CHRISTMAS FANCIES

THE FUN OF HELPING TO PREPARE COOKIES, cutting them into Christmas shape and finally decorating them with gaily colored sugars and candies, is a Christmas tradition. Here is a recipe for crisp, delicious cookies, thanks to the Corn Flakes ingredient. Even youngsters can cut them easily into shapes.

CORN FLAKES CHRISTMAS FANCIES

3 1/2 cups sifted flour	1 cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder	1/2 cup water
3/4 teaspoon salt	2 cups Kellogg's Corn Flakes
1 cup butter or margarine	light corn syrup
	decorative candies—colored sugar

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Blend butter and sugar. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with water. Crush Corn Flakes into fine crumbs. Stir into cookie dough; mix thoroughly. Chill.

Roll chilled dough out on lightly floured board to 1/4-inch in thickness. Cut with floured Christmas cookie cutters. Place on greased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 10 minutes. Remove from oven; cool. Brush with corn syrup, then decorate with candies and colored sugar.

Yields about 5 dozen cookies. (ANS)

GARDEN TIME

BY ROBERT SCHMIDT

This is the nut season and we receive many requests for information about pecans — especially varieties to plant and when to plant. Everybody wants "pappershell" varieties. The term "pappershell" only denotes an improved variety and not necessarily a very thin shell. For example, the Stuart, one of our best commercial varieties, has a fairly thick shell.

The pecan tree is ornamental as well as fruitful. It makes a wonderful shade tree for either the front or back yard. Since the pecan is pollinated by the wind it is better to have more than one tree and it might help to have more than one variety but it is not necessary. A single tree will produce good crops of nuts. When more than one tree is planted, they should be spaced at least 60 feet apart.

For the eastern portion of the state we recommend the Stuart and Cape Fear varieties. They are quite resistant to pecan scab disease. Also, they are vigorous growers. For the central portion of the state we recommend the Stuart variety. In the mountains only northern varieties should be planted.

Pecan trees may be set out from late November until growth starts in the spring. Trees four to six feet in height are best. Larger trees are more expensive and more difficult to make grow and do not necessarily make a better tree.

During the planting operation do not let the roots dry out. Also, water the tree after it is planted. If planted during the late fall or early winter no further watering will be necessary. Trees that are not taller than 6 feet will require no cutting back at planting time.
