

Woman Talk

By EMILY COSTELLO

A delightful afternoon tea at Mrs. H. Bueck's Saturday afforded the most delicious delicacies to eat, along with very pleasant company.

And Mrs. Bueck, in addition to being the perfect hostess, entertained most graphically with a play by play description of the bull fight which she and her school superintendent husband witnessed on their Mexico trip. (That same description, I understand held the 6th grade simply spellbound.)

Guests at the tea included Mrs. W. H. McKeever who is my Sunday School teacher; pretty little Mrs. Frank Brown, the Presbyterian minister's wife; Dot Mason (Mrs. L. L. Jr.), the mayor's other half; Mrs. Cecil Burgess, new neighbor of the Buecks (the Burgesses lived in the same apartment we do now, before purchasing their home on Dillard St.); Mrs. H. D. Nix, Dot's mother, from Asheville; and Mrs. Tom Mauney, the friend of a mutual friend in Greenville.

It was at the tea that I learned the quietest point before the movie, from ROSALIND BURGESS and DOT MASON that I am on a PTA committee. I find that quite remarkable since I am neither parent nor teacher, but am delighted to help make the gym spooky for the Friday night's big Halloween party.

I don't know how long it's been since I've been to a Halloween party, but I'm just the witch who can enjoy one now.

Both parents and children are invited, and if you can afford the admission price—which is sky high, believe me—five cents for children and 10 cents for adults—then, I'll see you at the gym.

JOHNNY'S BIRTHDAY

Dot's little son, JOHNNY SNOW, celebrated his 7th birthday Friday, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Nix, and Mrs. J. A. Snow of Asheville, were here for the week end to help celebrate. Now, after the excitement of the birthday, Johnny is laid up in bed with a cough, but some good old timey vaporizing is going to have him out in no time.

WONDERFUL ROLLS?

At the NCEA dinner last Friday night EMILY SWORD was giving credit to the 4th grade for the Halloween place cards. And the most delicious fluffy hot rolls, tempting to anybody's reducing diet, were served. The meeting was at the Methodist Church. Who made those delicious rolls?

I'M GONNA SING

I sat next to a determined young gentleman at church Tuesday night. He made up his own order of service, and proceeded accordingly.

In the first place, cute little DAVID SAMUEL DAVIS, 4, had told his parents, Carrie and Kenneth, and sister, Kenny Jane, 5, that he preferred staying home and playing with daddy's new shotgun to going to "Sunny School" (not Sunday School actually, but the showing of the Billy Graham film "Mr. Texas").

But, once at church, Samuel made himself satisfied, grabbed a hymn book, and, right at the mother. BOB WHITE AND GLEN PATTON stopped by the other day. Bob White have a cute name? And Glenn Patton, I learned as much as a dog lover as I am. W. H. RUSH was the first to break the news to me of the 17 degrees, low temperatures last week.

I was sorry to miss MRS. WILLIAM A. HOOVER the other afternoon but I met the Doctor Tuesday morning.

MISS EDNA BISHOP, I was sorry to hear, was called out of town this week because of the serious illness of her Mother's sister. She had planned to attend the National Home Demonstration Convention in Raleigh this week, but was unable to go because of her aunt's illness.

Cherokee Women At HD Meeting

Mrs. W. E. Graham, of the Ranger Home Demonstration Club, was the county's official representative to the 16th Annual National Convention of Home Demonstration Clubs meeting in Raleigh Oct. 25-30.

Mrs. Graham assisted with the reception at the governor's mansion Monday evening.

Also representing the county at the national meet were Mrs. Frances Pruitt, assistant county home agent, and Miss Jerry Ruth Smith of Martin's Creek, member of the Murphy High School HD Club.

Miss Smith was on the North Carolina Night program Tuesday, accompanying on the accordion a group of ballad singers.

This is the first time a national home demonstration convention has been held in North Carolina, and the agenda included a reception at the governor's mansion, a North Carolina night program in William Neal Reynolds Coliseum, and ten panel discussions on topics including the national reading program, family relations, citizenship, and the rural music program.

The delegates, who came from 42 states and Puerto Rico and Hawaii, were also taken on a tour of Raleigh and surrounding areas.

On North Carolina Night, 2,000 box suppers were served and the spicy scent of pine woods, mountain folk clad in bright gingham, the melodic strains of Tar Heel ballads and a mountain of locally manufactured gifts all tied up in

Garden Time

By ROBERT SCHMIDT

The next two or three months is the best time to plant deciduous trees of all kinds. That gives them a chance to get well settled by the time the spring growing season arrives and they are more likely to survive than if planted later.

In selecting trees to plant in the farm yard or even on the front lawn we should keep the pecan in mind. In addition to the crop of nuts produced the pecan is a beautiful tree and is as valuable for shade as any of our deciduous trees. It is not necessary to plant more than one tree in order to get a crop of nuts although a better crop may result if more than one tree or more than one variety are planted somewhere near-by.

For Eastern North Carolina we recommend the Stuart, Cape Fear, and Blake varieties. The Mahan variety is popular because of the large size of the nuts, but is not as resistant to disease. For the Piedmont the Stuart variety is probably most reliable and in the mountains only northern varieties such as Indiana or Green River should be planted.

In buying trees there is no advantage in getting the largest trees. A five to six foot tree is a desirable size and will not cost as much as a larger one. Trees should be set slightly deeper than a gigantic bow set the scene in the Coliseum.

Throughout the meal groups of ballad singers moved from table to table singing old favorites for the entertainment of guests. The Transylvania County Chorus sang native ballads, many of them collected from the Great Smoky Mountains of North Carolina.

Jennie Williams, homemaker and owner-operator of a Wyoming Ranch, is national president, and Ruth Current is the N. C. State Home Agent.

E. A Wood, Jr. Weds In Burlington Saturday

BURLINGTON—Miss Eva Viola Higdon of Burlington and Sylvia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cleveland Higdon of Sylva, became the bride of Edgar Augustus Wood Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Augustus Wood of Andrews, Saturday at 4:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church here.

The Rev. E. F. Baker, pastor of Kernersville Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. Carlton Prickett, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by Mrs. C. Howard Allison of Charlotte as matron of honor and Miss Nettie Day of Leaksville as maid of honor.

Couple Married In Florida

Mrs. Dorothy Moneymaker Bowman of Rolla, Mo., and Edwin Allen Davidson of Avon Park, Fla., were married in a quiet ceremony in Hardy, Arkansas, September 4.

The bridegroom is employed with the U. S. Geological Survey and is now in the field in Rapid City, S. Dakota.

The bride, a Rolla resident, is employed with the United Telephone Company.

Mr. Davidson, son of W. E., and the late Mrs. Davidson of Avon Park, Fla., is a grandson of the late Dr. and Mrs. W. S. McCombs of Murphy, and is well known here having visited often in the home of Mrs. E. C. Winchester and Miss Ella McCombs.

The couple will reside in Rapid City.

They were in the nursery and should be at least 60 feet apart so that they will not crowd when they are full grown. While preparing for planting take care that the roots of the trees do not dry out. Place them in a tub of water or cover them with wet burlap sacks.

Dig a hole large enough to take care of the root system without crowding and fill in around the roots with top soil. Do not put commercial fertilizer or fresh manure in the hole next to the roots. Each spring just as the buds are swelling apply a well balanced garden fertilizer underneath the spread of the branches at the rate of 2 pounds for each year of age of the tree from the time of planting. State College Agriculture Extension Service, Raleigh for Circular No. 342 on pecans, or obtain a copy from your county agent.

THINGS WORTH LEARNING

Learn to attend to your own business. That is probably more than you can do well.

Learn never to meddle. Meddlers often get hurt but never paid.

Learn to speak briefly. Let others do most of the talking.

To Please a Ghost

The story goes that if you put a lighted candle in your window on Halloween you can keep the spooks away. But our suggestion would be to invite little witches and sheeted ghosts to enjoy this luscious, mouth-drooling pie in the guise of a pumpkin. It's an Orange Parfait Pie topped with chocolate... made with the ease of all parfait pies... and sure to satisfy stay-at-homes as well as wandering goblins.

Punkin'-face Pie
1 package orange-flavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups hot orange juice
1 pint vanilla ice cream
1 baked 8-inch pie shell, cooled

Chocolate Topping
Dissolve gelatin in hot orange juice in 2-quart saucepan. Add ice cream by spoonfuls, stirring until melted. Then chill until thickened but not set (30 to 40 minutes). Turn into pie shell reserving about 2 tablespoons for top. Chill until firm (15 to 20 minutes). Before serving, spread Chocolate Topping over pie to resemble a pumpkin. Make eyes, nose, and mouth with the reserved orange filling.

*Use fresh orange juice or reconstituted quick-frozen orange juice.
Chocolate Topping. Cream 6 tablespoons butter. Then add 6 tablespoons confectioners' sugar gradually, blending well. Add 1/4 square unsweetened chocolate, melted, and 1 unbeaten egg yolk. Mix thoroughly and spread on chilled pie as directed.

Harry Truman Has Taxed Us

$310 Billion in 7 Years

$65 Billion MORE Than All Preceding Presidents Put Together Including F. D. R.

High-Tax Harry may be dwarfed by the stature of previous presidents—but his merry tax collectors have raised a monument to Insatiable Greed that tops anything ever known to Americans.

If you'd like to know what this $310 billion means to you as, say, a married person with 2 children, here's the score:

If you earned $2,000 in 1940, you need $4,165 today to "have it so good" after swollen taxes and attendant inflation!
$3,000 earnings in 1940 matched $6,595

today—and if you earned $4,000 then, you need $9,010 now, to be as good a breadwinner!

So it's not your fault if you have to scramble like mad to make both ends meet.

But it is your fault if you let this continue. It is your fault if you believe the Tax-and-Spend Boys will ever reform.

Come Election Day, you'll have your last chance in 4 long years to keep a fairer share of your earnings. Don't miss that chance.
