

Thirty mechanical action pickers have been purchased in North Carolina during the past two harvesting seasons.

DHIA tested cows returned an average of $197 more profit to their owners in 1951 than did cows not under the testing program.

Council Lists Job Openings

The North Carolina Merit System Council today announced job openings for Cherokee County applicants in five state departments and commissions.

Clerical examinations will be given by the council on Saturday, Dec. 6. The exams will be for typists, stenographers and general clerks.

Jobs are with the Medical Care Commission, state and local health departments, Employment Security Commission, State Commission for the Blind, and state and county welfare departments.

Applications must be on the official forms obtainable from the Merit System office in Raleigh or at the local Employment office.

Closing date for accepting applications is Tuesday, Nov. 18.

Output of all meal in 1952 may rise to the 1947 peacetime high.
