Newly Formed Journalism Class, Publishes First Printed Paper

In the fourth week of a new school term, the newly formed Journalism Class of Murphy High School has published the first printed copy of the school newspaper, "Boomerang." Students, teachers, and parents have all acclaimed this accomplishment. Only 400 copies of the paper were printed and reports are that the paper was a complete sell out.

The Journalism Class with Faculty Sponsor, Miss Maria Travis, are to be congratulated for their very fine first paper.

Financially the paper is self-sustaining. The Quarterback Club of Murphy is permitting the Class to sell programs at the football games to raise funds for the school paper. The programs will be sold at every home game this season. They cost a dime. At the Sylva game, the class sold 350 copies for a total of $36.14. Remember, if you buy a program from a member of the Journalism Class at every home game, you are supporting the school paper.

Other funds for the paper are raised through the sale of the paper.

The Journalism Class is composed of sixteen seniors. Miss Maria Travis is the teacher. The class will learn about newspaper work and how to put out the school newspaper and the school annual.

The "Boomerang" has been the voice of Murphy High School for the past eleven years, but this is the first time that it has been published as a printed newspaper.

The issue this past week was a four page five column tabloid size paper. The paper was printed in good newspaper form. Several pictures were used on the front page.

An outstanding feature of the paper was the current play-by-play description of the Murphy Hi-West Fannin football game on Thursday night, Sept. 15. Also the paper carried editorial comments.

CHRISTIAN KINDNESS

Kindness is one of the most simple of Christian virtues, and yet it is so often overlooked. One of the justifiable criticisms of Christianity is that so many of its adherents see no connection between kindness and the Christian gospel. And yet if the life of Christ is to serve as our guide, Christians are called upon to be more considerate, to show more kindness than any other people.

The practice of Christian kindness helps us to become the kind of people God intends for us to be. The true nature of every human being is to be kind. There is nothing that makes us feel better than the satisfaction of some simple act of kindness. When we become grumpy, grouchy, ill-tempered and hateful, we are going against what God intended for us to be.

The president of one of the national humanitarian organizations tells of a winter evening when he spoke in an Eastern city. After the meeting he decided to stop at a restaurant for a cup of coffee. As he was about to enter, he noticed a small boy on his knees in the snow. The boy was crying. The boy said that his mother had given him some money to buy groceries, and he had lost the money. The man suggested that he go home, and explain what had happened. "My father will beat me," cried the boy.

This man took the boy to the restaurant and fed him, then went with him to buy some food. When he paid for it, he gave the little boy the change. The boy was so overcome, he threw his arms around the man's waist and cried, "I wish you were my father." This man said that the act of kindness brought such satisfaction that he spent the next half hour looking for someone else he could help.

Christian kindness is the most effective means ever discovered to deal with people. It helps us get beyond all sham and pretense and realize that all men are brothers under the skin. There is an old fable to the effect that the sun and the wind were having a debate as to which could make a man take off his cloak. First the wind tried, it stormed and raged and blew. But the man only wrapped his mantle closer about him. Then when the wind had given it up, the sun began to shine kindly and warmly upon the man until warmed by its rays, he took off his coat.

There is something about human nature that is like that. You can criticize and mistreat a person, but you can never quite get through to them until they catch a glimpse of kindness and understanding. The Biblical example of Zacchaeus is an example. Zacchaeus was a tax-collector much hated and despised because he took money from widows and those who could not afford to pay. No doubt he had been criticized and chastised many times. But he remained the same. When

WHO IS HE... We do not know whether you have noticed it in your own community, but reports we get from various parts of the State are that there isn't as much anti-Sanford and anti-Kennedy talk as there was a month ago. The Hama's have subsided; and there is not the talk of write-ins of yore.

To our knowledge, no Democratic Presidential hopeful has made in the 150-year history of the party as much effort to swing the Old North State his way as Candidate Kennedy will make in one day in September.

Kennedy's physique can stand it if his voice can. If you think the Republicans are worried about Nixon's knee, you are right. But Kennedy's vocal cords are causing sleepless hours deep in the heart of the Democratic organization.

On the Senate floor in mid-August, his talk was slowed down to a whisper. While Candidate Kennedy expresses himself in Harvard accents reminiscent at times of FDR, he has not enough experience apparently in speaking in public to let his mouth do the talking instead of his throat.

Two statements, and two men, are largely responsible for the subsidizing of GOP strength and the new feeling of energy on the part of the Democrats:

1. Dr. I. Beverly Lake's statement that he would have no part whatever in a write-in campaign. 2. The statement announcing that Dr. Henry Jordan would lead the fight on the Republicans in November.

Nevertheless, the September issue of Tarheel Banker says that "A veteran newspaperman in Raleigh, incidentally a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat, already is forecasting that Nixon will carry the state. Further, he says, Nominee Sanford is in trouble, but he adds, not enough trouble--yet--to threaten his election." Well, with all due respect to the Banker and to that veteran newspaperman--we've no idea who he is--we do not believe that Sanford is in half as much trouble as he was a month ago...and Kennedy is gaining ground daily in North Carolina.

IN THAT ORDER... On September 11, the Greensboro Daily News--whose slogan carried daily on the front page is "North Carolina's Finest Newspaper"--predicts that the Atlantic Coast Conference race shapes up like this: 1. Wake Forest 2. Clemson, 3. Maryland, 4. Carolina, 5. State, 6. Duke, 7. South Carolina, 8. Virginia.

this Galilean came by and showed him simple kindness, he came down from the tree, entertained him, and found salvation.

True Christian kindness helps us to better understand the nature and purpose of God. If Jesus came to show us what God is like, as we believe, then certainly the life of Christ indicates that God is a kind and compassionate God.

Dr. Henry Drummond was one of the great ministers of by-gone years. Looking back over a life-time of very distinguished service, he said that the things which stood out as of abiding worth and value were the four or five times he had reflected the kindness of God.

As we read the New Testament we cannot miss the fact that one of the things that made people turn to Christ so readily was that in him they found kindness and understanding like they had never experienced before. Let us realize as Christians today that we are required to be more understanding, more kind, to go the second mile of the way.

Murphy High Cheerleaders Full Of Spirit

Nine energetic girls lead the cheers that stir the crowd and inspire the Murphy Bulldogs to greater efforts on the gridiron. Elected by secret ballot by their classmates, the cheerleaders at Murphy High this season are as follows: Laura Ruth Jones, Gaye Hatchett, and Lynn Whitley from the senior class. Virginia Wells and Elizabeth Gibbs, juniors; Jean Postell and Doris Harper, sophomores; and Rosemary Bates and Sally Bates, freshmen.

Cheerleader Elizabeth Gibbs reports that West Fannin showed real sportsmanship at the game last Friday. They supplied the Murphy Cheerleaders with free cokes during the half-time, Jolly good show, don't you think?

An alternate was chosen from each class to perform in the absence of a regular member. They are Lorraine Martin, Barbara Queen, Ruth Crisp, Maxine O'Dell, and Judy Sanders.

Laura Ruth Jones and Gaye Hatchett were elected captain and co-captain respectively.

Raleigh Roundup

We can't see it that way.

Can you?

CURE FOR HAY FEVER? This is the time of year when ragweed pollen floats through the air with the greatest of ease and brings misery to us who are allergic to this dust. The sneeze takes over.

Now those who are not allergic have no idea whatever as to the misery and suffering experienced by those who are.

During the past 20 years or more I have personally tried every method, machine, and so-called cures--including taking shots, wearing filters in my nose, using sprays, special diets, and staying under oxygen tents-- all to no avail. I have literally homes of drugs and various other paraphernalia stored in the attic representing one man's efforts to gain relief.

Last fall, I finally constructed a plastic tent--mind you--over my bed, installed one of the new electronic air filters and resigned myself to staying in bed until the first frost, which brings relief to all of us sufferers.

Along comes my friend, young Dr. Sidney Martin--the son of my neighbor, Le Roy Martin, and suggests a combination prescription of cortisone and riminton.

Now frankly I had no faith in finding relief through drugs. How could I--since I had tried most of the various and histamine preparations supposed to have given relief to almost 90 per cent of the cases--but which had no effect on me other than to make me sleepy.

But, more to humor my friend, Dr. Martin, than anything else really, I took one more trip to the drugstore and started on what must have been at least Experiment No. 75 or No. 80.

Much to my surprise--and greatly to my pleasure--I experienced almost immediate relief and enjoyed the rest of the fall. I'm on the cure again now and--so far, so good...ah, ah, cherr-chool

MR. GROCER...Coming back to the Legislature next time, if Mecklenburg stays in the Democratic column, will be one of the most sincere friends food merchants of North Carolina ever had: James B. Vogler of Charlotte, veteran head of the N. C. Food Dealers Association...a super market.

Jim, with his big cigar and hearty laugh, will be one of the oldest men in point of service in the 1961 General Assembly. He tried for State Treasurer several years ago, has run for the State Senate on two occasions, but failed in these attempts. Nevertheless, Mecklenburg Democrats have sent him to the House for the 1936 special session, in 1937, 1938 special session, 1939, 1941, 1945, 1947, 1951, 1955, 1956 special session, 1957--and so this will be Hon. Jim's twelfth trip to Raleigh as a legislator. You don't do much better than that in North Carolina at the tender age of 65. A real Democrat, a solid citizen, is Jim Vogler.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

Little Man... Big Problem

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Proverbs	22	6
Monday	Psalm	103	15
Tuesday	Psalm	121	5-8
Wednesday	1 Samuel	2	18-20
Thursday	1 Samuel	3	2-9
Friday	1 Samuel	16	6-13
Saturday	1 Samuel	17	41-49

Buddy was going to the circus today, but he woke up with the sniffles this morning and the whole thing had to be called off!

While grown-ups learn to shrug off disappointments like that, it isn't easy for a child. Buddy's mother will soon come to the rescue with a special taffy pull or a favorite story-reading session, and that will help cushion the blow.

But there will be times when Buddy will have to stand up to far greater tests than this, and when he will have to take far greater disappointments in stride. That's one of the reasons his mother has started taking him to Church and Church School. It isn't that the Church serves as a cushion in times of stress...rather, it stands as a pillar of strength, lending support to all who come within it.
