Adir Aronson Named To Governing Board

It has been announced that Adir Aronson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Aronson of Murphy, was elected to the Board of Governors of the Alpha Epsilon Pi Alumni Club at a meeting held at the Standard Town and Country Club in Atlanta on March 4.

This group is responsible for activities of AEPI alumni and undergraduates in the southeastern United States.

Mr. Aronson, at the age of twenty-one, is the youngest alumnus ever to be elected to this select ten man body. In his undergraduate days he was a member of Zeta chapter at Georgia Tech.

He is currently an Assistant Buyer at Davison-Paxon Co., and plans to enter the Graduate Division of the School of Business Administration of Georgia State College in the summer.

Mr. Aronson is also a member of Ahavath Achim Synagogue, Progressive Club, Society for the Advancement of Management, Georgia Tech National Alumni Association, Retail Merchant's Association, Atlanta Jewish Community Center, and is a life member of Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity.

Mrs. Aronson, the former Hanna Zimmerman of Atlanta, was a member of Delta Phi Epsilon Sorority at the University of Florida. She is also active in civic and religious groups in Atlanta.

General theme of the meditations by Robert A. Potter, minister, is "Promises of Jesus in the Upper Room." Special music is to be given at each service, with the Young Harris College Choir singing Tuesday night.

After the service of the Lord's Supper Thursday evening, the Session of the Church will meet to receive members. Service of Baptism will be held at Easter morning worship at 11 o'clock.

Sermon subjects and music for the Holy Week services are:

Palm Sunday morning, April 10 "Hosanna," Church choir; Sunday evening — "The Promise of His Peace," Mrs. R. M. White, soloist.

Monday — "The Promise of His Truth," Murphy Grade School chorus, Mrs. J. W. Davidson directing.

Tuesday — "The Promise of His Power," Young Harris College Chorus, William Fox conducting.

Best Essays Chosen At Murphy High School

National Library Week is being observed at Murphy High School this week.

The Library Club made two bulletin boards and other organizations arranged window displays in local stores. The English department conducted an essay contest.

The following essays were selected to be the best of approximately 60 which were submitted:

WHAT OUR LIBRARY MEANS TO ME

by JERRY CHAMBERS

Here at Murphy High we have a fair library, but it could be vastly improved. Often one cannot find a book he wishes to read because the selection is too small. On the other hand, a small library can be immensely helpful if one knows how to use it or will take the trouble to try.

Our library is of great help in writing term papers, biographical reports, and similar assignments. It has up-to-date materials and encyclopedias for this purpose. The library staff is very cooperative and assists the students very much in this way.

The library also contains current magazines which are both interesting and informative, and they provide many hours of pleasure for the students. There is a fairly good selection of fiction - type books for light reading, and there is also a good selection of non-fiction books for more serious reading. We are required to make eight books reports per year and we can usually find a book to report on here in our school library.

Although it is not the best, our library is helpful to us and we should be appreciative of it. Many schools have no library whatsoever and the students are inconvenienced a great deal.

We should make full use of the facilities we do have and continually strive to make them better.

WHAT OUR LIBRARY MEANS TO ME

by WALTER OWENSBY

First of all, our library means a collection of writings that I do not have at home. There I can take advantage of publications I could not otherwise have.

Our library has a variety of magazines and newspapers which I may use. The reference books, magazines, encyclopedias, and unabridged dictionaries are sources I use most when preparing a reference paper.

The atmosphere of a library seems to help me study. I think of the library as a place to study and a place where I shall not be interrupted. There people respect my working.

Probably the thing I use the library most for is a source of books for my own enjoyment, and for book reports. I can depend on our library for access to the better fiction and biographies.

WHAT OUR LIBRARY MEANS TO ME

by WANDA TIMPSON

Libraries make up one of the most important parts of the basis of our democracy. Within their walls is found the key to knowledge of all aspects of life. With this knowledge we can govern ourselves, free from the worry, that we might be cheated of our rights as citizens of a free country.

Libraries go side by side with our education. They unfold many facts that can not be put in a textbook. They help to extend a child's knowledge of his subjects.

There always exist those book reports to be written. In this case, no one likes libraries.

Relaxing with a good book, a reader can soar to immeasurable heights. He may be surrounded by pre-historic animals in his own living room. He can feel the excitement of Killing a shark or righting an octopus while sitting under a shady tree. He may watch sympathetically as the hero of some war novel fights his way through a line of fire. He may shed tears when some innocent child is returned to its parents after having been kidnapped by some obnoxious gangster. Still, he finds it relaxing.

Not all books are about century-old subjects. Most of them are modern. They tell about other countries. They make us realize why they live and believe the way they do. This brings about better human relations over the whole world.

Libraries show us the way our ancestors lived. Their thoughts, their ideas, their desires, and their problems are alive once again. We live with them as they cross the barren desert, climb over the snow-covered Rockies, build their mud-chinked houses, and provide for their half-starved families. We rejoice with them when they conquer the wild frontier.

The most important thing that libraries do for us is give us a chance to express our ideas, our defeats, and our victories. No longer does the good of man - kind have to die with the death of its generation. It can be immortalized for as long as man can read and will use his ability to do so.

This all means more to me than I could possibly realize now. It means better living today and greater hope for the future.

Basketball Team Visits Rotary

The regular meeting of the Murphy Rotary Club was held Monday night at Family Restaurant. Members of Boys Basketball Team with their Coach Gordon Isley and High School Principle Walter Puett were special guests. Rev. Al Smith gave a talk relating to Sportsmanship and the records of the Murphy team this year. Plans were made by the Club to make money for the Crippled Children Drive during the Easter Season.

AREA CLUBS OBSERVE LIBRARY WEEK WITH WINDOW DISPLAYS

A number of activities have been in progress this week in connection with the observation of National Library Week.

Clubs and organizations in the area were contacted and invited to participate in a window display competition. Each display was required to have something to do with books. The entries were divided into two groups: Group 1 was limited to young people and group 2 was limited to adults.

The winners of Group 1 are: First place, the Girl Scout whose display illustrated a map of the world showing costumes of the country. The display is in Collins Crain Dept. Store window.

Art Contest Big Success

Art contest winners of the contest sponsored by the Cherokee County Branch of the American Association of University Women are: Group I, grades 1, 2, and 3. First place, Wallace Panther, second grade Murphy School. "Signs of Spring"; second place, Elaine Heaton, third grade Andrews School, "The Baby Chipmunk"; third place, Angela Curtis, first grade Peachtree School, "Epaminondas."

Group II, grades 4, 5, and 6. First place, Helen Ann Harper, fifth grade Andrews School, "Wreck of the Hesperus"; second place, Glenn Alexander, fifth grade Murphy, "Little House in the Woods"; and third place, Libby Abernathy, fifth grade White Church School, "Enchanted Isles."

Group III, grades 7 and 8. First place, Philip Brauer, seventh grade Andrews, "My Mountains, My People"; second place, Rosetta Taylor, seventh grade, Peachtree School, "Uncle Remus"; and third place, Carole Moore, eighth grade Andrews, "The Elk."

The A.A.U.W. considers their county wide art contest a great success. Two hundred and nineteen pictures were judged for the event. Ten out of twelve schools were represented. The judges were Mrs. Margaret Akin Bare of Murphy, who has a Master of Arts Degree from Western Carolina College; Mr. Paul R. Zimmer of Andrews, who studied in Stuttgart, Germany and of the world famous Beaux-Arts in Paris, France; Mrs. Breece Breland of Murphy, an art major at Furman University and also was a student at the University of North Carolina.

Mrs. Emily Davidson of the Murphy-Elementary Library said that book circulation had more than doubled in preparation for the contest. The usual turnover of 600 increased to more than 1,30
