Arnold Derreberry's Entertain Wildcat Members

ANDREWS—Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Derreberry and the following members of the Andrews Wildcats were guests for the weekend of Coach Frank Maennle, Mrs. Maennle and children in Tryon: Larry Adams, Jim Bristol, Roy Conley, Junior Griggs, Carl Meyers, a former member of the 1938 Champion team and C. F. Meyers former Wildcat and one of the Smoky Mountain Conference of '54.

Maennle was former coach of the Andrews Wildcats. The group accompanied by the Maennles' attended the game in Shelby Saturday night between Gardner Webb Bulldogs and Lee-McRae where they saw Terry Postell former star of the Andrews Wildcats lead the under dog Lee-McRae Bobcats to a 13-13 tie.

looking for, reports are that it was wonderful sport even without a bear.

The season began on October 15 and the group from here, who left on Sunday, October 18, made up the second hunt of the season in the Santeeelah Reserve. LEON KIMSEY organized the hunt and it was supervised by the State Wildlife Commission.

Some of the men stayed in the JIM HUGHES cabin (the only privately-owned property on the reservation) and others pitched tents nearby. HAROLD HATCHETT, volunteer cook, brought along his trailer full of supplies.

Among the hunters were ELMER TAYLOR, JIM HUGHES, JIM EDY HUGHES, LEON KIMSEY, TONY BALLEW, EVERETT ENGLISH, TED THOMAS, WALLY WILLIAMS, W. A. SINGLETON, BUD BROWN, W. A. HOOVER, JOE RAY, JACK FERGUSON, GLENN BATES, ED HOOPER, PAUL LEDFORD, JOHN SMITH, NOLAND WELLS, TOM TOUTS, DON HUGHES, RAY KILLIAN, FRED KILPATRICK, and CHARLIE JOHNSON, of Andrews.

About the same time three other Murphy men, PAUL RIDENHOUR, CHARLIE HUGHES, and PAUL NAVE were engaged in pulling in 400 fish off the coast at Morehead City.

Their fabulous two-day catch included a sheephead, hooked by PAUL, which was one of the largest ever caught in that area.

The first day they fished off Oceana Pier and the second was spent on a chartered boat, deep-sea fishing. PAUL says the trip was great relaxation for everyone but veteran Marine CHARLIE HUGHES. He became sea-sick after the first three minutes aboard ship and spent the rest of the day in the bunk.

Letter from Raleigh

Another letter from Raleigh might find something of great value. Then if you know any stories of Zeb Vance, our war time governor, please write the down. They are most anxious to get any incidents recorded that might have happened to him in Cherokee County.

Then stories of any other soldiers of the Civil War who might be related to one of you.

The Commission is anxious to preserve these records so what they want will be kept for future generations.

The Commission is anxious to have the graves of any Civil War veterans marked with a suitable stone so if you know of one who is not marked, please let us know.

As soon as other plans are completed, I will tell you of them.

This centennial celebration will last for four years. And we hope each good will be accomplished in many ways. One the study history and second to honor our forefathers who fought the most gallant fight that is recorded in history. It is a national affair headed by General U. S. Grant III I understand South Carolina invited him to come visit there as U. S. Grant, and they would send him back as S. C. Grant.

That is not all I am here for. In the morning I will visit the Highway Department with requests and hope for results.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Cover

CHEROKEE CHATTER

In the stiff competition at the State Fair in Raleigh this month, MRS. BEN WARNER, one of our most talented craftsmen, was the remarkable winner of nine blue ribbons.

MRS. WARNER, who exhibited only 12 articles, won four first prizes in the House Furnishing Department on hand-woven place-mats and towels, and five firsts and one second in the Village of Yesterday division for aluminum and metal work, silk-screening, and stenciled place-mats and towels.

Active in promoting an interest in crafts in this area, she is a member of the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild and the Cherokee County Crafters.

She says she is now in the "pre-primar" class of silk-screening and feels that the County Crafters are most fortunate to have engaged MISS SALLY KESLER of Franklin, one of the foremost silk screenists in the country, as conductor of an all-day workshop on Saturday, Nov. 14.

According to JOE RAY, the bear he glimpsed on the Big Hunt recently was "black as coal and big as a cow" and he's going back after him next year.

JOE was the only member of the group of 26 Cherokee County bear-hunters who saw what they were
