A TIME TO RELAX

These children look forward to "Penny Milk" because it means a time to relax, as well as to drink a cool, refreshing half pint of milk which, in time, shows its effects in better health. The children in the schools cooperating pay a penny a half pint, and the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture pays the farmers' price for the milk. Some schools in Cherokee and Graham counties are cooperating, and it is desired that every school share in this program. Mrs. Beryle Witt, unit supervisor for Cherokee and Graham for the W. P. A. feeding program, requests that those interested get in touch with her or the superintendent of schools. Robbinsville school is giving milk free to all school pupils. Sponsors for other schools are wanted.

Interest Is Centered Around Sheriff Race

Local politicians this week literally bore down in their efforts to solicit potential voting power that will come forth on November 3, and the whirlwind campaign was carried into every nook and corner of the county, according to announcements by leaders of both parties.

For the most part candidates of both parties and voters declared it was "anybody's race" and the outcome at this time remains far from being solved in what appears to be the hottest and most closely contested race in years.

The race for solicitor is creating but little interest here as the Republicans do not have a candidate in the field to oppose John M. Queen, of Waynesville.

For State Senator, E. B. Whitaker, Democrat, of Bryson City, is opposed by Jack Hicks, Republican.

In the race for Representative, Mrs. G. W. Cover, sr., of Andrews, Democrat, is being opposed by Clyde H. Jarrett, Republican.

In the race for county sheriff both candidates are making a desperate drive for votes as election day draws near. Both candidates appeared optimistic over the outcome and are urging citizens to turn out en masse at their polling places next Tuesday. J. C. Townson, Republican, and present sheriff, is opposed by L. L. Mason, Democrat, and more interest is centered around this race than any other at this time.

In the field for Register of Deeds, B. L. Padgett, Democrat, is seeking reelection. He is opposed by Marion Morrow, Republican, of Unaka.

J. M. Anderson, Republican, is seeking a seat on the Board of County Commissioners. He has no opposition from the Democrats.

Zebulon Weaver, of Asheville, congressman from this district, is campaigning for reelection as the Democratic representative from this district.

For United States Senate Josiah W. Bailey, Raleigh, is asking for his reelection on the Democratic ticket.

Felix E. Alley, Waynesville, is seeking his return to the 20th District Judgeship of the Superior Court.

Because of the war several hundred absentee votes are expected in the county, according to announcement by members of the county election board.

Inspection Of Tires At Regular Intervals Becomes Law On December 1

Between December 1, 1942, and January 31, 1943, the tires on every passenger car must be inspected by an authorized OPA inspector. Beginning February 1, 1943, every passenger car owner will be required to have his tires inspected periodically by such an inspector as follows:

All holders of a basic "A" or "D" mileage book—every four months, with inspections at least 60 days apart.

All holders of a "B", "C", or Supplemental "D" mileage book—every two months, with inspections at least 30 days apart.

Effective November 15, all commercial vehicles must be inspected every 60 days or every 5,000 miles, whichever occurs sooner, and on and after said date every commercial motor vehicle operator will be required to hold a Certificate of War Necessity from the Office of Defense Transportation for each commercial vehicle he operates.

Inspection Fees: If no tires are removed from the wheel or rim, a nominal fee, not in excess of 25c per vehicle, may be charged by the inspector for the over-all inspection.

If a tire is demounted for the purpose of inspection, the following fees, in addition to the above, may be charged:

Passenger motor vehicle tires, each 50c.

Small truck tires (7.50x20 or smaller), each 75c.

Large truck tires (larger than 7.50x20), each $1.

Additional charge for removing inside dual truck tires (larger than 7.50x20) 50c.

The inspector is to give the vehicle owner efficient and courteous inspection service and assist him in every way possible to keep his tires and tubes in serviceable condition, as vehicles must be maintained in service with the greatest possible conservation of rubber.

Inspection stations are to be identified by number and location, and a list of all inspectors and inspection stations serving this jurisdiction is to be posted in the office of the local board.

Any violation of the Tire Rationing Regulations by an inspector or by an inspection station will be dealt with promptly. Careless or dishonest inspection or collusion between an inspector and a vehicle owner, after two warnings, will be cause for withdrawal of the station's official inspection authority.

Murray saw the canine running down the street with a billfold in his mouth. He overtook him and relieved him of the wallet, which contained $60 in cash. Davis' registration card identified the owner, and Mr. Murray turned the cash over to the sheriff for delivery to him. Mr. Murray was rewarded with a nice gift.

Watches Andrews Grow From Woods To Leading Town

Andy Big Meat, known by most white folks as "Nicodemus", who lives on Cherokee Indian bad land, at Webb's mill, near Andrews, paid a visit to the Scout office Monday. Ninety-two years old, Nicodemus is distinguished among his race and thought highly of by the white people in the county. He lives alone in a cottage in the woods and raises most of his food. He mows lawns and does odd jobs in Andrews for his spending money. He said that he remembers when Andrews was nothing but forest, and there was no road through the site. It has been his privilege through the years to watch the growth of the town and see it become one of the most progressive in this area.
