Democrats Of Five Counties Are At Meeting

Democrats from five counties gathered at the Andrews high school auditorium Tuesday night to attend a five-county rally sponsored by the Young Democratic club of Cherokee county.

Speaking on the program were: Edwin Whitaker, Bryson City attorney; Jack Morphew, of Robbinsville, Democratic candidate for reelection to the general assembly from Graham county; D. H. Tillitt, Andrews attorney; Harry P. Cooper, Murphy attorney and Democratic candidate for representative; Dr. Kelley Bennett, Bryson City druggist and Democratic candidate for state senator from the 33rd senatorial district, and other candidates and party leaders.

Frank Forsyth, of Andrews, president of the Young Democratic organization of Cherokee county, presided.

This marked the last of about 10 county-wide meetings sponsored by the club which has been active in the party cause during the campaign.

Forlorn Figures Bring Winter's Touch Here

A cold snap which accompanied rains here during the first part of the week was not unexpected.

For during the last half of the game with Cullowhee's "B" team here Friday afternoon, while the boys were battling vigorously in one of the most exciting games ever seen here, Bill Cover, of Andrews, pointed skyward and said, "There's something to write about".

Overhead flew three forlorn figures—wild geese in their usual "V" formation heading South.

That's one sign that never fails.
