Two Sentenced After Superior Court Hearings

The November term of Cherokee County Superior Court was expected to end yesterday afternoon after some 50 cases had been called. Judge Dan K. Moore presided.

Willard Rogers and Glenn Roy Dyer were the only two defendants drawing prison sentences up to yesterday morning, according to records in the office of the clerk of the court.

Rogers, facing two charges of violation of the prohibition law, pled not guilty to both accounts. On the first charge, Rogers received a jail sentence of eight months with work on the roads.

In the second charge he received a 12 months sentence, suspended for three years, after he was referred to Recorder's Court.

Andrews Beats Murphy In Final Football Battle

By AHS Journalism Class
The Andrews Wildcats romped to a 19-7 victory over the Murphy Bulldogs Friday night before a large homecoming crowd. The non-conference tilt ended the 1955 season for the Cherokee county grid teams, with Andrews tying Swain in the conference top spot.

The 'Cats went into the scoring column early in the first period on an 82-yard sustained march. Fullback Dwain Winfrey set up the score with a 36-yard run. Jimmy Holland carried over from two yards out for the score and then added the extra point from placement.

The second period was a more or less defensive battle. A Bulldog drive faded out on the Andrews 18, while the Wildcats reached the Murphy four before losing possession of the ball.

Bobby O'Dell scored for Murphy in the third period after the Bulldogs had driven from the midfield stripe to the Andrews five. Bert Moore ran the extra point to knot the count 7-7 going into the final frame.

Ministers Ask Christian Theme For Christmas

The Rev. J. Alton Morris was elected president; the Rev. J. Edwin Carter, vice president; and the Rev. William L. Russell, secretary-treasurer, at the meeting of the Cherokee County Ministerial Association luncheon Monday in Andrews at the Shell Dining Room.

The group went on record in favor of "urging commercial firms in Murphy and Andrews to emphasize in the Christmas parades in the respective towns, the theme of keeping Christ in Christmas".

This resolution came in an attempt to offset the paganism and secularism and economic exploitation so frequently associated with this Christian observance, a spokesman said.

The Rev. A. L. Maxwell of Murphy suggested the possibility of extending the community church attendance emphasis program in the spring to be county-wide.

The group further discussed possibility of establishing a United Appeal to coordinate the various fund-raising campaigns of the social service groups in each community. This project was brought up by the Rev. Robert Potter in Murphy.

The ministers decided the united fund was a community matter and the five Murphy ministers were appointed to investigate organization of the united drive.

Hugh Colvard, 16 Dies In Accident

Funeral services for Hugh A. Colvard, 18, of Robbinsville, who suffered fatal injuries Sunday night in an automobile collision eight miles west of Asheboro, were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in Robbinsville Baptist Church.

The Rev. Joel L. Orr and the Rev. Frank Cook officiated and burial was in the Old Mother church cemetery.

Active pallbearers were Jimmy Sharpe, Bobby Howell, Jack Brown Wiggins, Johnny Colvard, Charles Massey, Nova Odum, Walter Denton, and Ottis Estes.

Colvard, a freshman at North Carolina State College in Raleigh, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colvard, died shortly before midnight en route to a hospital.

A member of the State College band, young Colvard was reported to have been returning to the college at the time of the collision. He was alone.

He was a member of the Robbinsville Baptist Church and a graduate of Robbinsville High School, where he was captain of the school band and a member of the basketball team.

Surviving, in addition to the parents, are one sister, Miss Ann Colvard of Oak Ridge, Tenn.; the maternal grandmother, Mrs. D. B. Wright, and the paternal grandfather, A. H. Colvard of Robbinsville.

Ivie Funeral Home was in charge.

The family requested that flowers be omitted and that contributions be made instead to the Robbinsville High School Band.
