your cost is low...with low-cost electricity!

How low is your cost for electricity? Use the information below to find the operating cost for the work-saving electric appliances on your "want-list." The first table tells approximately how much electricity an appliance will use in one month.

Electric Appliance	Kwh Used
Room Air Conditioner..... (for 5 months).....	300 kwh a month
Clothes Dryer..... (5 loads per week).....	80 kwh a month
Dishwasher with heating unit.....	45 kwh a month

Water Heater..... (for family of four).....	350 kwh a month
Water Pump..... deep well.....	20 kwh a month
..... shallow well.....	10 kwh a month
..... for farm use.....	.25 to 50 kwh a month

Here's how to figure your cost:

1. The number of kilowatt-hours that the appliance will use.
2. How much electricity costs.
3. The number of kilowatt-hours that you now use in one month.

From the table above, you found the number of kilowatt-hours that an appliance will use in one month. The chart on the right shows how much you pay for electricity. You can get the number of kilowatt-hours that you now use from an old bill. (This can also be estimated from the chart on the right.)

How to use this information...

Let's say you now use around 150 kwh a month. Your bill runs around $3.00 a month. And you'd like to know how much it will cost to operate an electric range.

From the figures at the top of the page, you see that an electric range uses about 150 kwh a month. Add this to the number of kwh you now use. The new total is 300 kwh. From the chart on the right, you find that you'd pay $4.63 for 300 kwh. That means your bill would go up $1.63 a month—less than 6¢ a day—when you add an electric range. (If you now use more than 150 kwh a month, it would be even less!)

Notice that although the amount of electricity used exactly doubled, the size of the bill went up only $1.63—from $3.00 to $4.63. That's the nice thing about our "stair-step" rates... as your use goes up... your average cost goes down!
