Three Resign From Andrews School Faculty

ANDREWS — The Andrews schools were beset with a wave of resignations last week according to an announcement made by Supt. J. B. Hudson. Those submitting resignations were Mrs. Jane C. Orr, Mrs. Irene J. Wilson and Mrs. Johnny Johnson. Mrs. Orr was high school librarian and taught some eighth grade subjects. Mrs. Wilson was eighth grade teacher, and Mrs. Johnson was seventh grade teacher.

Mrs. Wilson has joined her husband in Cullowhee. She will re-enter Western Carolina Teachers college, having left that school at the end of the summer term. Mrs. Johnson has gone to Belmont to join her husband where both he and she have employment.

So far only one of the above positions has been permanently

John G. Olson Becomes Forest Ranger Andrews

ANDREWS — Ranger John G. Olson was recently transferred to this area to replace Ranger John Stanley who is now in Forest, Miss. Ranger Olson states it is like being sent back home since he was stationed here for one year before entering the Army in 1942. After receiving his discharge he was stationed in Franklin in charge of Timber Management for the Nantahala National Forest. Mrs. Olson has joined him here and they expect soon to occupy the apartment vacated by Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW JERSEY

Whether it's... 1943 or 1947 or 1960 ...our nation's FIRST obligation is to its disabled veterans! It's only human to forget. When our enemies were near our very shores we could hardly wait for the next communique from military headquarters. Today the anxieties of those days have faded. The men who manned the weapons which whipped our enemies were blessed for their valor by a grateful nation. Many of those men have returned from those battles disabled, now needing assistance. Today it is only right that we show our heroes the gratitude we had for them when the battles were being fought and won and they were being disabled for our protection. Our feeling of obligation to them must be as enduring as history itself. In these specific ways, recommended by the Disabled American Veterans, spokesman for 4 million disabled veterans, our nation can prove its gratitude. The DAV asks your support of the following program: 1 Provide through the Congress adequate compensation and pension to meet everyday living costs for the disabled veteran and his family. 2 Build additional veterans hospitals so that war disabled veterans can be given the best possible treatment and medical care. 3 Make possible selective placement of disabled veterans in jobs they can perform. 4 Extend vocational training and educational opportunities to as many disabled veterans as possible. 5 Treat the disabled war veteran as an individual who wants to be a useful citizen in his community. He does not want charity—but he is entitled to assistance.
