

On The Rounds With FSA

Mrs. Margaret J. Carringer, FSA home supervisor, has assisted in the past 30 days the following farm families in purchasing pressure cookers:

Mrs. Edd Messer, Andrews; Mrs. Charles Barnard, Hayesville; Mrs. J. A. Penland, Hayesville; and Mrs. John Smart, Hayesville.

Mrs. Charles Barnard, Hayesville, is pleased with her new pressure cooker. She finds it satisfactory for canning non-acid foods; also saves time, energy and fuel, and is a great help in food preparation. The Barnards are building a new 20 by 50 foot poultry house for the 450 pullets they are growing now which will begin laying in September.

There will be no food shortages in the home of Lee R. Williams Marble. He is feeding six hogs for home use, and will kill and can one baby beef. Mrs. Williams is canning 800 quarts of fruits, vegetables, meats, jams and pickles. They plan to store 27 bushels of potatoes, vegetables, and dried beans, and will put up some 15 gallons of sirup.

Two good cows furnish the family with plenty of wholesome milk and milk products. There will be more than 100 hens to go into the laying house this fall.

On our last visit Mrs. Williams had canned six quarts of strawberries after supplying the family from 500 plants set out in February. These plants were still bearing and additional cans will be filled.

Mr. Williams has a fine crop of corn, clover, hay, stock beets, beans, potatoes, tobacco, and plenty of pasture for his livestock.

J. H. Coffey, Brasstown, has just selected and put 1200 pullets in his new two story poultry house.

G. W. Williamson, Patrick, has one of the nicest gardens in the county. In his garden you will find peas, beans, carrots, parsnips, turnips, corn, lettuce, onions, cabbage, and beets. They practice successive planting throughout the spring, summer and fall.

Mrs. Fred Hannan, Andrews, has a storage house that is well filled with a variety of food: peaches, apples, berries, jams, vegetables of all kinds and meats. There you will also find fat for making soap, and bins for storing potatoes and other vegetables.

In 1946 about 50 farm dwellers will die each day from accidents and three farm people will be injured every minute. An alarming total.

Bee hives should face the south or southeast and should not be in a heavily shaded spot. A good young queen placed in the hive now will assure a strong force of workers to live over the winter.

Frank R. Smiley of Danville, Illinois and her brother Richard and sister Karen Sue.

Mrs. L. E. Mauney is spending some time as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. S. S. Christopher in Atlanta.

Mrs. Laura Freeman was in Bryson City Saturday to attend the orthopedic clinic, to which she took some patients.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Cooper of Atlanta, George Cooper, and Mrs. Fisher Hubbell attended the funeral of Mrs. Anne Kirkman in Asheville Friday.

Miss Victoria Bell, field representative of the state department of Public Welfare, was a visitor at the local welfare department Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ricks of Akron, O., are visiting relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Weiss left Friday for their home in Salt Lake City, Utah, after spending several weeks here with Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Lovingood.

Mrs. Mercer Fain Jr., returned to her home in Atlanta Wednesday after a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Darnell and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hyatt. Mrs. Darnell and Mrs. Hyatt accompanied her to Atlanta for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hyatt returned Tuesday from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. O'Dell Jones at Martin, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barringer and daughter, Jenny Lee, of Asheville spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Vestal.

Mrs. Kyle D. Crowther of Knoxville, Tenn., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Vestal, at the Dickey Hotel last week.

Mrs. Glen Taylor of Albemarle, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver and mother, Mrs. Kelsey Weaver, returned to her home this week.

Mrs. Blaine Cook is visiting relatives in Canton, Ga.
