Murphy Bulldogs Close Season With Hayesville

The Murphy Bulldogs will bring the football season to a close Thursday afternoon at one o'clock when they entertain the Hayesville eleven in a Turkey Day clash on the local gridiron.

Hayesville will be seeking revenge for their only defeat of the season, while the Bulldogs will endeavor to finish the season with but one loss to their account. Murphy defeated the Clay county boys at Hayesville early in the season by a 12 to 7 score and the visitors are anxious to even matters. In the meantime Murphy dropped a contest to Copperhill but later defeated the Copper Basin boys in a return match.

This will be the last game for several of the Bulldogs and they will be out to make a good showing. In the line Beatty, Hill, Alexander, McDonald, Graves, and Palmer will be singing their swan song along with D. Kephart, who looks like a surprise starter for the final engagement. In the backfield Crawford, Christopher, Wilson, and Simonds will represent Murphy for the last time on the gridiron.

In keeping with the record of the season the Bulldogs will start an eleven different from any that has started any previous contest. In fact, the same team has not started two games during the entire season. The probable lineup will show Cook and Palmer at the ends, Graves and ephart at the tackles, Lloyd and Alexander at guards, Beatty at center. The opening backfield will, in all likelihood, be Culver and Simonds at the wings, Smith at full and Crawford at the tailback.

It Doesn't Look Like Sugar, But—

THESE are sugar beets, now being harvested on nearly a million acres in 19 Western and Middle Western states. The sugar they contain—which is identical to that from cane—is an absolutely dependable supply, for it is grown and processed entirely within the borders of the United States and is, therefore, free of the hazards of war-time shipping. This year's crop of sugar beets, it is hoped, will provide enough sugar to supply an eight-ounce weekly ration for Republican candidates for office in the November 3 election, petitioning for a recount of absentee ballots and being denied their petition at a three day hearing conducted here last week, noted an appeal to the state board of elections. The Cherokee county board of elections, at the conclusion of the hearing in which affidavits of irregularities and other evidence had been presented, denied the petition.

W. A. Lucas, chairman of the state board of elections, attended the hearing Thursday. He made recommendations to the board through Winslow Melver, chairman, to investigate indications of fraud and, if found, to see that the offenders are prosecuted. He stated that if fraud were found, the parties would be prosecuted both by the state and the federal government, since a U. S. congressman was elected.

According to Chairman Melver, the board ruled that there was no fraud involved in the balloting, and there were not sufficient irregularities, if any, to merit a recount.

The canvass of the votes by the board showed that the following Democratic candidates were elected: L. L. Mason, sheriff; J. L. Hall, clerk of court; B. L. Padgett, register of deeds, and Mrs. G. W. Cooper, representative. The Republican candidates were: J. C. Townson, incumbent, for sheriff; Victor West, clerk of court; Marion Morrow, register of deeds, and Clyde H. Jarrett, representative.

Representing the Republicans in their petition were: Edwin Hyde, Claude Love and Zeb Curtis, of Asheville. Representing the Democrats were: J. B. Gray and J. D. Mallonee.

Farm Labor Funds Will Not Affect Social Security

Lambert, Manager of the Asheville office of the Social Security Board, says that persons who receiving old-age and survivors insurance benefits may continue to receive such benefits and at the same time earn maximum wages in agricultural work. Mr. Lambert said that although the Social Security Act prohibits the payment of benefits to anyone who receives wages of $15 or more per month in a job that is covered by the Act, this ruling does not apply to farm labor, because agricultural work is not covered by the Act.
