Next week if your child asks for a penny or a nickel for the Junior Red Cross, you will know that he will be joining a group of more than 14,000,000 youngsters who are not only trying to do their part in winning the war, but doing their share toward a better after war world.
Last year the Junior Red Cross at Murphy contributed a large share in the collection of Victory Books for the boys at camp. In the recent scrap campaign, they had a special campaign of their own in the collection of old keys.

IRON IN THE BLOOD, FIRE IN THE SOUL
In these perilous days when the nation's freedom and security is threatened, the indifferent or complacent citizen is a mildly disloyal one. If he isn't for us he may properly be classed against us. There is hardly a middle ground.
The line of demarcation is clear and there isn't a "no man's land" between loyalty and its lack. That person who isn't putting his best effort with heart and soul into some sort of service for his country is indirectly though unwittingly and unconsciously helping the enemy. If we win the war it will be without complacency and indifference.
It is going to take iron in the blood and fire in the soul to do the job.—West Asheville News.

Trucks Must Have Certificates Of War Necessity

Certificates of war necessity will be required on and after November 15 for the operation of all trucks and other commercial motor vehicles, regardless of whether they are operated on the highways and regardless of whether State licenses have been issued for them.

This was made plain by Robert G. Carter, District Manager of the Office of Defense Transportation. At the same time he issued a new appeal to operators of all trucks and other commercial motor vehicles to file their applications for certificates immediately.

Mr. Carter stressed the point that operators who wait until the last minute to file their applications cannot expect to receive their certificates by the deadline. Without a certificate, an operator cannot buy gasoline, tires and parts.

Applications were mailed some time ago to owners of trucks and other commercial motor vehicles registered as of December 31, 1941, but no blanks were sent to owners of farm and industrial trucks which were not used on the highways and were thus unregistered.

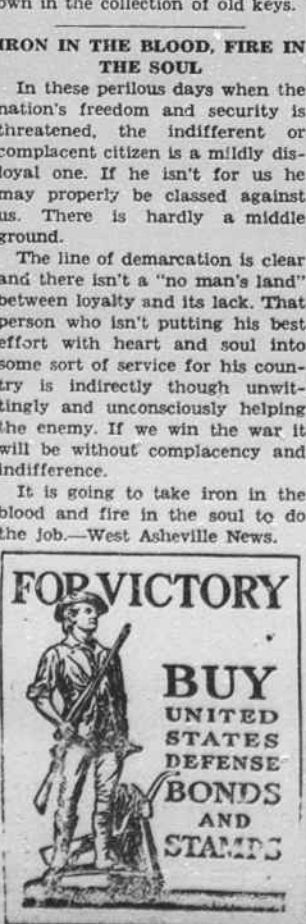

Owners of such vehicles should contact the Asheville office of ODT immediately, where arrangements will be made for them to file applications with the Detroit office of ODT.

Commercial vehicles, as defined by the ODT, means trucks, buses and taxicabs, regardless of whether they are privately owned. Accordingly, a farmer must have a certificate for a truck even though the vehicle is used only on his own farm.

Junior Red Cross Enrollment Starts Here This Week

The American Junior Red Cross enrollment for service will take place November 1-15. Mrs. H. Bueck, Chairman of the Junior Red Cross Chapter of Cherokee county, has announced. The effort will be made to enroll the entire student group of the Murphy schools. In the 25 years of its existence the Junior Red Cross has been a worthwhile constructive organization, not only for the service that it has rendered but for the broadening extent of its worldwide activities and friendships, says the chairman. Last year 1100 school children of Murphy belonged.

Henry J. Walker Is Post Inspector

ANDREWS, Oct. 28.—Technical sergeant Henry J. Walker, now stationed at the Army Air Force's Advanced Flying school at Spencer Field, Moultrie, Georgia, is spending a two weeks' furlough in Andrews with Mrs. Walker, the former Violet Spivey, before their marriage last July.

Sergeant Walker entered the Army Air Corps June 18, 1939. Later he spent 11 months at Oahu, Hawaii. In 1940 he was transferred to Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Alabama. Subsequently, he attended the Army Air Corps Technical School at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Illinois, graduating from the Army school there July 18, 1941. After graduation at Chanute Field, he was returned to Maxwell Field for a short time before being sent to Spencer Field where he is now Post Technical Inspector.

Sergeant Walker graduated from the Andrews high school and later attended the University of Tennessee, where he attained eminence as an athlete, especially as a boxer and as a football player.

Wm. M. Davis Made Second Lieutenant

MEDICAL REPLACEMENT TR. CENTER, Camp Barkeley, Texas, October 27.—(Special)—Master Sgt. William M. Davis, 32, son of Fred W. Davis, Grandview, N. C., has given up his non-commission stripes, representing the highest rating in the army non-commission field, for the gold bars and commissioned rank of second lieutenant, here.

Lt. Davis, who completed eight weeks intensive study in the Medical Administrative corps Officer Candidate school, was graduated in the fourth and largest class since organization of the school a few months ago. Five hundred men graduated in the group. Lt. Davis received his diploma and certificate of commission from Brig.-Gen. Roy C. Heflebower, MRTC and school commandant, during graduation ceremonies over which Lt.-Col. George E. Armstrong, assistant commandant and school director, presided.

Lt. Davis will go on 10-day furlough, returning later for assignment. He was employed by a sanitarium prior to entering the army and has attended both the Western Carolina Teachers college and the School of Public Health of the University of North Carolina.
