

West-Hoffman Married At Afternoon Ceremony

Miss Wanda Rachel West and Martin Hoffman Jr. were united in marriage Saturday, June 18, in an afternoon ceremony in St. Williams' Catholic Chapel at Murphy, by the Rev. Carl Boehler. Music for the ceremony was by Miss Kenna West.

The bride is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Wayne Grade West of Warne. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hoffman Sr. of Cleveland, Ohio.

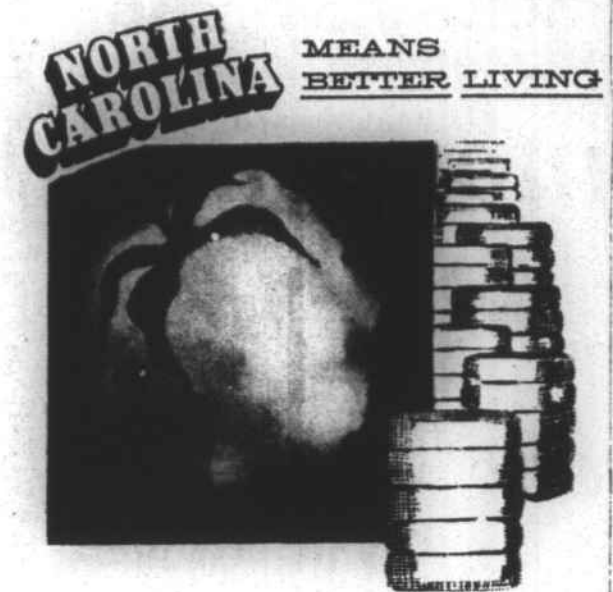

Col. West gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor-length dress of satin and lace. She carried a white Bible covered with white carnations. Her veil of illusion fell from a satin half clip, covered with a lace bow. Miss Ramona West, sister of the bride was maid of honor wearing a yellow satin dress and carrying blue carnations. Mrs. Ronald West of Atlanta, Ga., was matron of honor wearing a pink satin dress and carrying blue carnations. Miss Martha Ellis of Ellijay, Ga., and Miss Marlene Hoffman of Cleveland, were bridesmaids in blue satin dresses. They carried pink carnations. For head dress they wore satin clips, covered with satin bows. Ronald West, brother of the bride, was the best man. The ushers were Edward Barnard, Noel Barnard, and Keith Barnard, all of Warne. Mrs. West, mother of the bride, chose dusty blue lace with navy accessories. Mrs. Hoffman, mother of bridegroom, wore blue crepe with matching accessories. Both wore pink carnations.

A reception at the bride's home followed, with Miss Mariena Barnard, Miss Marilyn West, and Miss Vivian Barnard assisting. The cake was cut by a saber used by Col. West while serving in the U. S. Cavalry.

The couple will live at Fort Eustis, Va. Mrs. Hoffman received her B.A. degree from North Georgia College in June. Mr. Hoffman is a graduate of John Carroll University.

Cotton—the South's symbol of better living for many generations—continues to play a major role in North Carolina's economy. Ranking third in total crop value, our cotton is produced mainly on small, family-owned farms of 15 acres or less. Yet its importance to our economic well-being may be measured by the fact that more North Carolinians directly or indirectly depend on cotton for their living than on any other product!

Other evidence of the better living concept to be found in North Carolina is the enlightened approach to the "legal control" system for the sale of beer and ale that has long since proven its merits in the best interests of temperance and moderation.
