NELLE JUNE REID Writes Book Of Poems

Mrs. Reid Completes First Book Of Poems

By MRS. A. B. CHANDLER, SR.

ANDREWS — "A pause for Meditation," a book of poems by Nelle June Reid (Mrs. Henry G. Reid) of Andrews is just off the press and is being very warmly received by friends here.

Mrs. Reid, a petite brunette, is superintendent of nurses at South Western District Memorial Hospital in Andrews and is an active member of the First Baptist Church.

Although this is her first book of poem to be published, her poetry has appeared in a number of magazines and newspapers. She has been writing poetry since she was in the first grade in public school. She said "It is a hobby I enjoy doing."

Born in Asheville, she was educated at the Youngstown City Hospital School of Nursing in Youngstown, Ohio, and at Pittsburgh University in Pennsylvania. She was head nurse of the United States Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh for eighteen years.

Mrs. Reid spent many summer vacations in Andrews with relatives prior to moving here with her husband in 1957 when she joined the hospital staff as superintendent of nurses.

"Pause for Meditation," published by the Exposition Press of New York describes the content of the author's book on the inside jacket of the book as follows: "The all-pervading flavors in this collection of five dozen poems are goodness, good will, piety and faith."

Whether Nelle June Reid is writing openly religious poems, such as "Christ, Walks with Me," "September" and "The Rain" or such miscellanea as "No Talent" or "Housecleaning," most of her work is illuminated by a living awareness of God. And in such offerings as "Our Dog," "Little Boy" and "To a Nice Person" she shows herself to be a friendly, kindly person who brings something to life and to each little experience in it.

Pause for Meditation is rewarding, uplifting collection that leaves the reader the feeling of warmth in his heart — and which will call him back to its gapes again and again."

Copies of the book will be circulated in bookstores throughout the nation, her publishers have notified her. They will soon be available locally in Andrews. The author also has a number of copies.

Garden Club Members Hear Talk By Mrs. J. Christy

ANDREWS — "Our Own Backyards. Private Living Area" was the topic of a talk by Mrs. John H. Christy to members of the Valley River Garden Club at a meeting held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. A. Dewar.

In landscaping, one should first "plan on paper" according to Mrs. Christy. Consider how your private area garden will look during the winter months. She stated that the private area should be planned, for outdoor meals, and entertaining, consider the service area, which will be viewed by those passing so that the planting of shrubs will hide garbage pails, oil tanks, clothes lines, and the like.

The private area could be a garden with flowering shrubs and borders, ideally accessible to the service area, the speaker explained.

Mrs. Albert Brown, president, summarized the activities of the club for the new year. Routine reports were heard and programs were announced by Mrs. Paul Jordan.

The club voted to cooperate with the Asheville Garden Club's Conservation Department with Mrs. Thomas S. Shinn formerly of Andrews chairman in developing the Arboretum on the grounds of Asheville - Biltmore College.

Mrs. Joe El Khouri and Miss Nelle Van Gorder were guests. During the social hour the hostess served a salad course.
