QUESTION: Is chemical treatment for small grain really worth the trouble?

ANSWER: Undoubtedly. It prevents stinking smut of wheat, loose and covered smut of oats, covered and black smut of barley, and the seed-borne stripe disease of barley. Treatment also helps to minimize losses from scab of wheat and barley and from seedling blights and seed rots of wheat, oats, rye and barley. But chemical seed treatment will not control brown smut of barley and loose smut of wheat.

Your dahlias will need some attention as soon as frost kills the plant in Eastern Carolina they may be left in the ground until spring, provided your soil is well drained. If the roots are left in the ground, the stalks should be cut off at ground level and covered with about six inches of pine needles or some similar material.

Probably the safest plan is to dig the root clumps and store them in a root cellar, or basement, where the temperature does not go below freezing or much above 50 degrees. Be sure that you can maintain these temperature ranges before you decide to dig and store.

When preparing for storage, cut the stalks back and carefully loosen the soil around the clumps. Then sink your fork deep enough under the clumps so they can be lifted without damage. Shake the soil from the roots and protect the necks.

In the storage compartment the roots may be placed in suitable containers which have been lined with paper. Peat moss, vermiculite or sawdust may be used. Peat is probably the best material as it gives good protection and can be purchased in small or large quantities from your local seedman or nurseryman. Regardless of what material you choose, place a layer on the bottom of the container. Place the roots in position and cover.

If you saved poinsettia plants from last Christmas you probably remembered to bring them inside before the weather became too unfavorable. This is to remind you that this is a short day plant and will not bloom if exposed to more than approximately twelve hours of light during November and December. For this reason they should be located in the house where the twelve hours of light can be reasonably maintained and where the temperature can be held about 70 degrees. It is sure to fluctuate some so let's be practical and try to maintain optimum conditions as best we can.

My wife and I made our annual pilgrimage to the mountains the week-end of October 13 to see the trees in all of their colorful beauty. Traveled the Parkway from Fancy Gap, Virginia to Jefferson.

QUESTION: How early should I order pine seedlings for fall planting?

ANSWER: Order them now; they will be sent to you shortly before planting time. The supply of certain varieties of pine will be short again this fall, according to state forest nurseries. This is particularly true of white pine, slash pine and red cedar seedlings. Orders received before October 15 are relatively sure of being filled. On that date the nurseries will start filling orders for 25,000 or less. If, after filling these orders, the supply is limited the nurseries will start filling the larger orders on a proportionate reduction basis in keeping with the supply.

Crying on the Inside

By Linda Greene

Most everyone has had quite a bit of physical pain. We have all cried at sometime. We do not understand why, but crying, or telling someone what's bothering us, releases tension.

It's so relieving to have a "shoulder" to cry on, and have a friend who understands the reason for your tears and emotion, but there are times when no friend on earth can help. There are times when you are "crying on the inside".

It's a horrible feeling. Maybe a guilty conscience. Maybe you know you have hurt someone or have been "dirty" to someone. No one knows but you. But, isn't that enough? When you know what is right and wrong but do otherwise, you know God knows, and so you feel more guilty than if someone else knew.

Let's go back to that "dirty" trick you pulled. Did you actually think you could get by with it? Don't you know that everything backfires? Your Savior intended it to be that way. He knows that your "crying on the inside", opens the gates to your heart.

Things are harder if you intentionally hurt someone. Christ said, "As ye have done it into the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Surely no one would intentionally hurt the Savior. When you hurt some one else, you hurt the Savior. Then is when He intervenes, so now you are "crying on the inside."

Though you are "crying on the inside", you can't conceal it. You are crushed with the realization that someone else is crying too. It tells on you! It isn't hidden! Crying on the inside can not be concealed any more than joy, happiness, loving someone or confessing sorrow. Until you cry on the out-

Christmas Club Funds Go Over Billion Dollars For Sixth Year

"Hike in savings will help our economy" said Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club Corporation, who has announced that 13,070,000 Americans have saved $1,225,000,000 in the 1957 Christmas Club.

This is the sixth consecutive year that the annual disbursement has exceeded a billion dollars. Seven thousand banks and savings institutions will participate in the 1957 distribution to Christmas Club members throughout the nation!

"Increased savings of our people and a cut in our national debt would go far to ease 'tight money'" said Dorset. "As these savings are made available to meet demands for local and national expansions as well as expansion of new business and equipment, they will provide the resources for stable economic growth."

"We must not underestimate the thrift habits of the American people" said Mr. Dorset.

The 1957 payoff is the largest in the history of the Club and represents an increase over 1956 of thirty seven million dollars (3.1%) with two hundred and seventy thousand more members. The average check this year amounts to $93.73 for each member. Of the 7,000 institutions, 159 had clubs in excess of $1,000,000 each.

As in past year, New York leads with 2,687,000 members and $261,649,000 followed by Pennsylvania with 2,096,000 members and $194,389,000 and then New Jersey with 1,179,000 members with $144,751,000.

The rapid growth of Christmas Club on the Pacific Coast has put California in fourth place with 1,080,000 members and $112,866,000. Surveys made by Christmas Club a Corporation indicate that while the entire One Billion, Two Hundred and Twenty Five Million dollars will not go into retail channels, all of it will help boost the nation's economy.

Here is the forecast of how it will be used: Christmas purchases, $303,800,000; permanent savings, $372,000,000; year end bills, $68,600,000; insurance premiums, $126,175,000; Taxes, $116,375,000.

Also Miscellaneous, $42,875,000; mortgage; payments, $82,075,000 education, $31,850,000; purchase of household furnishings, $80,850,000.
