its quality were not daily maintained by skill that never wavers? Isn't that why so many people through three generations have chosen Budweiser as a friendly companion?

HARRY P. COOPER

VOTE FOR HARRY P. COOPER for Representative of Cherokee County

- I FAVOR ANYTHING THAT WILL BENEFIT CHEROKEE COUNTY AND ITS CITIZENSHIP.
- The four acts that I favor enacting into law are:
1. Payment of Old Age Pensions.
  2. Reduction of automobile and truck license tags, and that said tags shall be sold and distributed out of the Cherokee County Court House.
  3. Repeal of the law placing a license tax on fishing for the citizens of this county in the streams of Cherokee County. Non-Residents should pay a nominal fee for fishing, but I respectfully call your attention to the fact that there are only three rivers in this county and none of them contain game fish, only the sucker type. If we go into the adjoining counties to fish in the game streams, we expect to pay a license for such privilege, and I do feel that the abominable practice of dynamiting fish should be severely dealt with.
  4. Construction of as good a highway from Murphy to the North

I will speak at Unaka, Thurs., Oct. 22, 7 p. m.—Vests Reid's Chapel), Fri., Oct. 23, 7 p. m.—Andrews, Tues., Oct. 27, 8 p. m.—Bellview (Burnt Meeting House), Wed., Oct. 28, 7 p. m.—Suit (Friendship School House), Thurs., Oct. 29, 7 p. m.

Carolina-Tennessee State line via Unaka as we now have from Murphy to Culberson and from Murphy to Peachtree and Brass-town.

The foregoing platform expresses four of the more important laws I favor, but I want the citizens of this county to know that if I am sent to Raleigh as your Representative I will fight to have Cherokee County given its just recognition by the officials of this State. Heretofore nothing has been done for our county and it is high time that the officials at Raleigh be made to realize that we are a part of this great State and that appropriations of state money be made in this county just as it is in many other further East and more favored than we.

I am especially and intensely interested in seeing our aged and revered elderly people paid a monthly income. It is a disgrace and a shame that our old people should be dependent on relatives and the county poor house in their declining years. If I am elected I am going to insist that the Governor call a special session of the Legislature immediately following the election for the purpose of passing the law to take care of our old people before the long winter months begin instead of waiting until next spring to start paying the old age pensions. Our old people are entitled to receive their pensions NOW and not be compelled to wait until NEXT YEAR.

Your vote and your support will be greatly appreciated
