enjoyed the inaugural via television. We enjoyed a TV luncheon round at Edith and Roy Fuller's (though Roy wasn't able to be there). Others there were Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Byrum, Ruth Cheney and daughter, Judy Nichols and Mrs. H. Bueck, and later on Mr. Bueck for a minute and Bob and Mrs. Willard Cooper. Cheney.

I didn't see any of the views from the inaugural balls, but would have enjoyed seeing Mamie and PAT NIXON in their frocks. From a newspaper picture Mamie's pink chiffon gown, decorated with 3,000 rhinestones and designed by Nettie Rosenstein looked dazzling, however.

JUDY NICHOLS, an admirer of the pretty new vice-president's wife, Mrs. Nixon, said the latter was to wear an aquamarine ball gown fitted to just below the knees and then flaring out into a full skirt.

Edith served sandwiches, hors d'oevres, coffee, ice cream and cake and some perfectly delicious Moravian coekies contributed by Mrs. Byrum.

MARY WINTERS (Mrs. Rhett Y.) viewed the inaugural at the BRYAN WHITFIELDS where a family group was gathered. And, I understand ADIR ARON-
