June Is Dairy Month
Only one month out of each year is designated as dairy month when we emphasize on every turn "we never outgrow our need for milk."
To Home Demonstration Club members the 4-H girls are given an opportunity to present the scientific facts that one quart of milk daily provides our daily requirement for calcium and also serves as a valuable source of high quality, easily digested protein and riboflavin, and other vitamins and minerals essential for vigorous health. Milk is such a versatile food that in addition to serving as a beverage it is the main ingredient in cream soups and sauces, custards and frozen desserts; or it may be converted into cheese and used in many interesting combinations.

To become lax or indifferent about including each day's milk requirement in meal planning is much too serious to be shrugged off. It may mean extra preparation to camouflage milk for the person who does not like it but the difference it makes in that individual's health makes it worthwhile and necessary.

If for one month we resolve to include enough milk each day to meet our requirements it's entirely possible this could become an accepted practice. Let's try it, shall we?
Testing Pressure Canner Gauges
For several years the Davis Esso Service center has offered a free service to owners of pressure canners.

All you have to do is to take your pressure canner to them and they test the gauge against a master gauge.

"There is no more urgent need in North Carolina than the improvement of public education."

Terry Sanford

SET THE RECORD STRAIGHT

"This is a crucial moment for North Carolina because this campaign can be the worst and bitterest in our state's history, if all of us do not conduct ourselves with restraint and dignity.

"I was shocked by the opening tone of Professor Lake's call for a second primary. Because he suggested I was in favor of mixing the races in the schools, and because this is an absolute falsehood, I must take this opportunity to set the record straight. I was shocked to find that instead of running against me, Professor Lake tried to set up a straw man to run against.

Lake Appealing to Prejudice

"He is injecting a false issue on integration. It is false because I am opposed and he knows I am opposed to integration. The difference is that I know how to handle it, and he doesn't.

"Professor Lake yells about mixing of the races, about NAACP domination, and is appealing to blind prejudice for the pure and simple purpose of getting himself a few votes.

"His straw man is someone who stands for destroying our present separate school set-up. That person is not me because I would no more be directed by the NAACP than I would blow up the State Capitol.

"This is what makes it a false issue. Of course, this is a serious important matter deserving our proper consideration, and it has been getting my proper thought for at least ten years.

"But Professor Lake's hammering on this appeal to blind prejudice has brought North Carolina to its most dangerous moment in this century.

"His talk is not going to stop anything, but his reckless words could start something we can't stop.

"Every time he opens his mouth he is building evidence which is going to be introduced in the Supreme Court if he is elected governor, to show bad faith on the part of North Carolina. He is inviting the Supreme Court to step into North Carolina.

Lake Would Bring on Closed Schools

"This would be the end of the North Carolina Plan, a plan which has worked well, a plan now being followed by other Southern States, which has kept our schools open, which has allowed us to operate in the tradition of our great state, a plan which gives you, in your county, the final decision, a plan which has so well protected North Carolina, and I might add, especially Eastern North Carolina. Professor Lake's statements, if he were elected Governor, would result in the Supreme Court throwing out the North Carolina plan as unconstitutional. That is the kind of climate he is creating.

"This would lead to bloodshed, and integrated or closed schools. The people of North Carolina do not want integration, and we cannot afford to close our schools, but this is where the Professor would lead us.

Professor Wanted Private Schools

"When the Professor first raised this false issue, he proposed closing the public schools and setting up private academies. Most of us do not have the money to send our children to high priced academies. Maybe the Professor thinks we are wealthy enough to do so... but most of us are not.

Lake Has No Plan

"Now, he says he would not change the North Carolina law. Then pray tell what really would he do except talk and reckless talk will lead to the change of the North Carolina law — complete change — and we will be left with no protection. The truth of the matter is that Professor Lake has absolutely no program to substitute for what we now have.

Lake Leads to Integration

"If Professor Lake keeps up his present approach he is inadvertently leading North Carolina directly down the road to complete integration, to federal troops, to closed schools. We do not want that — we cannot have it. I know how the people of North Carolina feel about segregation. I did not grow up in an ivory tower of a college campus as the professor did. I was raised around the cotton patches and tobacco fields of Scotland County, and I know how to handle the situation better than a theoretical college professor.

"I stand with 90% of all North Carolinians who want to follow the sensible North Carolina plan of keeping our schools open and improving them. It is our only hope. Anything else will bring on integration and closed schools.

"Now that the record is straight, I call on Professor Lake, for the good of North Carolina, for the good of the Democratic Party, for the good of our children, for the good of every person in North Carolina to come now and debate the true issues of this campaign of how we can build a greater future for our State.

Let's Build A Better State

"Let's talk about better schools... not closed schools.

"Let's talk about how we can improve industry development in North Carolina—not how we can score it off by racial strife.

"Let's talk about the way we can re-organize the highway commission, and get more roads built.

"Let's talk about how we can use the Governor's office to lift the income of farmers.

"Let's talk about how we can build for a New Day in North Carolina—that is, Professor Lake, if you have such a program."
