

Should Select Seed Corn Now Agent Declares

Seed corn and other grains should be saved at this time to insure the best crops next year, R. B. Wooten, assistant county agent, has announced.

At harvesting time, Wooten suggests, the best seeds should be saved and properly cared for until planting time. A call at his office in the Mubhy court house will bring his

Letter To The Editor

New York City, N. Y.
8 West 4th Street,
October 16, 1936.

Mr. L. A. Lee, Publisher,
Cherokee Scout,
Murphy, North Carolina.

Dear Sir:
As a former resident of Georgia, and a collector for many years of books relating to the State and Colony of Georgia, I have been attempting to locate, wherever possible, books, pamphlets and newspapers printed by Cherokee Indians at New Echota, between 1828 and 1834, when that settlement was the capital of the Cherokee Indian Nation, and before the removal westward of the Indians.

In the assurance that the Cherokee Scout circulates both within and experienced advice.

"Corn yields can be increased more surely and more cheaply by the use of better seed than in any other way", Wooten said.

"Seed corn should be selected in the field from stalks which yield best in equal competition with others. It should be of a variety which succeeds well and matures under local conditions. Ears should be saved only from stalks free from disease. Drooping ears, which shed rain readily should be selected, and these should be borne on the stalks at a convenient height for husking. In the South, ears which are well protected from insects by long, tight shuck covering should be chosen.

"The same day the seed is gathered it should be hung in a dry, airy place. One of the best ways to cure seed corn is to hang it from the rafters of a barn or open shed. It should not be allowed to freeze before it is thoroughly dry. After it is well cured it should be stored in a dry place where it will remain secure from mice, rats, birds and insects. Well-cured seed corn will yield a much better crop than seed originally as good but injured through lack of care.

"Generally speaking, the seed corn that produces the best crop is the cheapest. Farmers are justified in devoting considerable time to selecting and caring for it or in paying good prices if better seed corn is purchased."

UNAKA NEWS

Mr. T. J. Rose, Lawrence Rose, Mrs. Pauline Thomas and Mrs. Eva McClure, of Akron, Ohio, are now visiting their mother, Mrs. G. F. Rose.

Rev. W. H. Graham filled his regular appointment here Saturday and Sunday. He was accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Pipes, of Peachtree.

Dr. J. H. Crawford, of Robbinsville, and Mr. Lee Crawford, of Andrews, visited relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Leach were called to their home in La Follette, Tenn., last Friday to attend the funeral of his niece.

Mr. Douglas Smith and Hoyt Phillips were dinner guests of Mr. S. W. Evans Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Roberts were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Odum Sunday.

We are very sorry to hear that Mr. Bill Phillips has a broken shoulder caused from falling off of a building Saturday. We hope he improves quickly.

without the North Carolina reservation of Cherokee Indians, I write to ask your aid and assistance in the above matter. If you would be kind enough to publish this letter in the news columns of your paper, I feel sure that it would be read by many descendants of the original Cherokees who fled from the State of Georgia at the time of the removal, and that such of your readers might have in their possession specimens of printing done at New Echota.

Such printing consisted of school text books and spelling books; books of, and portions of, the Bible; hymn books; various pamphlets, and the newspaper known as the Cherokee Phoenix, printed weekly and edited by the Rev. S. A. Worcester and Elias Boudinot.

Should any of your readers find that they have in their possession any printed material of this kind, I would be most appreciative if they would communicate with me.

And, thanking you for anything you may be able to do to help me in this matter, I am,

Very Truly yours,
JAMES LARWOOD

Mule Steps On Sleeping Child; Injury Is Fatal

Etowah, Tenn., Oct. 22.—Bobby Rose Green, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Green of Cleveadn Route 3, died at P. & S. hospital, Cleveland, Tuesday night from injuries sustained when his head was crushed by the hoof of a mule.

The child's parents were working in a field and the little boy fell asleep in the grass. A mule stepped on his head crushing it.—Etowah (Tenn.) Enterprise.

Come in, Neighbor. Make yourself at home.

The kettle's on. There are plenty of comfortable seats. Clean, fresh air to breathe. Good beds to sleep in. Servants to cater to your comforts.

Most of these servants are busy inspecting tracks—keeping equipment in tip-top shape—watching with alert eyes so you'll be safe in your "Home Sweet Home" on rails. Working "behind the scenes" . . . just the way many folks in your community work—to give you the things that make home more pleasant.

. . . and so, because our "home" is maintained much the same way as yours—because our places in the community are so similar—we feel that we are your neighbor. Will you think of us that way?
