Hungary And The Sad Plight Of A Long Orphaned People

side. Hemmed in by a ring of greedy non-Magyar states that enlarged at the expense of Hungary, and capped from above by oppressive and stagnant communism, the Magyar pride felt outraged.

Once self-convinced of his moral cause, his belief in his cause impelled the Hungarian to act, win or lose. He blew the ill-fitting Slavic communist lid off, the only honorable way out for Hungary. Honor, however, never comes cheaply or surreptitiously.

What can the United States and other sympathetic nations do? Perhaps a thorough study of the history, geography, and aspirations of the peoples living in the Carpathian Basin would enable us and other nations to derive a long-lasting, just, and less costly adjustment in this, the richest yet the saddest basin of Europe. Hungary has often asked for understanding, but never for charity.

Mrs. Robert Porter

Mrs. Robert Porter former resident of Andrews died Friday January 11 at the home of her son Eugene Porter in Humble, Texas. Funeral services were held Sunday according to a message received here by Mrs. H. H. Enloe, a niece.

In addition to the son Mrs. Porter is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jenny Lou Houston, of Pasadena, Texas. Mrs. Porter's husband died a few years ago.

The Porters moved to Texas about 25 years ago Mr. Porter was a native of Andrews and Mrs. Porter was born in Alabama.

Speaking Cards

THAT'S THE JOKER!

America has contributed relatively few additions to the familiar pack of playing cards but one that is strictly American is the joker. This high trump card, with an extra card furnished with the standard pack of 52 cards, is unheard of in early French decks and very few English packs carry it.

Whatever its origins were, the joker first appeared in an American deck of playing cards around 1850. At that time, Euchre was the most popular American card game. In playing Euchre, the knaves (jacks) of the trump suit and the other suit of the same color were called "bowers" and the joker or "best bower" was the highest card of all.

Despite its apparent American origin, some card authorities maintain that the present day joker traces all the way back to a 16th Century Italian game called Tarot. Now used primarily in the Mediterranean region for fortune telling, the Tarot deck contains not 52 but 78 cards. Fifty-two of the Tarot cards correspond to our regular deck but each Tarot suit contains an additional Knave (or Jack) which brings the total to 56. In addition to these four 14-card suits there are 22 special cards called Atouts.

The Atouts were originally numbered from one to twenty-one and each bore a descriptive name, usually in French or Italian, and a full length illustration showing various conditions and situations affecting mankind. Included among these are Le Diable (The Devil), La Mort (Death), Les Amoureux (The Lovers), and La Roue de Fortune (The Wheel of Fortune). One of the Atouts, Le Met (The Clown or Buffoon), was unnumbered and ranked highest in the deck. Historians say it was probably the forerunner of our present day joker.

Although it is not used at all in playing Bridge, the joker has gained increased importance in recent years with the popularity of Canasta (where not one but four jokers are used) and some of Canasta's variations particularly Samba (which uses six jokers).

Because of the villainy worked by the joker in many card games, including Poker, modern card players look upon the joker as a line descendant of the Tarot Devil, rather than the Tarot Clown.

Are you as wise
today
as you were in '47?

Every Savings Bond you paid $75 for 10 years ago

Is worth $100 today... will be worth $134.68 in 10 years more.

Part of every American's savings belongs in U. S. Savings Bonds

If you hold U. S. Series E Savings Bonds that mature this month you can give yourself a pat on the back for the wise buy you made. For every three dollars you invested in 1947, you have four dollars now. (And, had you spent that money 10 years ago, chances are whatever you bought would have been long since worn out.)

Today you can be even smarter. All you do is just hold onto those Bonds. Keep them for another ten years and you'll get $1.80 for every dollar you put into them. For example, a Bond you bought for $37.50 will pay you back $67.34! And the best part of it is you don't have to do anything but keep your Bonds. No papers to sign. Not even a visit to the bank is necessary.

Remember this, too! Savings Bonds are one of the safest investments you can make. Your principal is guaranteed safe up to any amount—and your rate of interest is guaranteed sure — by the United States Government.

So keep the Savings Bonds you have now and add to them either through Payroll Savings or by buying Bonds where you regularly bank.

Period After Maturity Date	Redemption Values During Each Year
1/2 to 1 year	$101.50
1 1/2 to 2 years	104.50
2 1/2 to 3 years	107.50
3 1/2 to 4 years	110.50
4 1/2 to 5 years	114.00
5 1/2 to 6 years	117.50
6 1/2 to 7 years	121.50
7 1/2 to 8 years	124.50
8 1/2 to 9 years	128.50
9 1/2 to 10 years	132.60
Extended maturity value (10 years from original maturity date)	134.68
