Teen Scene

By Betty Weaver

The weather played a major part in the life of teen-agers at Murphy High last week. Attendance for the Murphy-Hiwassee Dam game was less than any other home game of this season. Some of the near-by roads were submerged. In fact, the Valley River rose higher than it had risen in many years.

On Thursday the school dismissed classes at 2 o'clock because high water made roads between school and some student's homes dangerous to travel. For the same reason school attendance on Friday was low.

ASSEMBLY

The high school was given a musical treat by some of its members during assembly Monday, January 28. Sue Miller and Ann Gladson sang a duet, "Blue Hours." Ann played the piano accompaniment, while they sang. Wanda West, played the piano and sang "Hound Dog". Later in the program she also played Pinetop Smith's "Original Boogie." Kathleen and Dorothy Roberts sang a number of popular tunes, among them "The Banana Boat Song," "The Hound Dog," "Don't Be Cruel," "Young Love," "Searching," "You're The Reason I'm In Love," "Singing the Blues," "Blue Suede Shoes," "Heart Break Hotel," "When My Blue Moon Turns to Gold Again", and "Rock-a-bye Boogie."

Farmers Can Use ACP Practices in Soil Bank Land

Farmers can receive cost-share assistance through the Agricultural Conservation Program for performing ACP practices on their land while it is in the Soil Bank. A. J. Barton, chairman of the Cherokee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, pointed out this week.

Applications are now being received for the 1957 ACP at the Cherokee County ASC office, located at the Courthouse. All farmers are invited to participate and all applications will receive equal consideration, Mr. Barton emphasized. Requests for Federal Conservation cost-sharing must be filed with the County Committee before any practice is started. The Federal Allocation to Cherokee County for cost-sharing under the 1957 ACP is $34,963.00. Under the 1956 program, farmers in this county received $44,737.00. Nine ACP practices have been approved for this year.

Any ACP practice is eligible for approval on land in Acreage Reserve of the Soil Bank but Soil Bank provisions of no grazing and no harvesting must be met.

Any ACP practice for which cost-sharing is not authorized under the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank, may also be carried out on Conservation Reserve Land and is eligible for approval for cost sharing under the ACP, chairman Barton explained.

Conservation Reserve cost-sharing practices for this County are: 1. Seeding Permanent Pastures or Hay; 2. Seeding Hay Crop in Crop Rotation; 3. Liming Materials on Pastures; 4. Contour Stripcropping Specifications; 5. Forest Tree Planting; 6. Permanent Pasture or Hay Improvement; 11. Permanent Open Ditch Drainage Specifications; 12. Tile Drainage Specifications; 14. Winter Cover Crops.

"We feel that these programs offer a real opportunity to strengthen CHEROKEE County's agriculture," Mr. Barton said. "We urge all farmers to come in and discuss them with the county ASC office staff or any of the County or Community Committee men."
