KNOW WHAT?

Know what to do if a car suddenly appears traveling from the opposite direction and heads toward you on the wrong side of the road? This situation occurs in about nine out of every 100 fatal accidents. If it should happen to you, prompt and correct action can prevent a collision. Obviously, says the Institute For Safer Living, you should act fast and pull to the side of the road, but first of all remember to blow your horn to alert the other driver's lagging attention.

18 Baptist Churches Set Enlargement Campaign

Eighteen churches will take part in a Rural Church Enlargement Revival in Western North Carolina Association August 4-12, according to announcement made by the Rev. Gordon E. Scruggs, Associational Missionary.

The 18 churches participating in clude 12 in Cherokee County, five in Clay and one in Graham. Through the Rural Church Enlargement Revivals each church expects to strengthen every area of its local program.

This campaign is promoted by Dr. Henry E. Walden, Jr., of Raleigh, Secretary of the Rural Church Department of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention and is co-ordinated by Rev. Gordon E. Scruggs of Murphy, Associational Missionary for Western North Carolina Baptists.

Visiting preachers and local pastors will be guests of Rev. John C. Corbitt, pastor, and First Baptist Church, Andrews, at 5:30 p. m. on Thursday, August 4, to begin the program.

An opening rally meeting for the members of all the churches taking part in the Revivals will be held on Friday at 7:45 p. m. The Rev. A. E. Lovell, pastor, and the other members of Marble Springs Baptist Church of Marble will be hosts for this meeting. The purpose and plans for the eight-day program in the churches will be explained through discussions and demonstrations. The campaign director will bring a message on the theme for the week.

Meetings in most of the local churches will begin with a prayer service on Saturday night, August 6. Worship services will be held in each church on Sunday morning at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. on Sunday, August 7, and each night, Monday through Friday, August 8-12, under the leadership of the host pastor and visiting preacher at 7:30 p. m. unless otherwise announced by the church.

Preliminary reports on progress made in each church will be given by visiting workers at the work conference at 2:00 p. m. on Monday, August 8.

The Rev. Lester Stowe will be host pastor for this meeting of pastors and visiting preachers at the Peachtree Memorial Baptist Church.

A final rally meeting for all members and friends of the co-operating churches will be held on Thursday, August 11, at 2:00 p. m. at the Truett Memorial Baptist Church of Hayesville, Rev. John A. Grant, pastor.

Each church is expected to give a report on what has been accomplished to date and what is planned for the future. Pictures will be made of the largest group attending from any one church on the basis of membership and distance traveled to this meeting.

This type of program in 212 churches in 14 of the 73 associations in the North Carolina Baptist State Convention during the past six and a half years has greatly strengthened the participating churches. Immediate results are expected in each of the 18 churches cooperating in the Western North Carolina Rural Church enlargement Revivals, especially in the areas of teaching, training, stewardship, missions, and evangelism.

It is hoped also that long-range results will be achieved by each church through plans which the members will make as a result of this program.

Mr. Scruggs and the pastors of the cooperating churches invite members of these churches, members of other churches, and any interested friends to attend any or all of the services in any of the 18 churches.

Visiting ministers have been invited to serve during the revivals in the following churches: Andrews, First, Rev. Oren Bradley, Stovall; Boiling Springs, Rev. A. G. Brooks, Forest City; Hanging Dog, Rev. T. B. Deese, Monganton; Little Brasstown, Rev. W. J. Edwards, Oxford; Maltby, Rev. Joe Stanley, Leland; Marble Springs, Rev. Oliver C. Price, Glen Alpine; Meadow Grove, Rev. E. C. Wilkie, Burlington; Moccasin Creek, Rev. Frank Robinson; Mountain View, Rev. E. C. Watson, Jr., Stedman; Mt. Pisgah, Rev. Robert Trexler, Concord; Mt. Pleasant, Rev. Malvin C. Swicegood, Bakersville; Murphy, Second Rev. J. H. Mauney, Burgaw; Peachtree Memorial, Rev. Ralph Carpenter, Mount Holly; Pine Log, Rev. Henry Powell, Rutherfordton; Topton, Rev. Proctor A. Smith, Raleigh; Truett Memorial, Rev. Roy V. Young, Winston-Salem; Upper Peachtree, Rev. Henry Morgan, Chapel Hill; and Old Mother, Rev. W. C. Francis, Kannapolis.

Quick Chocolate Soda Makes A Party

Summer's easiest Soda is quick to make at home. The set-up is simple. Quick cocoa powder that mixes instantly in milk with the mere stirring of a spoon. Some ice cream. Some bottled sparkling water; or any favorite carbonated beverage. It takes but a twinkle to put these ingredients together, and then you're ready for a party. No beating of ingredients is necessary because quick cocoa powder is an instant product.

It's a happy "extra" that these Quick Chocolate Sodas are good for you. They are made with nourishing milk and ice cream, and even the quick cocoa powder makes an important nutritional addition to the drink. Each serving of this instant powder contains vitamin D's equal to one-half the minimum daily requirements. The other contribution made by quick cocoa powder is a deliciously light, chocolate flavor that is particularly pleasant in hot weather.

Quick Chocolate Soda

3 heaping teaspoons quick cocoa powder
Small amount of milk
1 scoop vanilla ice cream
Chilled sparkling water, or any favorite carbonated beverage such as cream soda, root beer, ginger ale or cola beverage
Combine quick cocoa powder and milk in a tall glass. Add vanilla ice cream. Fill slowly with chilled sparkling water or other carbonated beverage.
YIELD: 1 soda.
