WHAT IS GRADE A MILK
Second of Two Parts

The first of this explanation of Grade A Milk told how the quality of Coble Milk is supervised on the farm. When the milk leaves the Grade A farms it is hauled in refrigerated trucks to our plant. To keep up the Grade A standard, Coble's plant passed examinations by Federal, State, Local, Army, Navy and Air Force Health officials.

All employees and machinery in the Coble Plant are geared to constant sanitation.

For example, a flow diversion valve on the Short Time Pasteurizer automatically flows milk back to raw product if the temperature drops below the degree that milk is safely pasteurized.

When Coble's Grade A Milk leaves the plant it is delivered to your door in clean refrigerated trucks. Your Coble's Grade A Milks is supervised from the cow to the table.
