

ANDREWS WILDCATS CLAW OUT 14-12 WIN OVER SWAIN CO. HIGH

Andrews Wildcats clawed over the Swain Maroon Devils Friday night 14-12 to chalk up another game in the win column.

The contest was staged at Bryson City.

Outweighed by 20 pounds per man, the Wildcats completely dominated the play in the first quarter as they drove deep into Swain's territory. Led by the Postell brothers running at half back and the hard driving Hubert Meyers at full-back, Andrews drove down to Swain's 1 yard line where the Maroon Devils threw up a staunch defense to stop the Wildcats.

L. D. Hyde, Swain's quarterback constantly punted Swain out of danger with long high trouncing kicks. The Andrews team kept digging out the short yardage and Terry Postell slammed through tackle from 6 yards out for the first touchdown. The extra point was added by Hubert Meyers who bulled his way through for the 2 yards. Bryson City took the kick-off immediately began a drive that carried to Andrews 29 yard line.

Cope took the handoff and drove off tackle to score for Swain. The extra point was missed by Bill Randall.

The Wildcats came back again with a drive as they moved the ball up to their own 47 yard line. It was here again that Andrews great little halfback Terry Postell took a handoff and swept wide around end and behind terrific downfield blocking went 53 yards for a touchdown. However an official had a flag down on the 15 yard line that nullified the score.

Andrews led at the half 7-6. The 3rd quarter developed into a defensive battle as both teams could not get their offenses rolling. As the 4th quarter began Andrews started on another drive to move the ball down to Swain's 44 yard line. Here again Postell took a handoff and knifed into the end zone for the touchdown. The extra point was added as Olin Postell crashed off tackle.

Bryson City came back on another drive and Corbin took a short pass from 6 yards out for the score. Brendell missed the try for the extra point. Terry Postell took the next kickoff and the elusive little halfback returned it for 51 yards. Swain stopped the Wildcats on their own 32 yard line. Then with only 2 minutes remaining they filled the air with desperation passes.

Hubert Meyers made a circus catch as he intercepted a pass on the 15 yard line as the game ended.

Terry Postell Andrews 120 pounds halfback who is very small but plays a very big game of football was again the workhorse in the backfield as he carried the ball 22 times and averaged 4.3 yards per carry.

Archie Meyers and Steve Higdon continued to move the larger Swain tackles out to open up huge holes in the line where the Andrews backs fired into.

Defensively the Wildcats did a tremendous job as they completely bottled up Bryson City attacks. Gerald Curtis, Andrews rugged end, would not let the Maroon Devils get by as he continuously spilled the runner.

Andrews 140 pounds line backer Harold Murphy, a fierce tackler, did a very good job backing up the line. Also James Franklin, Sonny Bush, Scotty Hardin played a terrific game up front where most games are won or lost.

Next week the Cherokee Indians will come to Andrews for a game beginning at 8 p. m.

Forest Association To Hold Convention

The North Carolina Forestry Association has announced the program for its annual convention here at the Battery Park Hotel on Friday and Saturday of next week October 11-12.

Registration will begin Friday afternoon and the Association's acting president, Carl J. Blades of Charlotte, said motor tours of the scenic Asheville area are scheduled for Saturday morning. These include visits to Mt. Pisgah, Mt. Mitchell and Biltmore House.

Association members, wives and guests Saturday afternoon will be invited on a field trip by bus to the Bent Creek Experimental Area of Pisgah National Forest, Blades said. This trip will include stops at five major points of interest.

C. S. Reed of Charlotte, vice president of Duke Power Company, will speak at the Association's annual banquet on Saturday night. Reed will trace the progress and growth of the Piedmont Carolinas. The recipient of the Association's "Outstanding Forester of the Year" award will be announced at the Saturday night function.

The North Carolina Forestry Association is composed of 575 representatives from all fields of forestry, the State's third ranking industry.

Lieut Walker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Walker of Savannah, Ga. and former residents of Andrews.

Good Woodland Makes Poor Pasture

The old saying "You can't have your cake and eat it too" applies to many farming practices. But farmers with woodland should especially bear this little bit of philosophy in mind when they graze cattle in their woodland.

John H. Gilliam, district forester for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, says that woodland simply cannot produce a good crop of timber and a healthy herd of livestock at the same time. One or the other is bound to suffer.

One reason for this is that livestock can cause heavy damage by trampling young trees. When surface roots are trampled and young trees are broken or damaged, insects and disease will attack, taking a greater toll. Since cattle will usually eat the best seedlings in an area because of their fast growth and succulent leaves, you'll lose the most desirable species. This lowers the value of the woodland and any future returns.

Another disadvantage to grazing woodland is that in heavily pastured hardwood stands soil is usually packed so hard that rains run off quickly and air is shut off from the roots, causing death or at least a slowing up in annual growth.

Actually, good woodland usually makes poor pasture, according to Gilliam. An acre of good pasture will feed as many heads of livestock as 10 to 50 acres of woodland. Gilliam explains that grass grown in shade has much less food value than grass grown in full sunlight.

Gilliam says that many farmers would profit greatly by fencing cattle out of their woodland. It might be necessary for the farmer to clear a few acres of woodland for additional pasture and fence off a corner of the woodland for shade but it would be well worth his efforts.

Old Book Turns Up At Home Of Former Student

A former Murphy High School student likes to keep the record straight.

School Librarian Mrs. J. W. Davidson has received the following letter.

"While going through some books at home I found a book which belongs to the school library.

"To the best of my memory I carried the book out of the library with my textbooks and took it home with me. It got misplaced and I forgot about it.

"I do not think you would want it back in its present condition so enclosed you will find what I estimated to be the worth of it - $2".

The letter was signed: Sincerely yours, A former student.

Mrs. Davidson said it is believed the book had been missing since 1954.

Mrs. Pearl Hunsucker who has been a patient at Protestant Hospital for several days has recovered and is now at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Elkins and daughter, Karen left Wednesday for their home in Cresskill, N. J. after a visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Elkins.
