

N.C. Savings Bond Staff Receives Special Award

W. H. Anderson, Jr., U. S. Savings Bonds Volunteer Chairman for the State of North Carolina, announced that the U. S. Treasury had presented the Savings Bonds staff of North Carolina a special award in recognition and appreciation for noteworthy contributions to the effective and efficient operation of the Treasury Department.

These awards were presented at a special ceremony in Washington by James Stiles, National Director, on behalf of Secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson.

The basis for this recognition was North Carolina's staffs and volunteers' outstanding performance in promotional work with all media which contributed greatly to raising the North Carolina standing in sales during 1959. In January, 1959, the State of North Carolina ranked 36th in the nation. As of November 30th, the state had climbed to the 11th ranking position.

In accepting this honor, Walter P. Johnson, State Director, expressed the Savings Bonds staff's appreciation for the many individuals, media banks and businesses whose cooperation made this recognition possible. "The success of the Savings Bonds Program depends almost 100 percent on volunteers. Every fund-

"Most everywhere folks are noticing that there really is extra flavor in JFG Special Coffee. It's there because of a very special blend of select coffee beans. And also, because JFG is so fresh. You see, it's roasted practically next door, so it comes to you fresh as fresh can be.

So have a cup and you'll agree, there's extra flavor in JFG... "the best part of the meal!"

BAGPIPES IN ASIA

Bagpipes probably originated in southwestern Asia. They have been considered distinctive of Scotland since 16th century. Scottish soldiers took them to India in 1784.

Hey Mr. Driver! How Are You Gonna Miss What You Can't See?

On cold mornings you're likely to find frost on the car windows especially if it's been left outside. Scrape off the frost says the Department of Motor Vehicles. Scrape off the windshield, the rear side and back windows before you start out on the road. You must be able to see clearly in all directions. If necessary, take time to pull off the road and wipe off the windshield on other cars traveling on wet duty on or punisher—YOU are insured to understand eternal truth.

And still later, you come to realize that the Bible was written and preserved so that YOU could be the HERO of your own life story, from the cradle to the kingdom of God. This is inspiration.

Moses was inspired. And his experiences were not too different from ours. He was born into a hostile world without his knowledge or consent. He grew up an alien—a Hebrew orphan—so considered among Egyptians. Around him, and in those near to him, there was not one person who he could trust with a secret, or as an unselfish friend. If any of you have ever been the "new comer" in a well established community, you have probably been in the same position. And in leading the children of Israel across the wilderness to the promised land, he was met perpetually with the spirit of complaint and rebellion. You who have raised children already know that that is the natural reaction of untrained human beings toward any attempt to lead or to compel into righteousness. And in the end, he died short of the promised land, toward which he had led others. Is that experience any different from ours? And, even as we for ourselves hope, he was seen later (St. Mk. 9: 24) in conversation with Elijah and with Christ our Lord.

When we look upon Jesus the Christ in the moment of transfiguration, we are stirred within and in two ways. For one thing, we are stirred to upward hopes, and wonder if we ourselves can ever be like that. The answer of course is, "Flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God" (1 Cor. 15: 50). But, thanks be to God, that is not the whole answer. The second answer which stirs us within, and which means everything to us, is "that which is born of the spirit is spirit" (St. John.

Scripture Readings: Exodus 34: 29-35 and 1st Peter 1: 16-19

Text: This is my beloved Son, hear him (St. Mark 9: 7)

There is one statement you can make about the Bible, and no one will try to argue with you. It is: The Bible is inspired. Ask a dozen people if they read the Bible or if they live by the Bible, and you will get a dozen different answers, including some few evasions. But when you ask "Is the Bible inspired, you get only one answer and that answer is yes. Why?

In the Bible itself, God gives the answer eternal in the above scripture passage from 1st Peter. And if you want your own answers also, they are easy to find. As you read in the Bible, you come to realize that these authors worked with God—the Bible is inspired because it inspires YOU to recognize who knows God. And as you read in the Bible, you come to realize that it results in correctly recorded so as to show the real cause, the answer always and true off the splash from leads to God, as author, companion, other cars traveling on wet duty on or punisher—YOU are inspired to understand eternal truth.

SPITTING IMAGE

Origin of the expression "spitting image" was in 17th century England and stems from the belief that one's saliva is the essence of one's being. A child from whom was the spit and image of someone else was considered exactly like him in every respect physically as well as spiritually.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices
Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension
Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels
Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable
Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line
A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.
