FLYPAPER
On the West Coast not long ago, two women knocked on the door of an ailing woman and offered to help her regain her health. Although they were complete strangers, she brought them in and confided her troubles to them. She was lonely and looked for something to believe in. At the visitors' instructions, she knelt on the floor under a sheet. While one of the women muttered over her and reassured her that she would be cured, her companion searched through her bedroom and stole her savings of $800. Then they left.

This woman made the tragic mistake of putting great faith in the wrong solution. Everyone has faith—even those who deny it—in either the right or the wrong. Those who tend towards evil show an extraordinary faith in error. Thomas More famous chancellor of King Henry VIII who later put him to death, once said, "Faith, fanatic faith, once wedded fast to some dear falsehood, hugs it to the last."

Many souls, faced with truth, hug their error to the last and put the truth aside with the simple excuse, "There are two sides to every question." They forget the subject without further consideration; but they would do well to adopt the wisdom of the fly. There are two sides to a sheet of flypaper, but it makes a great difference to the fly which side he chooses.

serve the water that falls on the land. The Cost of carrying out these conservation practices is considerably greater than the immediate return to the farmer or to the persons to be fed from the land. Conservation is a long-term project, one in which the Government must take a hand to see that conservation is carried out to the extent needed.

Why simmer in summer when you can be your own weather-maker? With electric window air conditioners, it takes only a flick of the switch to produce your own "weather" at home.

Your electric window air conditioners cool and circulate the air at the temperature you like best for comfort. They take out dust and excess moisture to give you perfect "weather" inside no matter how hot it gets outside. They also help to keep your home quieter and cleaner since your windows are closed against outside noise and dirt.

Electric window air conditioners fit snugly into most normal windows, and most of the models now on the market may be placed flush with the inside of the window. Most models also come in attractive decorator colors or unobtrusive neutral tones to blend in with your own particular decorating scheme.

The essential job of all window air conditioners is to cool and clean the air and to remove excess moisture from it. But many models have special added features. On some, directional grilles allow you to direct the flow of air in any direction you like. Also most window air conditioners provide both cooling and ventilation. If the occasion calls for it, you can ventilate a room without cooling it merely by turning on the ventilator.

Many of the newer room air conditioners have a heating unit for use in taking the chill off a room when outside temperatures aren't severe enough to warrant the use of your regular heating equipment. The heat supplied is not sufficient for general heating purposes during the winter months. But it's a handy feature during the late spring and early fall when short-period heating is necessary.

Electric window air conditioners are easy to install since they use only electricity and air. But if you want to be the perfect weathermaker, you'll give each unit you install its own wiring circuit. Add to this insulation, and you're ready to create a comfortable atmosphere in your home at the flick of a switch!

For example, how many Christians believe Jesus has one Church (Mt. 16, 18), that He is always with His Church keeping it from teaching error (Mt. 16, 18; 28, 20), that they belong to that Church; and yet indifferently say, "I don't believe all my Church teaches!"? Again, how many Bible-readers read Matthew 18, 17 on fraternal correction, where Jesus says if a man refuse to hear even the Church, then let him be to thee as the heathen and the publican; and yet smugly claim they can be better than Church-goers without belonging to Jesus's Church?

So many more examples could be given how Christians and non-Christians alike "hug falsehood to the last with fanatic faith" to disguise selfishness, sinfulness, grave neglect. How sad if the fly comes to rest and gets stuck! How sad if we come to rest and are struck by Christ's word, "But why do you call me, 'Lord, Lord,' and not practice the things that I say?" Lk. 6, 46.

RESOLUTION: To do all which my religion proves that Jesus taught; to search for Jesus's one true Church if I have no religion or do not believe what my religion teaches.

PRAYER: Lord, I believe; help my unbelief.

"He that is not with me is against me" (Mt. 12, 30). "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in the clothing of sheep, but inwardly they are ravening wolves." Mt. 7, 15

QUESTION: What is meant by a "harvest glut?"
ANSWER: Traditionally, farmers have sold their products at harvest time for whatever price they would bring. Take small grains for example: When large supplies of grain hit the market prices are forced down because there is more grain at that time than can be readily consumed. This situation is called a market glut.
