

Lincoln Inscription

The inscription in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., reads:

In This Temple
As in the Hearts of the American People
For Whom He Saved the Union
The Memory of Abraham Lincoln
Is Enshrined Forever

It was written by Royal Cortissoz, author and art critic. Now 72, Mr. Cortissoz is celebrating his 50th year as art critic for the New York Herald Tribune. Mr. Cortissoz, who was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., left school at 14 to take a job with an architectural firm. But though his formal education ended, he continued his self-education, and was soon writing art, music and literary criticism for newspapers.

Washington, D. C.

HOODOED NORMANDIE

There is not much consolation to be had in connection with the virtual sinking of the S. S. Normandie—except for one thing.

The French had gone to a lot of expense to build the giant vessel so that she could be converted to an airplane carrier in wartime. To this end, special funnels were arranged on the side of the deck, to give space for runways; especially large elevators were installed at each end of the ship; and the top deck consisted of the biggest sports deck in the world.

However, U. S. naval engineers decided that despite all the French preparations, the Normandie's upper decks were not strong enough to hold a flock of planes. The French had sacrificed reinforcements below, for the purpose of beauty in the passenger salons.

As a troop ship the Normandie was considered useful, but not nearly so useful proportionately as a medium-sized vessel, such as the Manhattan. Reason: big ships draw so much water that they could not efficiently carry troops to Dakar or West African ports. Small boats would be necessary to take soldiers and cargo ashore.

Also the Normandie was too big to get through the Suez canal.

SINKING U. S. TANKERS

The navy is being more hush-hush than usual regarding the sinkings of oil tankers off the Atlantic coast. However, here are a few important facts about the situation which are not military secrets.

First fact is encouraging. The tankers sunk were old, small and slow. All of them were 20 years old or over, and the largest, Standard Oil's India Arrow, was 8,327 tons.

On the surface, this would indicate that oil and gasoline losses on the East coast would not be heavy. However, this is not the case. For all of the big, new American tankers have been taken over by the navy. This was under an arrangement whereby the maritime commission had lent the oil companies around $800,000 per vessel to build fast modern tankers making 19 knots. This is so fast that they can avoid submarines and also keep up with the fleet.

However, these new tankers, built in co-operation with the navy, are now with the fleet.

Buy Defense Bonds—HEAVY LOSSES

Two other factors indicate the importance of the sinkings on the Atlantic coast. One is an announcement made by the British last week that sinkings for the entire Atlantic, including the East Coast of the United States, has been heavier in January than ever before. The other is the fact that comprehensive rationing of oil and gasoline for the East coast is now a certainty. In other words, oil and tanker losses have been very heavy.

Reason for these losses is easy to understand. It requires no official explanation. As everyone knows, especially the enemy, we had to rush various kinds of shipping to the Pacific to replace the damage done at Pearl Harbor. Also we had a large number of warships busy conveying vessels across the North Atlantic.

Hence we have been caught short-handed on the East coast.

Note: Most people don't realize it, but the oil shortage along the Atlantic could be relieved considerably by a curtailment of tank car rates on gasoline and fuel oil. Last fall the rail rates were reduced on crude oil but not on gasoline or fuel oil.

POLITICAL-GO-ROUND

Democratic insiders are predicting that Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York will be persuaded to run for a fourth term this year. Lehman has told party chiefs he doesn't want another term, but they urge him to be a candidate again on the ground of wartime duty. Meanwhile, former District Attorney Tom Dewey is busy behind-the-scenes organizing his political fences for another try at the governorship. This will be the springboard for a second shot at the G.O.P. presidential nomination in 1944.

Wisconsin's Gov. Julius Heil will run for a third term this year to get himself in position to take on isolationist Sen. Alex Wiley when he comes up for re-election in 1944. Both are Republicans, but privately no love is lost between them.

Fiorello LaGuardia's ambition always has been to become a U. S. senator after he steps out as mayor of New York city.

CHOLERA REMEDY NOW PERFECTED

Disease Costs Hog Raisers Twenty Millions Annually.

By W. H. BOYNTON

(Professor of Veterinary Science, University of California.)

Hog cholera is admittedly one of the most destructive of all animal diseases. The yearly cost of this disease has been estimated at between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 in the United States alone. Within the past few years the author has developed at the University of California college of agriculture a new tissue vaccine which is expected to cut this annual cholera "tax" very substantially.

This vaccine is known as BTV and is now available from commercial companies. It has been used on more than 100,000 hogs on the Pacific coast and in the Middle West. BTV is composed of finely ground glandular tissues from hogs infected with cholera. These tissues are taken from the hogs at the height of the disease and then treated with eucalyptol. The result is a vaccine which cannot produce cholera in a hog but does produce an active immunity to the disease.

When BTV is used, vaccinated pigs can mingle with unvaccinated pigs without transmitting cholera to them. Furthermore, pigs harboring latent infections, such as pneumonia or enteritis, at the time of vaccination are not subject to the danger of flare-ups of these infections due to the lowering of body resistance. This danger of lowered resistance followed by death from some secondary infection has been one of the major drawbacks of the serum-virus method of vaccination for cholera.

The vaccine is not intended for pigs that already have cholera. It should be given only to swine that do not have the disease. Since a period of at least three weeks is required to build up a satisfactory immunity in the animals, pigs which have been exposed to cholera or are suspected of having it should be treated first with anti-cholera serum to make sure that the infection is checked. Later they can be given the tissue vaccine.

At present this vaccine is not recommended for garbage-fed pigs, although successful experimental results have been obtained by administering the vaccine before and after weaning.

AGRICULTURE IN INDUSTRY

By Florence C. Weed

(This is one of a series of articles showing how farm products are finding an important market in industry.)

Research on Hemp

As soon as science can produce a hemp plant free from a narcotic drug, this crop will offer a good market for farmers. Unfortunately the plant, in its present form, produces the narcotic, marihuana. The misuse of this drug has caused the passage of the federal marihuana act which forbids the growing of hemp except under federal supervision.

Because of the restrictions, less than 1,000 tons annually are grown in this country although in former years the growing of hemp fiber was a flourishing industry. In 1859, Kentucky alone produced 75,000 tons. The word "hemp" is sometimes applied to about three different fiber plants including manila hemp and sisal hemp. The common variety grows well in the United States, attaining a height of 3 to 20 feet and sometimes yielding 800 to 1,000 pounds of fiber per acre. The plant is cut by machine and allowed to dew-ret on the ground. Then it is collected in stacks and sold to the hemp mill. The mill dries the stalk and removes the fiber in a "hemp brake."

Cordage, which can be made from hemp fiber, is one of the urgent needs of the defense program. Hemp can also be used in making cigarette paper and this commercial outlet has already been opened. From the seed a useful oil can be extracted and when mixed with other seeds the hemp can be utilized as bird food.

Research is already under way to find a variety of hemp that will contain only a small amount of marihuana. This work appears promising since some plants have been found to produce only small quantities of the resin.

THE PARABLES BY THE SEA

LESSON TEXT—Mark 4:26-32; Matthew 13:44-50.
GOLDEN TEXT—Never man spake like this man.—John 7:46.

Parables as a means of conveying truth reached perfection in the hands of the Master Teacher, Jesus. Taking short stories of well-known events or facts from daily life, He presented profound truth in the most simple and attractive form.

Except for the parable of the four kinds of seed which He interpreted (Matt. 13:18-23), He left it to His listeners to make their own application. This has led to some difference of opinion, but in general the parables are received as excellent and helpful portions of God's Word.

I. Normal Growth Is Blessed (Mark 4:26-29).

God is patient. He awaits the normal, healthy, steady growth of the seed. Man is so impatient he must have forced growth, artificial stimulation, and even artificial ripening of the fruit.

The same attitude enters into his care of his children. They must get ahead in school beyond their years. They must get out and make a living long years before they have learned to make a life. Why not let them mature in the orderly, God-given way?

The same is true in the work of the church. There must be immediate "tangible" results or he will not give his support. Anyone with judgment knows that spiritual life takes time to develop, and that spiritual results cannot be judged by physical or tangible standards.

Seedtime, growing time, normal ripening, then harvest—that is God's order and it is a good one.

II. Abnormal Growth Is Dangerous (Mark 4:30-32).

Normally the mustard tree is a small plant, and when it grew into a great tree something abnormal had taken place. Birds (which always denote something unclean in Scripture) came to lodge in its branches.

Just so, Christianity was never intended to be made up of a nominally Christian world empire in which ungodly men (the dark birds of the evil one, Matt. 13:19) should find comfortable lodgment. Unfortunately, that is just what happened to Christianity in the so-called conquest of the Roman empire at the time of Constantine. The results were disastrous. The same principle is evident today in the control of much of the church by worldly men.

III. Redemption Is Costly (Matt. 13:44-46).

While it is true that our redemption is worth more than anything else in all the world and that the Christian would gladly set aside (or would he?) everything for Christ's sake, yet that does not fulfill the thought of this parable. After all, what has a sinner (whose own righteousness is described in Scripture as "filthy rags") to sell in order to obtain redemption? And is it for sale? (See Eph. 2:8.)

Obviously we here have the Saviour with His all-seeing eye and loving heart noting in fallen humanity the pearl of great price, His own Church. He then gives up all the glory He had with the Father, comes to the earth, and even becomes sin for us that He may bring us to God.

IV. Judgment Is Certain (Matt. 13:47-50).

All kinds of fish were in the net, and until the cord was drawn and the net emptied they looked much alike and enjoyed much the same standing as "citizens" of the sea. But when they faced the fisherman there was a quick division, and a final judgment upon the bad ones.

It is true that in God's kingdom (as it is now manifested in "mystery" in the Church) there are many who have come in by false profession, through carelessness of pastors or church officials, etc. They go through the motions, they look and act much like Christians (although even here they create questions in the minds of true followers of Christ). The day is coming, however, when they shall stand in judgment before the Christ whom they profess to love and follow. How terrible shall be their doom!

They need not wait in fear for that day. They may now, today, make right their relationship with God.

The future and the past,
A weak and tattered
