

Teen Scene

By Betty Weaver

The past week has been a very busy one at Murphy High. It was the week of six weeks exams. Everyone was concentrating on passing. Reports cards came out Wednesday and the results were good.

Monday we returned to home-rooms early. There were announcements about the P T A Harvest Sale to be taken home. Also each student was given two forms to be filled out by his parents and returned. This is part of a survey being taken to find out just what the parents think about Murphy High School.

Some of the questions were: "How do you rate the faculty?" "What do you think about the amount of homework being given?" "Do you approve of the courses taught at Murphy High?" "What courses do you think should be added?" "What is your opinion of the emphasis placed on athletics?" "What do you think of the emphasis placed on extra-curricular and social activities?" "What school connected activities such as plays, lectures, or musical events would you attend if offered?" "Would you be interested in adult night courses?" "In what ways do you think the school should be improved?"

The results of this survey will be interesting to all of us. WATCH THE BRIDE
Our school picture came last week. Almost everyone was pleased with his picture. Friends trade with each other. Their collections are often jokingly referred to as the "rogue's gallery". These pictures will also be used in the annual.

The photographer from Hunter Publishing Company was here to take pictures of the clubs, classes, superlatives, etc., for the annual.

BOOMERANG
The first issue of the Boomerang, our school paper came out Friday. It's big scoop was the senior superlatives. Although the balloting was October 28, the results were unknown until Boomerang told them.

Jokes, "Campus Personality", editorials, fashions, clubs, "Hits that Fit", "Shaking the faculty tree", sports, "Orchids and onions and Can you imagine?" as well as news stories and current events composed the first issue.

Editor-in-chief Lois Allison; associate editors are Joan Haney, and Patsy Kaylor. Linda English is feature editor; Betty Weaver, News editor. Mary Helen McAfee is business Mgr. Carolyn Gladson and Nancy Mills are the typists. Nancy Mills are the typists. Reporters are Elizabeth Martin, Judy Davis, Luella Foster, Jean Mull, Patsy Kaylor, Edith Faye Wilcox, Jean Roberts, Alice Jean Palmer, Helen Stiles, and Mary Kephart. Faculty sponsor is Miss Maria Travis, who deserves about 90 per cent of the credit.

SUPERLATIVES
The senior superlatives, a matter of much speculation recently, have finally been announced. They are as follows: Most Popular—Helen Stiles and Jim Hendrix; Best Looking—Claudia Taylor and Burt Birchfield; Friendliest—Linda English and Junior Sneed; Wittiest—Jearlene Stiles and Roger Baugh; Most Courteous—Girleene Taylor and Fred Carder; Most Athletic—Shirley Stiles and John Morris; Most Dependable—Ramona Haggard and Ronnie Brittain; Most Versatile—Kathleen Roberts and Carroll Ledford; Laziest—Betty Thorough and Harry Bishop; Best Dressed—Judy Davis and Frank McSwain; Best All Around—Alice Jean Palmer and Tommy Moore; Most Likely to Succeed—Betty Weaver and Robert Killian.

How accurate are the predictions of the Class of 58 for it's member? Only time will tell.

CLASS OFFICES
The senior class officers were announced several weeks ago in the Teen Scene They were: President, Jim Hendrix, Vice-president, Frank McSwain; secretary, Burt Birchfield, Treasurer, Linda English; and reporter, Max McClure. Since then the juniors and freshmen have elected their class officers.

The Junior officers are: President, John Mulkey; vice-president, Frank Beavers; secretary, Bill McClure; and treasurer, Jane Cook.

Freshmen officers are: President, Jimmy Killian; vice-president, Frank Beavers; secretary and treasurer, Frank Hill; and reporter, Paul Smith.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

The student council sponsored a series of three religious programs on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The programs were conducted by the students themselves and broadcast throughout the school over the intercom during the fourth period. Each senior homeroom was in charge of the program one day. Mrs. Case's homeroom Monday gave a program of thanks built around Psalm 100. Neta Kimbrough and Betty Weaver had the speaking parts. The school chorus sang. Tuesday and Wednesday the service was led by Mr. Palmer's and Mrs. Ray's homeroom groups. 6-6

6-6 was the score between Murphy and Andrews in the final grid-iron tussle of 1957. Now that football is over and Murphy is the Smoky Mountain Conference Champions, we still can't rest on our laurel. Basketball is coming up and there are more trophies to be won. Our first cage encounter is less than a month away.

The new glass backboards were installed in the gym last week. Practice has already begun. Now it's up to us, the fans, to support the basketball teams as wholeheartedly as we did the football team.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Linda Houts was surprised to find her living room full of girls when she came home one night recently. But someone quickly solved the mystery by shouting "Happy Birthday".

The girls enjoyed various games. Refreshments consisted of birthday cake, hot chocolate and jelly beans in the school colors. The table decorations were in the shape of a harvest clown with corresponding decorations on each plate. Everyone had a delightful time.

Happy 15th birthday, Linda, and many happy returns of the day.
