Lemon Adds Flavor To Many Delightful Dishes

By Ruth Current

SEASON AND GARNISH WITH LEMON—Home economists tell us that lemons have many mealtime uses. Lemons can add flavor, color and vitamin value to many foods. They are a rich source of vitamin C.

Dash a little lemon juice in fruit juice appetizers.

Use lemon slices on tomato or clear soups, or as a garnish with all kinds of fish, steaks or chops. Lemon garnishes can be decorated with paprika, pimiento, chopped mint, or parsley.

Cut calories by using lemon butter to season cooked vegetables. Allow one tablespoon of lemon juice for each tablespoon of melted butter. Lemon butter is especially good served over cooked asparagus, broccoli, brussels sprouts, green beans, beets, carrots, celery, and leafy green vegetables.

Thin mayonnaise with lemon juice when making cole slaw or waldorf salad.

Serve a wedge of lemon with melons and avocado pears.

Lemon juice preserves color of cut, fresh fruit such as apples, bananas, pears, and peaches when you're preparing salads and fruit cups.

Use graded lemon peel for flavoring breads, pies, cakes, cookies, frostings, sauces, and desserts of all kinds. Wash the lemons and grate off only the outer colored peel; this is the part that contains the oils that give flavor.

Cakes-Then And Now:1860-1960

In a delightful old cookbook published in London 100 years ago, the directions seem very amusing to the modern housewife. Her predecessors were admonished to take care lest the cakes be heavy and fail. She was warned that "it is indispensable that all ingredients be heated before mixing... flour thoroughly dried and warmed, currants, sugar and anything else the same way, butter and eggs beaten in basins which are fitted into pans of warm water."

"Sugar should be rolled with a rolling pin. Butter... weighed... Firkin butter cut in small pieces and washed. For a quick cake, beat whites of ten eggs for one hour."

Now aren't you glad you live in the year 1960, in the days of cake mixes and quick frostings? For a truly historic recipe on a cake cake, try:

DANISH BLUE CHEESE FROSTING
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped and mixed with
1/2 cup Danish Blue Cheese
1/2 cup chopped California walnuts
Cool cake slightly, spread with topping, cut & serve at once. Dec. 1959.

Mrs. Hampton Hostess To Circle

Mrs. Marvin Hampton was hostess to the Ruth Bagwell Circle of the First Baptist Church at her home on Tuesday, March 8 at 7:30 p. m.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Wiley Kinney, Jr.

Mrs. James B. Hall, president of the circle presided over the business session.

Mrs. Walter Puett gave a program on "It's up to you," and Mrs. Ralph Rhodes closed the meeting with a special prayer for our revival to be held next week.

During the social hour the hostess served refreshments to the following: Mrs. Charles Bryant, Mrs. Verlon Jones, Mrs. Wallie Williams, Mrs. Kenneth Godfrey, Mrs. B. J. Fish, Mrs. James B. Hall, Mrs. Wiley Kinney, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Rhodes, Mrs. Gladys Hinton, Mrs. Walter Puett and one visitor, Mrs. Hubert Wilson.

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

By Rev. Joseph Dean

The Church and Elections

(1) Does the Catholic Church in the United States take part in politics? No. The Church as an institution does not. No bishop tells his parishioners how to vote. A priest is not permitted to tell his parishioners how to vote. He is not allowed to endorse or denounce candidates for public office from his pulpit. Like other Americans, Catholics enter the polling booths as free citizens, responsible only to their own consciences, and to Almighty God.

(2) Are there any cases in recent years when the Catholic Church advised people on voting in other countries? One well known case in modern times where the Catholic Church did advise people, how to cast their votes, exists in Italy. The Church considered it a Christian obligation to make such a recommendation in this instance. It was in 1948. The Communist party had gained control of much of the political machinery in Italy. The Communists had identified themselves as social benefactors against the post-war evils. The Church did come out and reveal the true nature of those "social benefactors" and advised Catholics not to vote for Communists, especially because they teach there is no God, and because they eventually make man the slave of the state. The people were still free to vote for 3 or 4 other groups who were no Communist, and they did, thereby electing a government that was anti-Communist and pro-American. This action is what is referred to by some people as "Vatican discipline over voters."

Every religious group has this same obligation to advise any uninformed members to the true nature of an election, when such major issues are at stake, as atheistic Communism, or racist Nazism, or secular Fascism. Pope Pius XII condemned Hitler's theory of supremacy of one race over another, and he broke with Mussolini over secular Fascism. The bishops in Latin America advised against dictators like Peron and Trujillo when basic human rights were being violated to an extreme degree. These major moral issues touch so closely upon the cultural and religious life of people that the Church must exercise some authority in warning her members of the exact points involved. Regarding the American scene: What would a Catholic president do if he were confronted by a law of congress that militates against his conscience? One instance would be a law legalizing abortion. May he, as a Catholic, sign that law? No, but he may leave it on his desk for ten days and then it becomes the law of the land by authority of Congress. The same conscience problem would be had by a Quaker in case of war, or a Baptist in case of legalizing whiskey sales, or a Methodist in legalizing gambling.

What is called "Vatican discipline over elected officers" can also be called "Methodist discipline" or "Quaker discipline" over members because religious consciences are involved in all these cases.

Separation of Church and state is a sacred principle among all religious groups in the United States. But it must not be carried to such an extreme that we shall have in America a separation of God and state. Paid Adv.
