"...the most vital issue..."

WILLIAM T. JOYNER SPEAKS OUT FOR SANFORD

In the first primary I did not plead the cause of any candidate. I gave some counsel to John Larkins.

In the second primary I expect to support and vote for Terry Sanford. These are my reasons.

For the past six years, two special committees, four attorneys general, and practically all of the State's legislators and administrative leaders have prepared and have worked for a North Carolina plan which would enable our public schools to stay open and to receive public support. The plan has worked. Not a school has been closed. Not a court order has directed a change of pupil assignment. Not a single dangerous emergency is now faced—except the Primary of June 25th.

I have lived in an atmosphere of devotion to public schools for more than half a century. I have studied the North Carolina special school problem for hundreds of hours since May 1954. I have worked for and lived with the North Carolina Plan. I have studied the speeches, and the acts of the two candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

1. That the continued operation of our public schools and the welfare of our State will be served best by the continuation of the North Carolina Plan under a Governor favorable to that Plan.

2. That interference with the operation of the Plan by act or by speech at the State level would dangerously incite the Federal Courts to move to take charge of pupil assignments over all of the State.

3. That Mr. Sanford will cooperate fully in the continued operation of the North Carolina Plan which works at the local level.

4. That Dr. Lake is not favorable to the whole North Carolina Plan and will seek to change its framework or to shape its operation, and that this will bring disaster.

I hold these carefully considered and strong opinions:

5. That the school issue facing the Democratic voters on June 25th is the most dangerous, the most vital issue which has ever arisen in a Democratic gubernatorial Primary in North Carolina.

6. That the nomination of Terry Sanford will best assure the continuance of the peaceful operation of all of our public schools.

THOSE ARE THE REASONS WHY I SHALL VOTE FOR TERRY SANFORD.
—WILLIAM T. JOYNER

Colonel Joyner is one of North Carolina's leading attorneys and was keynote speaker at the last State Democratic Convention. Son of J. V. Joyner, pioneer educational leader, Col. Joyner was a member of Governor Umstead's school study commission which helped originate the North Carolina plan for keeping our schools open—a plan which has withstood every court test.
