Andrews Square Dance Unit Performed Before 2,200

ANDREWS—The Andrews Elementary School Square Dance Team performed before an audience of some 2,200 on Saturday night, Aug. 6, in the Asheville City Auditorium. The occasion marked the final night of the 33rd annual Mountain Folk Music and Dance Festival.

Bascom Lamarr Lunsford, originator and director of the festival, invited the team to appear on the program. After appearing in the City Auditorium, the group was invited to go to the George Vanderbilt Hotel to dance for members of the Gem and Mineral Association, whose exhibits were on display in the auditorium.

The Andrews team entertained the "Rockhounds" in one of the hotel's dining rooms and then each child invited an adult to participate in the final square dance of the evening.

A number of parents and friends accompanied the group to Asheville.

The team is directed by Mrs. Lenna H. Ford, a teacher at the Andrews Elementary School. It consists of students who will be in third and fourth grades during the coming year.

Members of the dance team are Chuckie Frazier, caller, and Elaine Heaton; Jackie Ledford and Sandra Brackett; George El-Khoury and Carolyn Cochran; Mike Huls and Debbie Crawford; Joe Wheeler and Elizabeth Brooks; Mitchell Shields and Florence Gail Ferebee; Lynn Watson and Breeze Thompson; and Teddy Nichols and Willa Mae Guffee.

This group recently participated in a talent show at Fontana Village and has been invited to return to Fontana for a program in September.
