Farmers Lose 10 Cents Of Every Dollar Earned During Year, In Fires

The nation's farmers lost ten cents out of every dollar they earned last year, through fire or other serious accidents. These accidents also cost 4,400 lives.

The annual bill for farm accidents last year is placed at one billion dollars or roughly one tenth of the gross farm income last year. The isolated location of many farm homes caused the toll on rural property to be particularly high.

Farmers are warned to check carefully on lighting and wiring facilities in their homes and barns; to check construction of chimneys and flues; to make sure stoves and stove pipe connections are safe, and that roofing material is fireproof, if possible. Warning also is sounded against careless handling and storing of gasoline and kerosene—two common causes of farm fires.

Smoking around barns should be avoided, and good fire extinguishers should be kept handy, as well as buckets and pails placed in convenient spots.

GET MORE OUT OF LIFE

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

Whether nine or ninety you are entitled to get more out of life—more fun, more gaiety, more friends. Take advantage of every opportunity. You'll find its just as much fun to give a party as to go to one—and Hallowe'en is just the time to begin.

The old-time Hallowe'en stunts are always new. There can be bobbing for apples; whirling apple peelings around one's head to discover the first letter of the name of one's best beloved; a peanut race with the peanuts pushed the length of the floor with the nose; separating beans and peas blindfolded; eating doughnuts from strings. When everyone has tired of these have a Cheshire cat contest, with a prize for the widest smile, this to be measured by a ruler.

Hallowe'en Party Menu

- Hot Ham Biscuits
- Red Apple Salads
- Hallowe'en Cake
- Coffee Continental

HAM BISCUITS are merely good sized thin baking powder biscuits, split, buttered and put together with thin slices of hot baked ham. The salads consist of diced fresh fruit, celery and mayonnaise served in hollowed out red apples and—

THE COFFEE CONTINENTAL consists of big cups of strong steaming hot coffee with a high topping of sweetened whipped cream.

THE HALLOWE'EN CAKE is made in three large thick layers, two of butter cake with a spice layer in the middle, put together with a coffee cream filling. The sides are covered with chocolate frosting, the top
