Third Of Polio Quota Collected In County

Cherokee County has contributed about a third of its $3,500 goal in the 1953 March of Dimes campaign, County Chairman John Gill said today.

With the march ending January 31, county citizens have given just a little over $1,000, Mr. Gill pointed out.

Meanwhile, the Murphy town® basketball squad will have a benefit game tonight in the gym with the Cherokee Indians, All proceeds from the game will go to the polio drive, Mr. Gill said. Saturday night, the junior class at the Murphy High School will sponsor a square dance in the gym with receipts going to the drive. Saturday night, Jan. 31, more money will come from a square dance when the Murphy Civitan Club sponsors a dance in the gym. The day before the Civitan dance, a square dance will be held at Hiwassee Dam. The care of an unprecedented number of polio victims and the speedy development of a preventive against the disease depend "- upon a record 1953 March of Dimes, Mr. Gill declared.

More than 55,000 children and adults were victim of polio in 1952, he said. 'Entire families were stricken, as many as six brothers and sisters entering hospitals only days apart. In one tragic instance,, eleven Iowa children, all from one family, died of bulbar polio in Milwaukee.

EMERGENCY NOT OVER

'Now the 1952 epidemic is over. But the emergency is not,' Mr. Gill went on "There are some 58,-4, who was stricker is randy borono, September, 1951, and still receives treatment. It is not unusual for such cases to Civitans To Stage cost as much as $20,000 in one Square Dance For year.'

Mr. Gill reported that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has spent $148,-000,000 in meeting the cost of patient care during the past fifteen years, in addition to $18,-000,000 invested in scientific research aimed primarily at finding a preventive for paralytic polio.

He stressed that completing rescarch now in progress is the great hope for stopping polio's yearly

CLOSE TO VICTORY

The American people,' he said, 'assumed responsibility for knocking out this dreadful disease fifteen years ago. A successful 1953 March of Dimes would be a vital step forward in discharging this pledge. We are too close to final victory now for us to let down.

Let's hasten polio's end by giving giving generously to the March of Dimes."

Chinese Chestnuts In Marble

At his home in Marble, Forrest Abernathy is enjoying a hobby handed down to him by his father -the growing of Chinese Blight Resistant Chestnuts.

And the shiny hard nuts (they look something like "buckeyes"), Abernathy says, are said to be "the best chestnut you can grow now."

The chestnuts are medium sized trees, planted in rows aback of Abernathy's store. He has 45 grown trees which are about 20 years old having been bought by Mr. Abernathy's father and Lawver Jack Dillard.

Today the young Abernathy grows for sale not only the nuts themselves, but young trees. He said that the time to plant the little trees is from December to the middle of January. The Wildlife Commission re-
