J. A. Richardson, Jr. Resigns Pastorate

The Rev. J. A. Richardson, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church of Andrews, has resigned his pastorate, effective October 18. Mr. Richardson became pastor of the Andrews church, July 6, 1950, coming here from High Shoals Baptist Church, of the Gastonia Association.

During the pastorate of Mr. Richardson, some 80 members were added to the church. The Training Union was departmentalized, and the Sunday School reorganized. A Baptist Brotherhood was formed. A church library was established. A building fund for renovation of church property has been started.

An increased support of missions has been realized. A church bus has been bought to transport people to services. A supplementary heating system has been added to the church, and a new heating plant obtained for the parsonage.

During his two years in Andrews, Mr. Richardson was twice president of Associational Baptist Minister's Conference. He served as Pastor-Advisor to the Associational Baptist Training Union. He served on the State Evangelistic Committee, and was on the General Board of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. He taught the Old Testament Course in the Murphy Baptist Seminary Center, which is sponsored by the Southern Baptist Seminary. Mr. Richardson was also on the Missions Committee of the WNC Baptist Association and was Associational R. A. Counselor.

Mrs. Richardson has likewise been active in the entire church program. She has taught in the Sunday School, was counselor and Departmental Director in the Training Union. She has been music director in the church, having charge of both choirs. She led the YWA and worked with each of the Circles in W. M. U. work. She was Young People's Counse-
