NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK, JULY 21-27

HOW OFTEN DO YOU TAKE CHANCES ON YOUR FARM?

HE TOOK A CHANCE, TOO!

Accidents don't always happen to somebody else!
Check up on the chances you take every day!

Unless something is done, 19,500 farm residents may be killed in accidents this year. These estimates are based on figures of the National Safety Council. There are more accident victims in farming than in any other occupation... more than in mining, construction or transportation! One-fourth of all workers killed in accidents are farmers!

If drastic action is not taken, accidents will injure 1,800,000 farm dwellers this year—will strike 3 persons every minute!

Many victims will spend months in bed, unable to work—will lose a whole year's crops.

Accidents are caused—by the little things we all do, unthinkingly, each day. The careless little chances we take. The little repairs we neglect to make.

July 21-27 is National Farm Safety Week. There's no better time than now to inspect your farm and home for year-round safety... to check up on your accident-creating habits. Do you take these chances?

It was such a little chance he took! For only a moment he turned his back... but it was time enough for the bull to attack him. Now he'll be laid up for months—lucky even to be alive! One of every four fatal farm accidents involves livestock. Are you careless around horses—or the bull? Do you have a flimsy unsafe bull pen? Do you think an accident can't happen to you?

- I take chances with animals.
- I'm never careless with animals.

LOST—estimated billion dollar loss through careless, preventable farm accidents.

DEAD—20,000 farm people killed in farm home accidents in 1945 alone.

INJURED—2,000,000 farmers, members of their families, and hired help.
